The first thing everyone notices while walking through Encinal High School is the diversity of the student population. In this almost unique environment, racial borders crumble and a new foundation is established. This unfortunately rare foundation forms a classic atmosphere where education and inspiration become the key issue; the way that learning was destined to be.

Steve Pacheco wanders around the halls while wearing a shirt of his favorite musical group. Steve was one of the many students who participated in spirit week festivities.

Jovy Burgos instructs students to go to the proper line during a school photo session. ID cards were required for school events. The Leadership class and Jostens supervised the photography.

Geoff Milam, Monica Termini, and other seniors gather at the front of the school to have lunch. They sit and watch a game of "Musical Chairs," that was played on spirit day.

John Crum and Alicia Lengel walk to their class. Among the many school activities they participate in, band and sports capture most of their attention.

Ping Wong and Dai Khong unload their school supplies from their car. Ping has been a member of the badminton team since his sophomore year.

A group of students hurry to their next class. The once-again changed bell schedule doesn't seem to have had a profound effect on their attendance.

Toni LeTran and Alex Le gather around the trunk of a car to find their homework. Toni was a new student who transferred from Oakland.

Terra Powers steps out of her Toyota Corolla station wagon. Terra won a national essay contest earlier this year.

Students walk around a fence to get through the parking lot. The student parking lot was changed to the teacher parking lot much to the displeasure of students.

Students who try to get into Encinal now have time to do last night's homework while walking around the construction fencing.

School Hours

Everyday events that Encinal High Students do around the day.

Isaac Irvine works diligently on his drafting project. Isaac has participated in sports such as wrestling and diving.

David Silva and Nathan Walker march proudly across the track during the Big Game. The Jet marching band has won many awards in their long and lustrous existence.

Karmen Fields, Acacia Tally, Stephanie Stelter, Shannon Babb and Becca Eichan cheer on "The House Jacks" during an assembly.

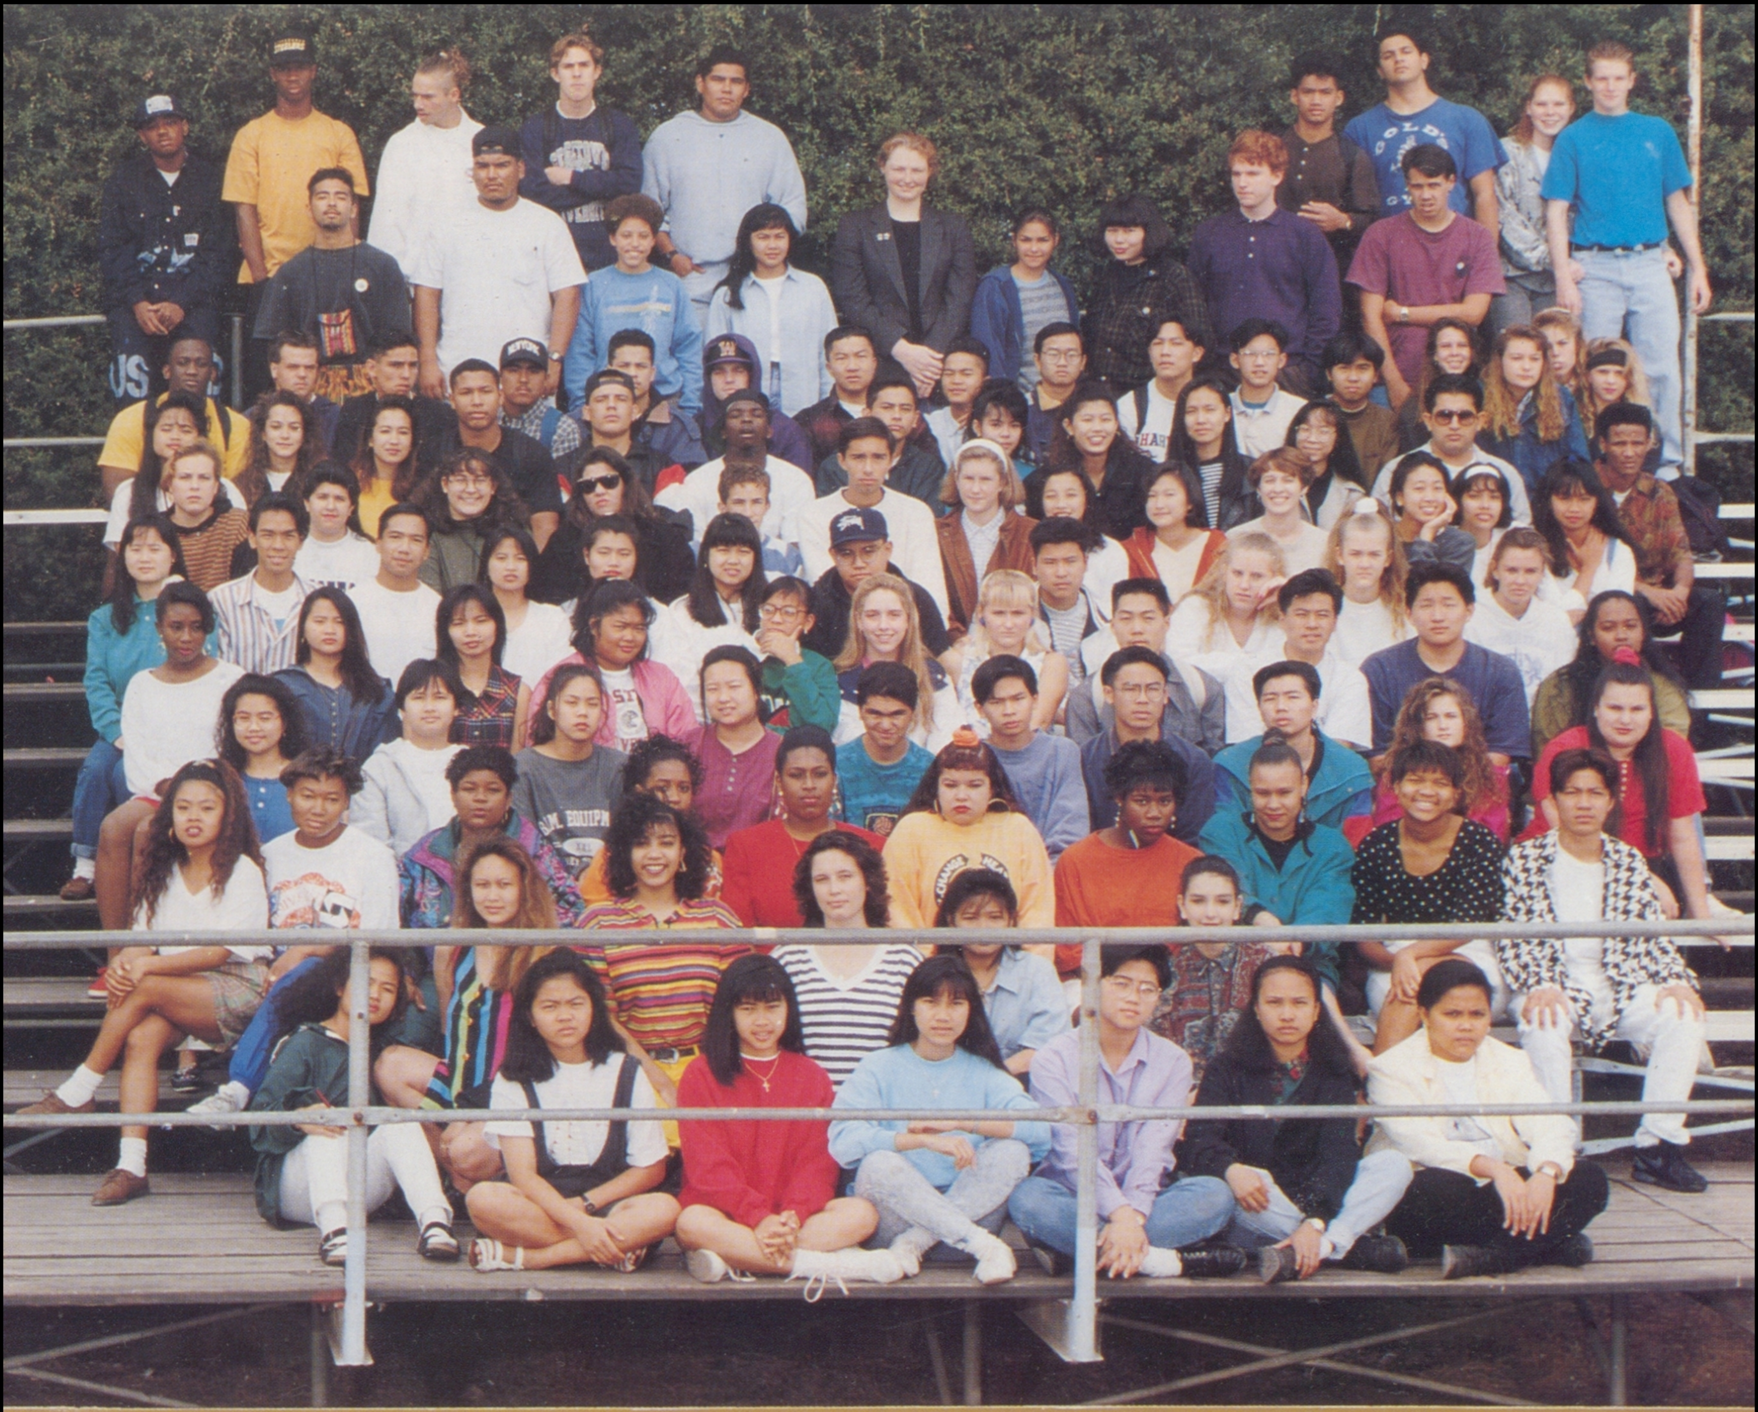
Julie Chan shows off her excitement at the Big Game when the Jets score. Julie is very active in Senior Class events and Key Club.

Becky Duarte tries to open her locker while Stephanie Stelter walks to her class. Stephanie was a varsity cheerleader for football.

David Fong helps Wyheda Johnson to aim an air rifle during JROTC. David has been in JROTC since his freshman year.

Becca Eichan and Karmen Fields show off their school spirit by wearing blue at the Big Game. Karmen made headlines last year by joining the wrestling team.

SENIOR 19



CLASS 93

LIVING IT UP, EACH & EVERYDAY

Seniors pull together to show 'em what they're made of

Throughout the school year the senior class worked diligently to earn as much money as they could to pay for the many senior activities like the prom and senior banquet. In order to raise money they held weekly class meetings, fund-raisers, and participated in school activities which paid cash awards. This year was the last time seniors came together, trying their hardest to make it a senior year that no class before or after could top.

Every Tuesday the seniors held their weekly meeting in Mr. Medeiros's room, who was the senior class advisor along with Mr. Abromitis. A great number of seniors always attended these meetings, showing the amount of class spirit the seniors had. During the meetings the class officers would discuss up coming events, gather volunteers, and listen to any outside ideas on how to make money. The seniors meetings were kept highly organized. There were several reasons for this; one being that information would not be misinterpreted, each activity that the seinors were involved in would be properly prepared for, and it kept the meetings efficient. The Senior Rigatoni Feed, which was held on Back to School Night September 30, was the seniors' biggest fund-raiser of the year. With the help of the local community donating all of the food, the senior class managed to make over $600 that night. The Sadie Hawkins Dance, which was held in the gym, took place in March. The seniors provided a live D.J., lots of refreshments for the dance crowd and a photographer that came to capture the essence of the moment at the dance. Many students from all grades attended the dance and all enjoyed it to the fullest. Along with the other fund-raisers, the senior class also had food sales every other Friday. The seniors sold a variety of edibles such as chow mien, lumpia, fried rice, baked goods and candy during these lunch time sales.

Homecoming was a very important event to the senior class. It would prove once again who rules this school (the seniors). During and before Homecoming the seniors worked long and hard on the decorations and props for their Senior Paradise. With many talented artists such as Kim Brown, Chris Edmundson and the rest of the seniors who helped out for the Homecoming skit and hall, the seniors took first place and a cash award of $400 with their Senior Paradise. They changed the main hallway into a deserted island, waterfall and all. Their skit was filled with such creativeness that ranged from dancing island natives to a woman named Buffie.

Not all of the senior year was just fun and games however. Much of the time spent by seniors was in class studying, taking the SATs , filling out U.C. applications and meeting graduation requirements. This year's senior class not only had a lot of fun but also a lot of preparation for their future beyond high school.

All in all the seniors raised enough money to hold a beautiful Prom and Senior Banquet at the end of the year. The seniors gave it all they had and all the work paid off. Congratulations and good luck to all you seniors. Class of 1993.

Ian Dewey has all his tools laid out in front of him and pencil in hand ready to start drawing as soon as Mr. Ford gives the day's assignment for drafting class.

What have you learned from your years at Encinal High School?

"If I have learned anything from this school, it would have to be how to work with other people of different race and culture. Making new friends, and hanging on to those friends I already have by keeping them close to me."
-- Johnny Yee --

Senioritis is a disease which affects all 12th graders at some point in time. We asked some seniors what they thought senioritis was.

"What's senioritis? I come to school everyday. Excuse me? What do I have first period?"
-- Aliaya Parker-Wright --

"Senioritis is when the upper classmen sleep in, have senior cut day, and just slack off. We're seniors! Come on!"
-- Victoria Tuchsen --

"Craziness every senior faces at the beginning, middle, and end of their senior year."
-- Charetta Long --

"The inability to cope with hours of lectures. Symptoms include cutting class, sleeping during class etc..."
-- Tia Denny --

"All you want to do is have fun with all your friends before you go out into the real world on you own."

What is your best pick-up line?

I don't really have a pick-up line because I consider it, if you use the same or different pick-up line, you're always putting a front to a girl/boy. So they don't know if they're talking to a really nice person, or just a person that is totally fake. So pick-up lines to me are unnecessary."

Journey In Literature

Taking A Trip With Books

Four years ... four years of English are required for your graduation. Each year of English has a specific curriculum different from one another.

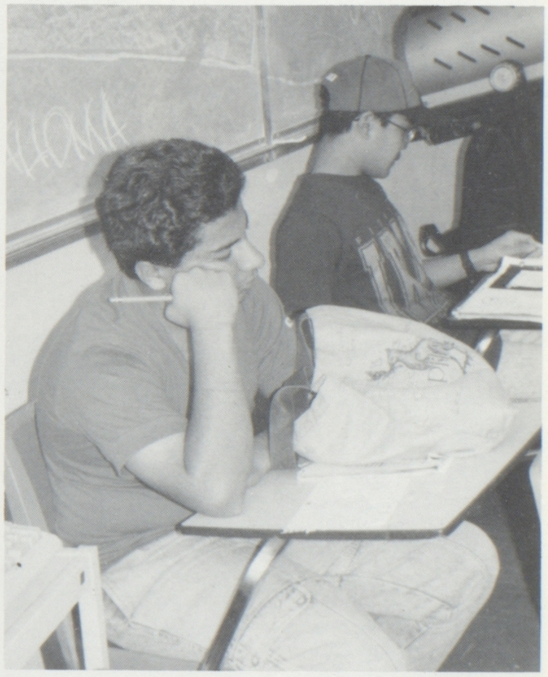
The Freshmen read "The Monkey's Paw" as a short story, Poetry like "The Raven" and novels like Ishi and To Kill a Mockingbird. Plays such as "Miracle Worker" and "the Tragedy of Romeo and Juliet."

The Sophomore agenda revolves around world literature such as Les Miserables and All's Quiet on the Western Front. The teachers have a choice of reading "The Merchant of Venice" or "Julius Caesar" for a Shakespearian type play.

The Junior year is one of the most important to all students because they worry about their English work plus the Vocabulary in the SAT test. Juniors read American literature like The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn. This class also reads the tragedy "Othello" for their Shakespearian play.

British literature is consistent within the Senior English classes. Seniors will travel from a farm run by animals in Animal Farm to an insane asylum in The One Who Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest. Seniors will read "Hamlet," "Henry V," or "Macbeth" for their Shakespearian play.

Four years of English is what it comes down to. The books will differ, the classes, the people, the way the class is taught. But one thing is the same. Each year of English will be a whole new, wonderful literary experience at Encinal.



Sophia Ford scans through her notes trying to find the answer. While Jung-Mi Lee bites her nails in the corner.

Melody Robinson examines the grade on her homework assignment. Hovering over her are her fellow companions: Shanna Coleman, Anabel Santos and Brandi Young.

Waheed Mauzi dreams about what he's going to do while Chris Garcia on the other hand prefers to sit back and check his notebook.

Study, study, study ... Allyn Oligher seems exhausted from all his work and studying sixth period.

Thai Le stares right into the camera. As he and his partner Danh Vo work diligently on their posters.

History

What did you enjoy most about History?

"What I enjoyed most about History was the little stories that the teacher tells you when he gets side tracked."

— Tony Martinez —

If you were to compare a historical figure to a History teacher, who would it be and why?

"Ivan the Terrible to Mr. Evans because the classroom is taught under a czar-like fashion."

— Michael Ybarra —

How do you think government will help us in the future?

"Government will help me in the future because when you learn about the past it helps you later in life. Understanding the system is important and helps in understanding what is going on around you."

— Kelly Wilson —

In Mrs. Nelson's AP History class, Melanie Toledo seems more interested in whose taking the picture while Sophia Ford tries to remember what she read about the night before.

Hyacinth Carcallas, Alison Dea, Stephanie Yee, Jennifer Pancoe, Tony Hernandez and Siante Dewberry sit in Mr. Manno's US History class as they take notes and listen to him lecture about World War 1.

The Past, Present, And Future

Students Leap Through History

We all know that History is NOT our favorite subject but unfortunately it's a must in high school. Some things discussed in History classes this year were the Presidential Election between Bush, Clinton and Perot. It was evident that the race was going to be close between Bush and Clinton. To our surprise, young people between the ages of 18-25 turned out in strong force to vote for the person they thought would help the nation best as President, who happened to be President Clinton. Another important issue discussed in History classes at Encinal was our troops being sent overseas once again. This particular move which was called Somalia, was a relief effort to help a nation in anarchy get back on its feet.

This year in Sophomore History students studied the first civilizations of man which was one of the many topics taught. Students learned how the first civilizations practiced democracy and how other forms of Government paved the way for todays of Government paved the way for todays Government. Students also learned about the Industrial Revolution and how it still works through the Past, Present, and Future.

Juniors, what did you all learn this year? You had one day when you all dressed as Puritans and learned about their educational system. Juniors also learned about the Industrial Age in the United States.

The Seniors had two History classes they had to take this year, Economics and Government. In Economics they learned about Microeconomics and Macroeconomics. Seniors also studied the less-developed countries. In Government they learned how the US constitution was made up and how it works. They also learned how the Government works for the people and the basic functions of Government.

So between the Presidential Election, Government, Industrial Revolution and Evolution of man you have what you call HISTORY!

Studying requires style and grace as Patrick Malone demonstrates during Mr. Manno's History class.

On a hot sunny day in Mr. Evan's History class, Michael Ybarra helps Shawn Moreland answer a question on their chapter review while Melinda Denys works solo.

Mr. Manno's US History class listens to him lecture. But are these Juniors focused on what he's saying or thinking about what they are going to do for the weekend.

Science

When asked what they enjoyed most about their class, students responded with:

— the Physics class —

"I like going out in the mud with jodeci boots, and Mr. Medeiros makes class interesting with his stories."

— Deatrice Sheard
Marine Biology
11th Grade —

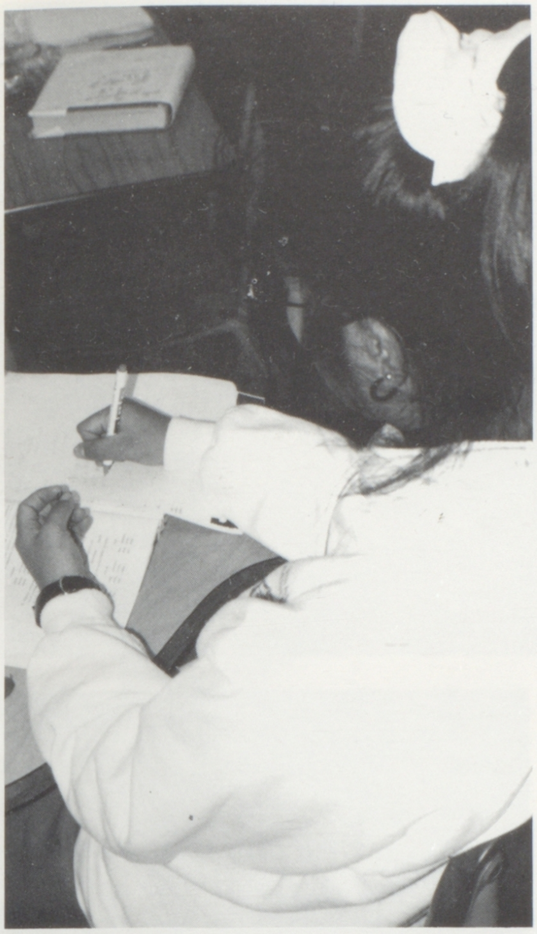
Senior, Elizabeth Jones attempts to tame the Boa, in Agriscience.



New Frontiers

Experimenting And Discovering In Science

Along with the usual science classes offered at Encinal like Marine Biology, Chemistry and Physiology, some new classes were formed.

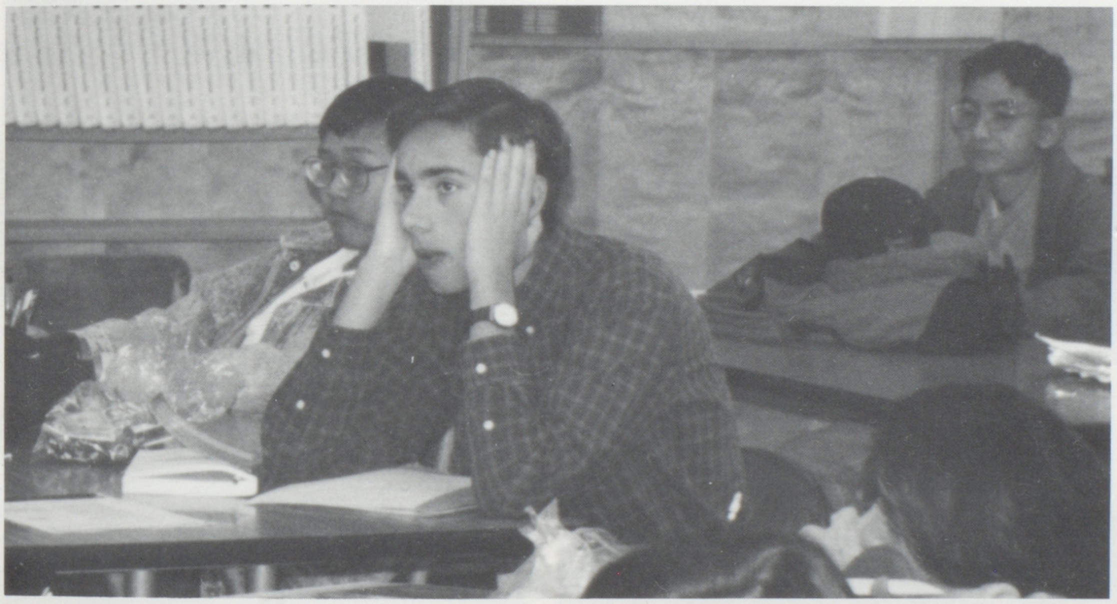
This year Biology and Physical Science were combined into a two year program in which freshmen received the same teacher for two years, which they called families. The classes were taught by Mr. Roger Wilpitz, Mr. Jon Medeiros and, and Mr. David Payne. During the two years students study the skeletal systems, volume mass gravity, light sound and ecology.

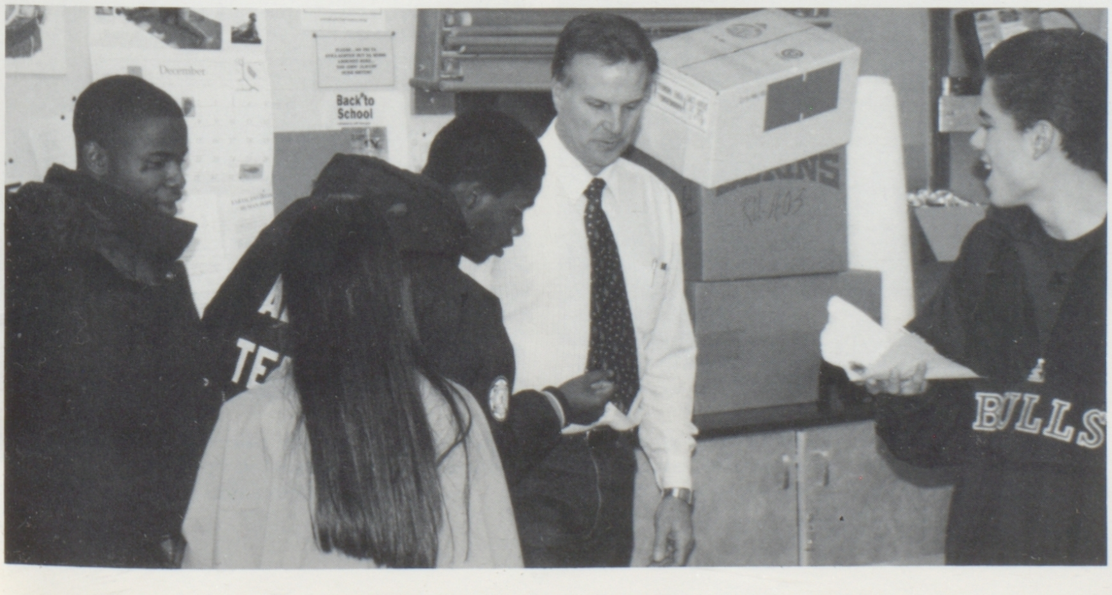
The other new class was Agriscience taught by Mr. William Abromitis and Mr. John Kawaguchi. Students spent most of their time outside taking care of their own areas of land. They were fully responsible for the well being of their plants, vegetables and animals.

The Marine Biology class was also frequently outdoors. Students measured the cove directly behind the school for changes in the level of the land and learned how to read a compass.

Physiology classes dissected a fetal pig and cow eyes. Students wrote papers on the Biochemical Analysis of an athletic event of their choice and performed labs to analyze food lipids.

This past year the ever humorous Mr. Alan Nelson taught Chemistry and Physics. The Chemistry students studied matter, its structure and its properties. Physic students pondered over vectors, projection motion and the effect of gravity.





Jong Mi Lee, one of Mr. Nelson's Physics students, shows off her amazing ability to do Physics and Spanish at the same time.

Senior Class President Geoff Milam tries as best he can to concentrate on only the lecture being given in Physics class.

Edward Tamano gasps in horror as he suddenly realizes he has been photographed with goggles on, how embarrassing!

Mr. Jon Mederios tries to get away as one of his students tries to grab one of the "famous" ties, during Integrated Science I.

Math

What is the most interesting thing you've learned in math?

"Polynomial!!!"

— Angela Lee —

"Rate problems."

— Kenny Lau —

"Learn how to solve equations."

— Angie Ho —

How would you alter the math classes to make it a more conducive environment?

"Not have distracting people around."

— Katie Hopper —

"Have field trips, go hiking to determine the different angles, and fighting to use the math skills to determine how to make the next strike."

— David Fong —

"We should have a fun teacher, field trips, parties, and do math whenever we want to."

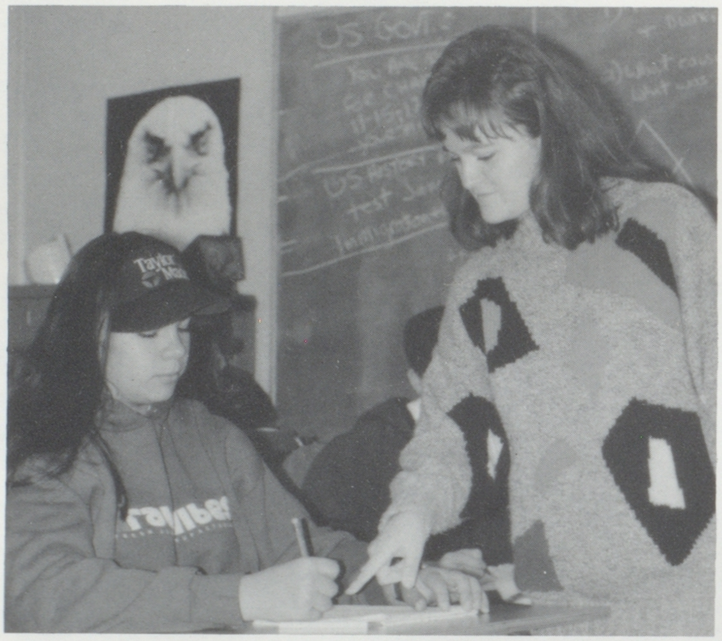
— Amy Yuen —

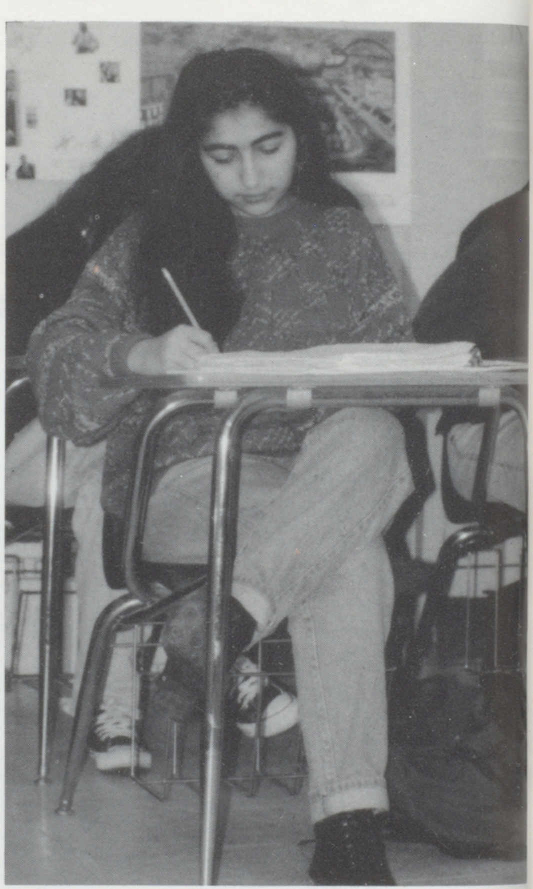
"More group work."

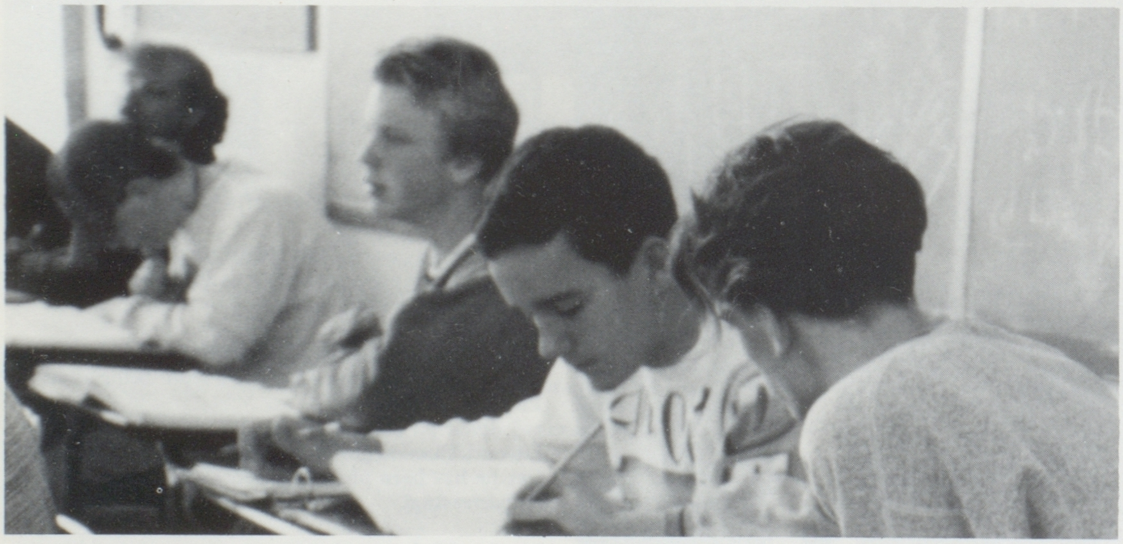
— Kelly Wilson —

"Have teachers elaborate on what they are trying to explain."

— Peter Ho —







While Calculus and Math Analysis students stress out over their classwork, Ferozan Nekmal works in an unbelievably relaxed way during Algebra I.

Mr. Dennis Knights and Sunny Hall demonstrate to us the fun of doing Algebra I. "See, you do this problem by using the formula $a^2+b^2=c^2$," says Mr. Knights.

Melissa Milam corrects her mistakes on her classwork which Ms. Monica Egbert points out in Geometry. With Ms. Egbert's help, Melissa Milam was able to finish her classwork before everyone else.

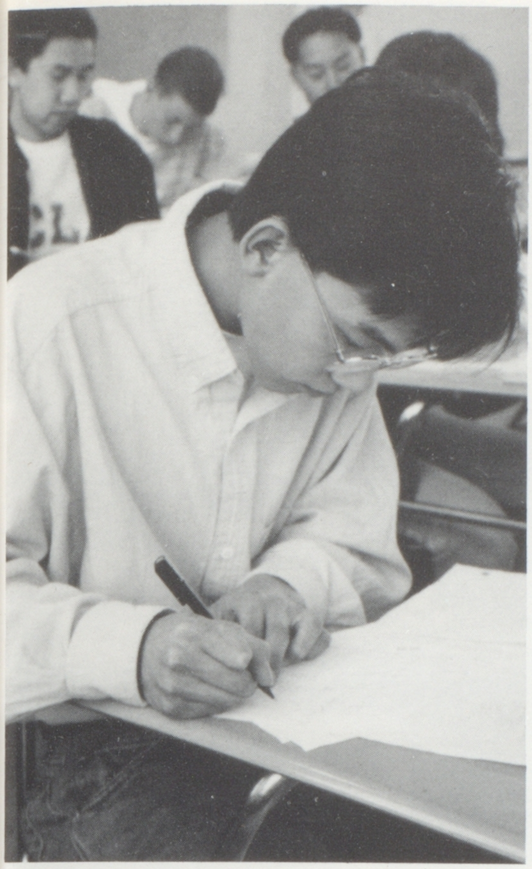
$x=\frac{-b\pm\sqrt{b^2-4ac}}{2a}$ (AKA: Quadratic Equation)

Cranking Out The Brain Juice To Ace Math



More than two-thirds of our EHS students are enrolled in math courses in this 1992-93 academic school year that ranged from Math Skills to Calculus.

With more than ten different math classes offered at EHS, there was still competition among students to be accepted to various classes, like Math Analysis; which was offered only for one period by Mr. Al Rebensdorf. To remain in that class, students had to ace all tests given. Unfortunately, half a dozen students had to be cut.

"Up the Anti" was Mr. Dennis Knight's motto in teaching his math classes, which are Shelter Algebra I, Algebra I, Geometry, and AP Calculus. He felt that his 20 students, compared to two students when he first started teaching at Encinal, in his Calculus class were "academically strongest." As well in other classes, he likes to teach his courses "beyond intellectually."

In the Freshman Interactive Math Project classes, we had Mr. Paul Juarez, Ms. Mary Jackson, and Ms. Shayne Fleming. They assigned weekly projects called P.O.W. (AKA: Problem of the Week). Students then had to complete and present the results in front of the class.

Hopefully restructuring will help aid the math department with their over-crowded population of students and the ratio of students to teachers. Meanwhile, the teachers had developed new programs for the students to work around such problems.

Last minute cramming? Hung Tran picks up his pen and does some last minute touchups on his assignment in his math analysis class before he turns it in.

During another intense day in Math Analysis, Alex Le and Andi Fernandez show us the fast way to do Math by helping each other.

Check off time! Angela Crisp presents her homework to Mr. Rebensdorf in her Math Analysis class to have it checked off and evaluated by him.

Stressed out? Judea Ducusin bites on her eraser while she tries to comprehend the material that her teacher Mr. Knights is giving in her calculus class.

Betty Wong concentrates on thinking of an answer for a complex Math problem. With Math Analysis in the morning, it leaves her no time to relax.

Business

What do you like about the Business classes?

"It'll help me out when I get into a college."

— Leslie Lyons —

"You get experience for the Business fields."

— Sandra Yi —

Why did you enter the Business field?

"I like accounting so I can make big money."

— Paublo Martinez —

"So I can learn more about computers and see how they work."

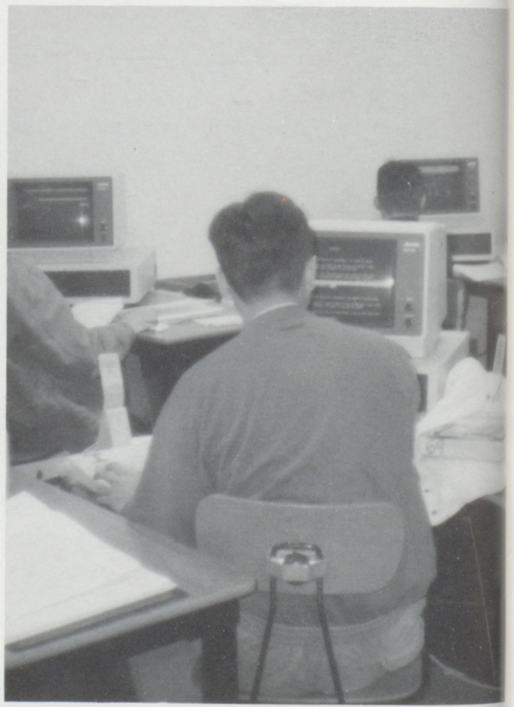
— Jimmy Loto —

How do you expect to pass the class?

"Do all your work!"

— Maricris Bernaldo —

Mr. Gene Ford shows Alicia Lengel how to properly draft her buildings on graph paper. While in drafting she likes to look at different building layouts to help her with her drawings.



Pius Leung does his usual programming for his homework assignment on Tuesday in computers. He is really concentrating on his work for Mr. Steve Capling

Ken Chiu, Tak Yeh, and Rodrick James work hard t complete their budget forms in accounting. Whil Ken and Tak seem to be on automatic, Rodrick look through the textbook for help.

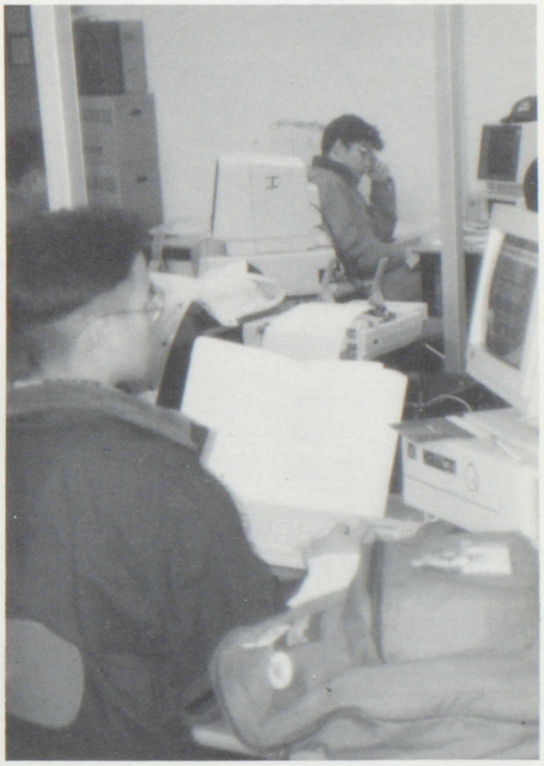
The Speed Of A Sentence

This Year's Business classes were flying, in other words the students were working hard. The thing that our business classes had was spirit. This year the spirit of the business classes was stupendous. The business classes include computers, drafting, accounting, and word processing. In computers the students learn about basic computer programming. In computer programming students learn how to type in special commands to make the computer perform certain tasks.

In drafting however students learned to layout buildings, draft their results, color in the pictures, design buildings, and redraw any pictures necessary. This class helped students who were interested in going into the architectural field.

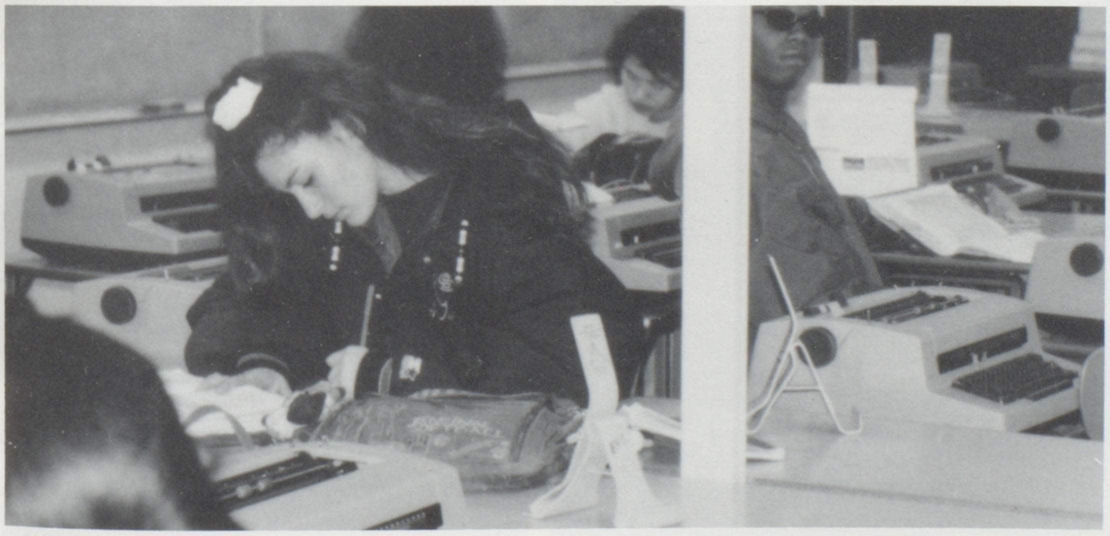
Next there was accounting where the students learned how to balance check books. Also in accounting, students learned how to work their own finances.

Last but not least was word processing Here students learned to type with speed and efficiency. Word processing was helpful to students who wanted to do secretarial work. Business careers are booming, so it would be helpful to take a business class.



Eldon Gee searches for errors in his programming on the computer in word processing to make sure he is right. This assignment was due the day after.

Jeffery Standley, Jason Jemson, James Grant, and Amado Castro are sketching their layouts for the finished product on their buildings during drafting class.



Anh Ly is reading through her accounting book to find the answers to a math problem. It just looks like a normal day to her. Next year the Business class will have a new building with computer security and high tech equipment!

Melody Ramirez works on her budget assignment, while Rodrick James looks around for help with the positions of his hands on the typewriter. Although cramped in portables this year, rebuilding will improve the work space for Business classes in the future.

Publications

After taking your publications class what effect will it have in your future career?

"It will help me in case I have to make blue prints."
— Jeremy Quinones —

"It will help make me a better person and help me meet deadlines."
— Steve Pacheco —

"It gives me practice working with other people."
— Kelly Wilson —

"It gives me experience for college."
— Yvette Castellanies —

"It will help me to write good stories and filling out applications."
— Rizalyn Esteban —

"None, this class is not prosperous in my career."
— Ashanti Lovelace —

"I learned to use a video camera and now I work at United Cables."
— Cliff Poche —

After taking your publication class, would you take it again? Why?

"I can probably be editor, and Ms. Wood is a nice teacher."
— Peter Ho —

"It's something I can do over since I did it once before, it should be easier."
— Kevin De Leon —

"No, because it's very demanding and you have to sell ads."
— Fritz Carmine —

"Yes, it's different from my other classes."
— Donny Watson —

Yes, I love writing and I like it when my parents are proud of me."
— Najja Frasure —

"Yes, I think it's a good opportunity for young writers to get their work published."
— Elizabeth Jones —

"Yes, I always was interested in writing."
— Shawn Moreland —

"Yes, because you don't have to do nothing, just sit around an chill.
— Juan Jackson —

"No, it's not enough work for people to do at once."
— Starlyn Malone —

"Yes, it will help me get a job as a camera man."
— Reynaldo Canlas —

"Yes, it's an easy grade and lots of free time."
— Martin Arcilla —

The video yearbook class advertises the video yearbook during school time on the wall on the staircase. The video yearbook is on video tape for $35 to give you remembrance of the lifestyle at Encinal.

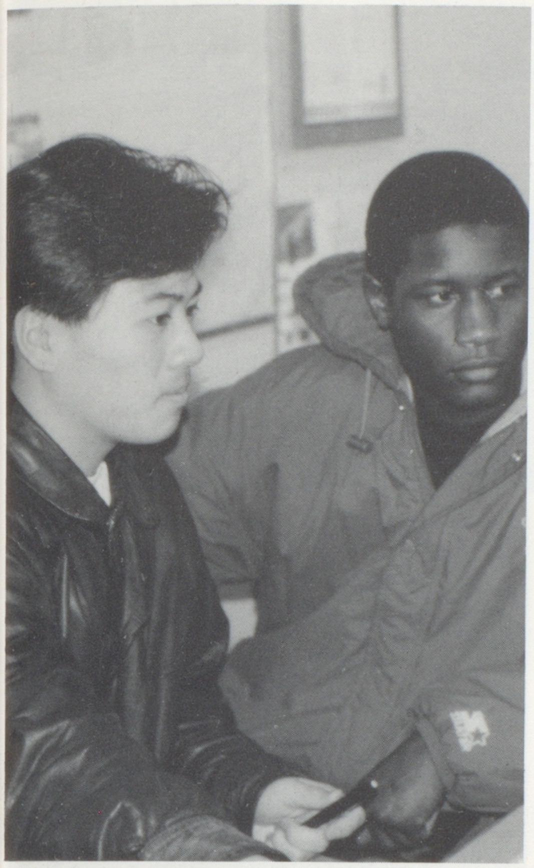
Anthony Chu searches the computer screen in 6th period Journalism class. Anthony is desperately viewing the screen to continue an article.

Mrs. Wood, Jamie Holgerson, and Kourtney Pfoor review layouts during 6th period yearbook class. The trio quickly but carefully try to reread layouts to meet their first deadline.

Ruben Tilos rereads his body copy at his desk in yea book class. Ruben has an open mind while piecing together his fall sport layout.

Chief editor, Scott Patten and Leif Martin discuss an article on a hot sunny day in Journalism class. They take the problem step by step to get ready for the December issue of the school's newspaper, the Jetsetter.

Horizon editor, Johnny Yee and Chadric Jones view the computer screen for a publication layout during their sixth period class.



Future Writers Of America

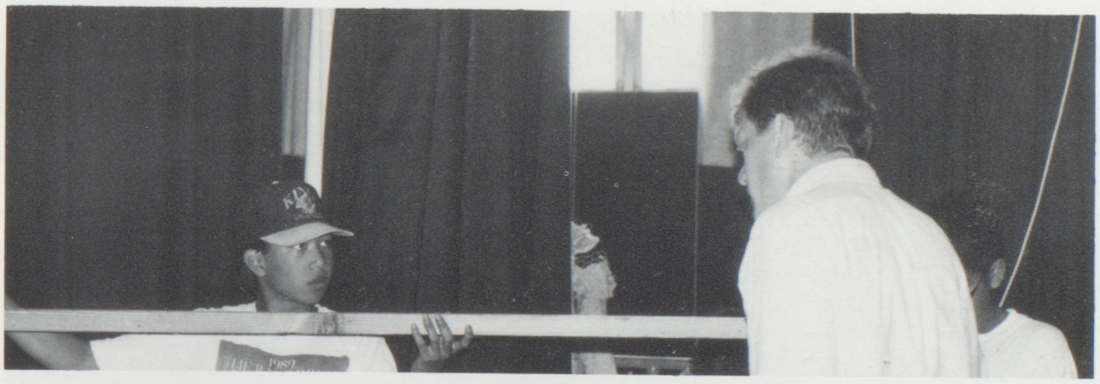
Get The Printing Presses Ready

Due to good advice from the experienced yearbook adviser, Ms. Wood, the 1992-93 yearbook class brings you the original classic style yearbook. Putting in long hours co-editors Johnny Yee and Sung Kwon try to make sure the yearbook class meets their deadlines. The yearbook class is a class different from others. In yearbook class students have to be present everyday, pay attention, work well with others, and be willing to put in lots of time. This class is a whole year elective. Understanding and working with layouts were a big must in this class of opportunity. Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors are welcome to join.

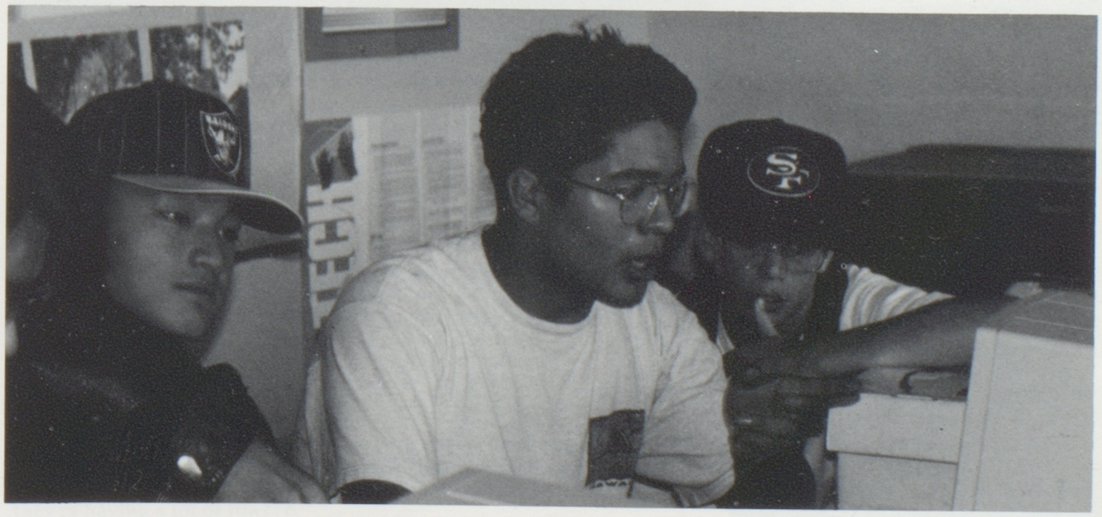
Journalism is one of the few electives welcome to all class grades. Journalism class is run by adviser Mr. Ron Lewis. Journalism doesn't just consist of newspaper affairs but work with computers, work processors and cameras. Art work, pasting and working on desk top programs are all covered in the Journalism class also. The editors are Scott Patten and Anthony Chu. Mr. Lewis has been the Journalism teacher for two years and enjoys it, but he says there are several students that don't do their work but over all they are a fun group of students.

This was the first year stagecraft was combined with video yearbook class. Both of these classes were directed by Mr. Robert Moorehead. In the stagecraft section, students learned to use lighting and various tools, and they also built the sets to the plays "All My Sons" and "My Fair Lady." In video yearbook they learned to use video cameras. They focused on shots from dances, assemblies and other school activities. It took lots of hours to film 45 minutes of the Encinal Spirit. Mr. Moorhead said that lots of students work hard, and he hoped to continue this class in the future.

Robert Caisip video tapes the fall play in the school's playhouse. For a section in the video yearbook.



Edwin Sitchon lifts a board in the school's playhouse in his stagecraft/video yearbook class. Edwin lifts it carefully so he and classmates can build a scene for the fall play, as Mr. Moorhead and classmates look on.



Who said that computers are not used in video yearbook? Joe Sanchez designs a cover program and as he teaches Jason Barco and Joebe Melangco, who will take his place next year.

Drama

Do you think that Drama will help you in the future?

"Yes, I have plans working on television, theatre, and film"
— Amy Keegan —

"Yes, it helps you interact with other people, and gives you confidence."
— Malaika Fisher —

"Wait ten years when my second movie, or when I get my first oscar, than we'll see!!!"
— Edward Tamano —

As a new student, why did you decide to join Drama 2 at a new school?

"There's a lot of fun people in this class, and every thing we do here is crazy!!!"
— Jessabelle Labampa —

"I want to see how red my face can get doing a scene!!"
— David Eason —

What challenges have you overcome this year in Drama?

"I used to be really shy, but now I've overcome that, and I'm really comfortable with myself in front of audiences."
— Tia Denny —

"I overcame the challenge of taking three years to memorize one line!!"
— Tacho Ordez —

The fourth period Drama class is giving a yearbook pose. It looks like Mr. Moorhead is losing his head, because this class is really WILD!!

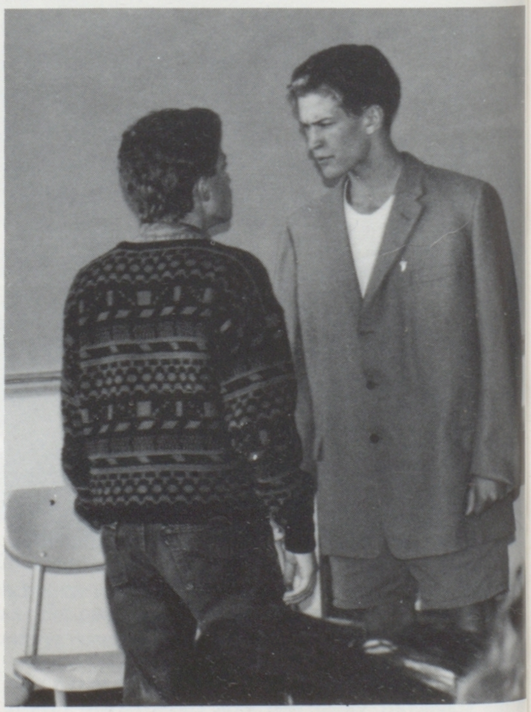
THE WIZ
SWISS ARMY

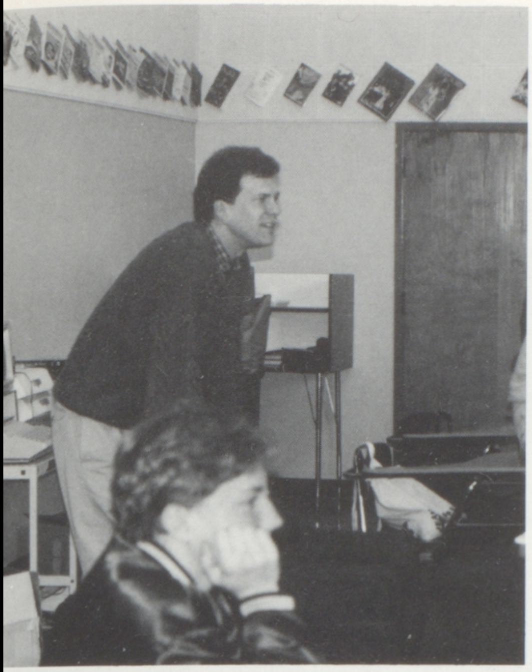
Maha Aljuaiz, Maybeline Natividad, Evelyn Johnson, and Cynthia Marquez whisper through wall. Freshman Drama acted out scenes from Shakespearian play.

Edward Tamano is praying, while Jessabelle Labampa is giving a sermon. Drama two students often performed one act scenes for other classes.

Chad Jones and Teri Schmitz are having a quarrel about how his jeans don't match his jacket.

Cliff Poche and Isaac Irvine play act a fight scene. Hey Cliff, you need to pick on someone your own size!





Dramatic Experience

Performing In Front Of Others

Drama is a pleasure that students are able to enjoy and experience. The drama experience can only be seen from the eyes entertainers. It gives them a chance to face and explore new and exciting challenges. Drama takes a lot of hard work and time. Productions usually involve not only acting, but also directing, props, sets, lighting, sound, costume, fitting, and hours of long rehearsals. Many of risks are taken on stage, anything can happen; failure, success, accidents, or tragedies. Through it all knowledge is gained through the drama experience. Encinal's Drama teacher Mr. Robert Moorhead lets students express their feelings and emotions. He helps students overcome their shyness and enhance their ability to work with others. You can share your own interest in drama with others through this class, besides being willing to put in extra practice time.

Mr. Moorhead and Peter Major are studying the performers' actions intensely. All Drama two students performed original skits in front of their classmates for an evaluation.

Kim Brown, Geoff Milam and Monica Termini are jumping up and down like frogs, singing "She'll be comi'n round the mountain when she comes." Drama 2 students do lots of crazy things.

Zim Williams, Kyle Collins and Jong Kim are rehearsing "A Mid summer's Night Dream" for their ninth grade Drama class. It looks like they're very interested in what they're doing.

Brian Miles, Gerlie Groze and Chris Martinelli are rehearsing a play for their semester grade. It seems like they're having a lot of fun???

Band & Flag Girls

What's it like being a Drum Major for such a big band?

"It's very challenging and it's full of responsibility. And I love music and drum majoring is almost my life."

— Leilani Adviento —

What's it like getting up early in the morning to practice for jazz band?

"It's good because we have a lot of fun. And we play a lot of different songs."

—Steve Eagleton —

"It's worth getting up because it gives us a chance to sound better for competition."

— Rachel Knight —

How was your experience as flag team captain?

"Sometimes it's hard getting the girls together to practice. It's fun because we get to go places, we make new friends and sometimes we hang out together."

— Cristina Smith —

The band plays the fight song when marching on the field to support the football team before one of our home games.

Leilani Adviento salutes to the crowd as she brings the band out to play. In the back ground 3 flag girls show off the Encinal's Marching Band's Banner.

Dazzling Band And Choir

Encinal Band Struts Their Stuff

Encinal's Band can honestly say everything is great. Not only did they get to strut their stuff on their own field this year, but they sounded marvelous. Mr. Armen Phelps said, "This has the best marching and jazz band so far. Next year looks even better." The marching band is looking forward to winning, hopefully 8, awards at the Armijo Band Review.

The flag girls showed off their talent when they performed their well-practiced routine at the Big game against Alameda on the Willie Stargell field in November.

Encinal's Choir got its new uniforms which everyone admired during the Winter concert that took place in December. This year's choir had 10 male students in it. The choir only got better as time went on. Students of Encinal were able to hear our great choir at an assembly in December before winter vacation.

The Bands and Choir gave a lot of thanks to the music boosters who have helped them have fundraisers in which they sold Marva's Marvelous giant cookies. The parents helped donate items when the band had their big garage sale which they made a profit. With the money they made, the students bought new equipment and supplies that are needed.

Mr. Phelps has spent a lot of his spare time doing things to help make the band better. Ever since Mr. Phelps has been with our band and staff at EHS for 4 years we have seen a dramatic change in our band and we would like to congratulate Mr. Phelps on his success with the Bands, Choir and Flag girls.

Thanks to Mr. Phelps the band has been able to travel to different places like Armijo, Tracy, Santa Cruz band reviews and compete in 8 different competitions in one season. As you can see, the EHS Band only gets bigger and better. We look forward to seeing even Bigger and Better Bands next year.

The flag girls get ready to do their routine for a crowd of Jet fans at one of their half time shows at the Varsity football game.

Jenny Pancoe and Jodan Wischmeier play their flute duet while at one of their concerts this year.

Ronald Legaux and Amy Keegan show off the Baritone and Trumpet after their Winter Concert which took place in the Encinal cafeteria.

The EHS Choir sport their Brand New Uniforms while singing at one of the schools assemblies that took place in December.

The Jazz Band plays during one of their early morning rehearsals. The fourteen students showed up every morning for practices.

Fine Arts

Who or what was your greatest inspiration in art?

"My greatest inspiration in art would be Disney, and Zach Freedman, who was a great artist I knew in fifth grade I wanted to emulate his talents."

— Scott Patten —

"My greatest inspiration in art was Disney, because he can't seem to go wrong in his animated work and Chris Williams for the great computer graphics he's done for Industrial Light and Magic (ILM)."

— Mike Crandall —

"My greatest inspiration was Miss Stern, ha! ha! She was my inspiration 'cause it was fun to clown on her."

— Creighton Wright —

"I don't know why, but period 5 watches movies almost everyday and I'm stuck in period 1 which never watches anything."

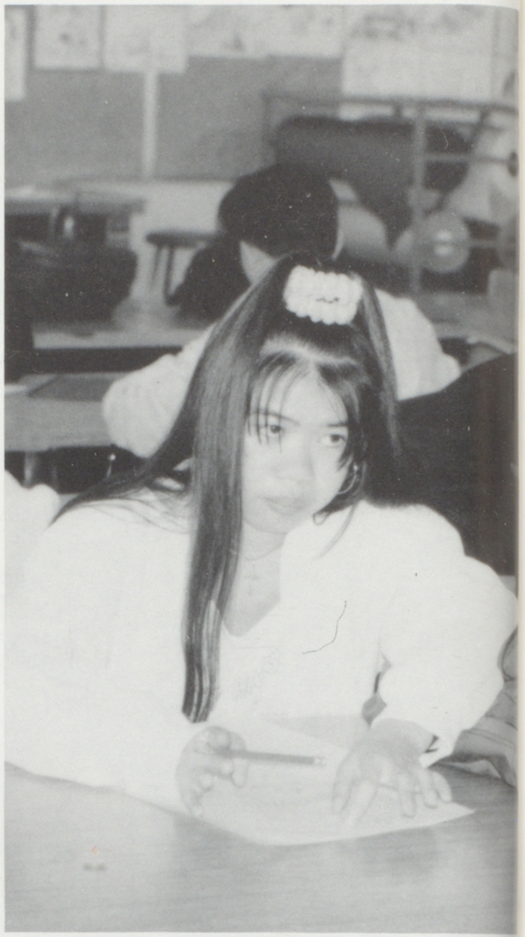
— Wyman Toy —

While working at the light table, Zach Taylor carefully traces a picture of Superman onto his own paper.

Junior Manuel Enriquez and Senior Brad Lodge reconstruct an intricate piece of art with care. Table space during Art was always put to good use.

Catherine Turner starts her journey into the world of pottery, moulding the clay into a future work-of-art.

Linneda Patata considers what would be the bes drawing that would impress her teacher the most. Ar 1 sections were filled with creative students.



While sitting at her potter's wheel, Junior Debb Claro puts the finishing touches to her vase in Ceramics class.

Mrs. Rachel Stern, who is one of three art teachers at Encinal, observes how well Manuel Monrante can create abstract art with her instructions.

Back To Basics

Fine Arts Program Hit Hard By Budget Problem

After Governor Pete Wilson cut millions of dollars from our education system during the 1992 summer, school districts scrambled to trim their budgets. That meant the classes with the fewest number of students were to be cut.

This brought a big dilema for the Fine Arts program. With Art 2 being cut, Mrs. Stern pleaded with the school that students that had artistic talent should be able to excel in it. This changed their heart and helped save the class.

Without any money for extra supplies, the Art Program asked parents to help out and donate supplies for student projects. Mrs. Stern said that Pete Wilson would rather have us using Crayolas rather than let us use Prismas (art pencils).

But these set-backs did not keep these art students from doing anything on the special side. In the fall, the Art classes were asked to draw pictures for the "Reach Beyond Yourself" program. The best posters were to be hung at the Oakland Colisium during a special event for charities of the Bay Area. They also put together a calendar with their subjects made-up of many "dots" resembling an object which sold over the holidays.

Despite all the problems that were brought to the Art program, one new thing came out of it, the new Art Club. This new club brought out the many artistic students that were brought into this school and gave them something to do during their lunch time.

Even with all the trouble given to this Academic Class, they were still able to bring out the best in themselves and do many things with the fewest funds, proving that students can shine in the hardest times.

While Gayle Alioto smiles for the camera, Chris Tam concentrates on his assignment and Freddie Llacer reshapes a replica of Theodore Roosevelt in ceramics class.

Ceramics teacher Mr. Robert Ruark carefully demonstrates the correct way to form a clay pot to Velma Marquez while Adriana Rojas observes. Everyone enjoyed this hands-on experience.

Junior Sam Yohannes thinks about the best way to get an "A" in art class. Finally figuring-out that anything resembling art by the great Spaniard, Pablo Picasso, would do him right.

Vocational Education

What made you want to take Food Management?

"I enjoy cooking so I took foods class. Plus Mr. B's really cool."
— Charetta Long —

"Because I like that class and Mr. Brandon's my favorite teacher."
— Yvette Castellanos —

"I like food, and I love Mr. Brandon."
— Lamont Brown —

What makes you want to work with children?

"Getting the experience for when I have my own kids."
— Stephanie Brock —

"So when I have my own children I'm ready for them".
— Ronald Chico —

What is so fun about taking the Floral class?

"It's fun because you get to make arrangements and take them home without paying for them."
— Kneena Williams —

You get to make things. And after high school, It's good experience for a job."
— Maeliz Irby —

Do you plan on using Marketing in your future?

"Possibly because I've learned a lot from marketing."
— Sharif Thomas —

"Yes, because it has to do with everyday life."
— Brad Lodge —

"No, because I think I'm headed for the Military".
— Esmeraldo Reyes —

Jose Gomez, Adam Sanchez, and Sharif Thomas anxiously get their lunch together. Meanwhile Mr. Brandon looks over what they are doing.

Brenda Brice looks for a place to put her fresh tossed salad before serving Encinal's faculty.

Nikita Holloway and Kneena Williams help a studen get some refreshments on a hot day during a footba game.

Focus On The Future

Creating Feasts And Bouquets

This has been a good year for Encinal's Regional Occupation Program. (R.O.P.) can be very educational and interesting way to learn different fields of work. It is the first step to many students' lifetime careers. R.O.P. helps students to prepare for jobs right out of school. It also gives students an advantage before they advance to their college years. All of the work is hands-on experience and training.

Encinal offers Retail Floral Art Design which is conducted by Mrs. Christine Dea. EHS also offers Food Management which is guided by Mr. Terry Brandon. Encinal also offers Marketing taught by Mrs. Connie King. The R.O.P. programs are valuable tools for learning about the field students want to work in. These classes have been proven to give students the support and information they need for a Vocational Occupation. These classes are held daily.

Each class held sales to help get money for supplies that they might have needed. The Floral class sold wreaths and rose grams. The marketing class sold data matches at lunch time. The marketing class ran the students store here at E.H.S. The store sold the basic school necessities, candy and other items. The foods classes sold food at lunch time which was a good success. Mr. Brandon and some students helped serve food at the card show which took place on February 6, 1993.

Kimberly Cuevas helps Mr. Brandon clean up after a busy day in the kitchen.

Nicole Wadel shows off her flower arrangement that was being showed off in the viewing case in the main hall.

Maria Gatmaitan, Yvette Castellanos, Charetta Long, Tracie Jamison, and Merry Oliveira help serve Mr. Mederios during the Rigatoni Feed. This was one of the many fundraisers that benefited the senior class.

Junior Jose Gomez takes time from his busy work in Horticulture Class to give us a smile. He is checking to make sure that the posts are nice and straight. Fences are erected around the horticulture area to hold in animals.

Junior Charles Harvey intently applies stain as Senior Grewarl Inderjt looks on. Freshman David Song looks for instruction as various other wood shop students get aid from Mr. Ford.

Senior Arthur Alexander is in awe of the stripped down car before him. Arthur is taking Auto Shop so he can save money by doing his own automotive repairs in the future.

Wood, Auto And Soil

Busy Hands Working For Experience

Whether you step inside a horticulture class or wood shop class you will notice a familiarity. Busy hands at work can be found in all three classes. Students can be seen digging up soil in Horticulture class, sanding wood in Wood shop and overhauling engines in Auto shop.

As you stroll around the horticulture area, it is evident that students made the most of their time. New structures such as fences to hold in animals have been made. Animals such as a goat, chicks and rabbits are cared for by students in these structures. Students also built tables, planted plants and learned landscaping techniques. If a student decides to pursue a career in agricultural, he will find that lots of money can be made.

In Auto Shop a taste of physics, science and math is given to students. They learn about smog emissions causing global warming. New this year is an introduction to neumatic hydrolics. This course ties in math and science. Students could be seen working on brakes, overhauling engines,. administering tune-ups and fixing air conditioners. Mr. Potter, a veteran auto-shop teacher, shares his expertise with Alameda High then returns to Encinal in the afternoon to enlighten more students.

New this year to Wood Shop is a semester program. It acts as a back-up for Current Life. During Introduction To Wood tool knowledge was learned and small items such as spice racks and cutting boards were made. In Wood II furniture such as tables are created. In Advanced Wood, which is a carpentry course, frames and models are made. Career exploration was covered by Mr. Ford in all of his wood classes.

Look at all those healthy plants. Senior Helen Gebregiorgis tends to these plants in Horticulture Class. She gives these plants some tender loving care, something that all living things could use.

Senior Chris Cross uses all his might to clamp down his piece of wood. Projects that he made in Wood Shop proved to be useful in his home.

Not only men use hammers. Senior Minh Hoang gives us living proof of this as she hammers pieces of wood together in Horticulture Class.

Freshman Osvaldo Arias readies the drill press towards putting holes in his contoured work of art that he has made in Wood Shop.

Seniors Arnaldo Soriano and Jesse Pacheco and a hand make fine tuned adjustments to a suspended engine. Five hands are always better than one, two, three, and even four.

Current Life

What do you think was the most important thing that you've learned in Current Life Issues?

"That safe sex is very important."
— Slater Veirs —

"Always keep yourself protected from sexual diseases."
— Tanisha Nious —

"I learned a lot about sexual transmitted diseases. It made me understand that anyone can get a disease."
— Braulio Johnston —

If there's one message that you could get out to other teenagers, what would it be?

"Never doubt yourself. You can do what ever you want as long as you put your mind to it. Learn to make money and strive for what you believe in."
— Kevin Baker —

"Don't do drugs; they can hurt you in more ways than one."
— Jamie Holgerson —

"Everyone gets peer pressured about using drugs and drinking alcohol; honestly it's not all fun and games."
— Kevin de Leon —

Jorge Enriquez and Harland Deleon take a test in Current Life Issues about the affects of drugs and alcohol abuse.

Monica Watson tries to figure out if her pencil is a number two. Meanwhile Karen Estella stares aimlessly at the blackboard.

Ann Torio is at attention and taking notes while striving to understand why life is what it is in her Current Life Issues class.

Current Life students give their undivided attention to the guest speaker as he talks about AIDS and how it can be prevented.

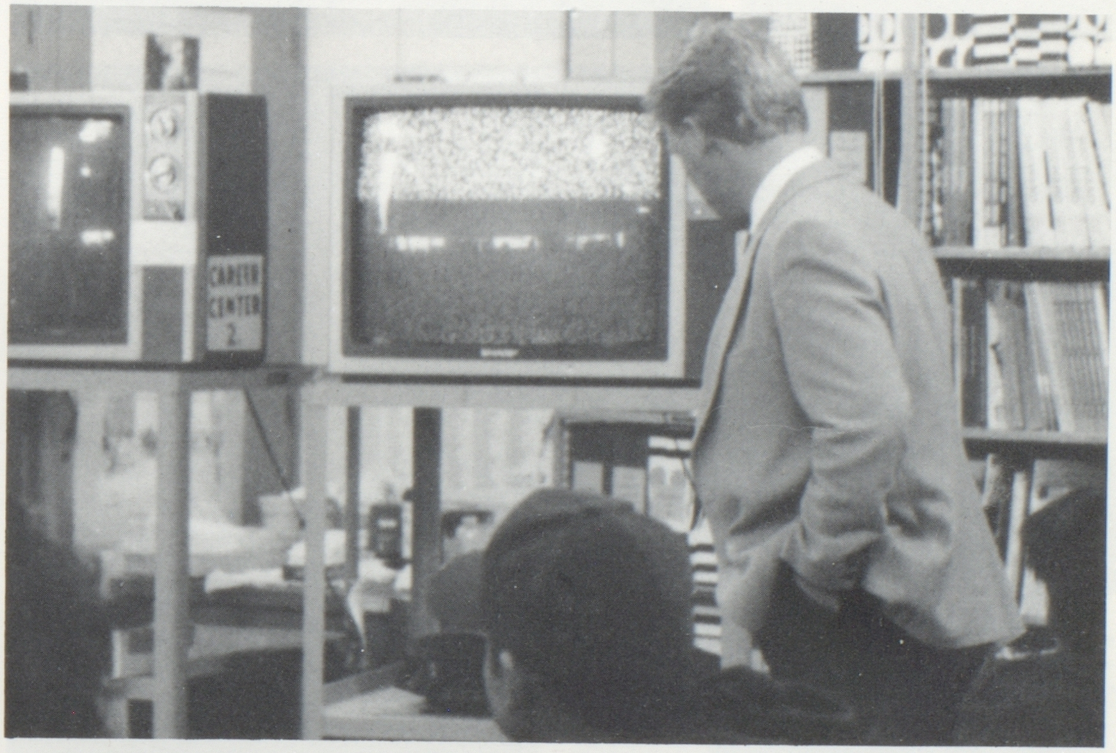
Living Day By Day

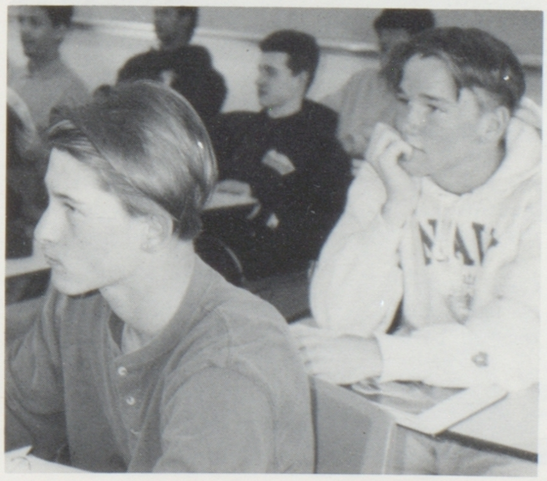
Learning From Today's Mistakes For Tomorrow's Future

Current Life Issues has been a graduation requirement for the past 3 years at Encinal High School. Current Life, what does it all mean? Growing up is a hard thing to do. Teenagers have a lot of questions, with unknown answers. That is why Christina Dea and Janis Larsen (Freedman), teachers at Encinal High School, try to make life a little bit easier to understand. Current Life Issues is a class where students get a chance to learn more about drugs and their effects, alcohol and its effects, child abuse, aids, careers for the future, values and decision making.

Current Life Issues is a class where teenagers get a better grip on what goes on in the real world. Each teenager comes across a problem or problems where he felt lost or confused, and Current Life Issues lets a person know that there's always a place to go. It's a class where students learn more about themselves and others.

There are so many problems that go in life today to where teenagers feel lost. Current Life Issues is one of those classes that tells students life's facts. Current Life Issues is a benefit to us. Many thanks goes out to Ms. Dea and Mrs. Larsen.





Yirian Trillo takes a test in Current Life, while Cherie Fountaine wonders who she can get answers from.

Guest speaker shows a video on peer pressure and how teenagers are affected.

Lisa Mosqueriola and Irene Magno stare at the clock wondering what time class will be over.

Current Life students listen to the guest speaker talks about the troubles teenagers face in today's day in age.

Nick Strange and Patrick Malone listen while Mrs. Larson speaks about the dangers of the use of drugs.

Foreign Language

How do you think foreign language will help you in the future?

If and when I do go to a Spanish speaking country it will help a lot.

— Kevin de Leon —

With more and more different nationalities coming to the U.S. it is always good to know a foreign language.

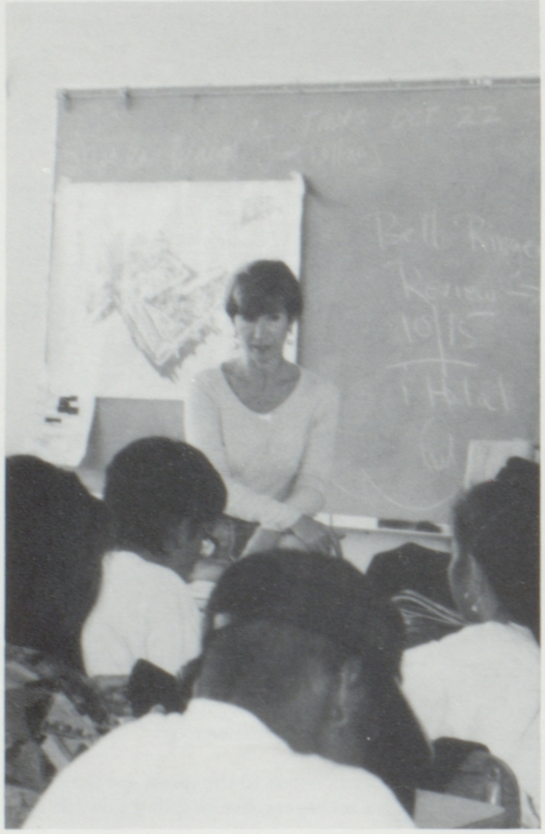
— Janice Sagar —

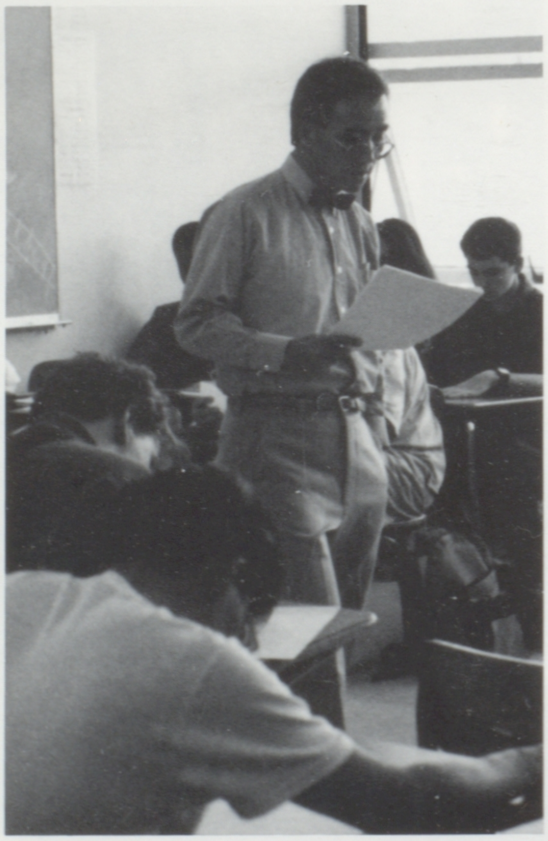
Foreign language might help in the future. If you are going into a field that requires you to know a foreign language it will definitely be a help. For those not going into a field of foreign language it might still be fun or nice to know.

— Judalon Winstead —

Pep Charusanti speaks to Jong-Mi Lee in Spanis class. He explains to the how to conjugate verbs usin appropriate gestures.

Julie Chan is "oohing" at the surprise of Lindy Pe nington studying his Spanish homework, for M Sanchez-Wright's class.



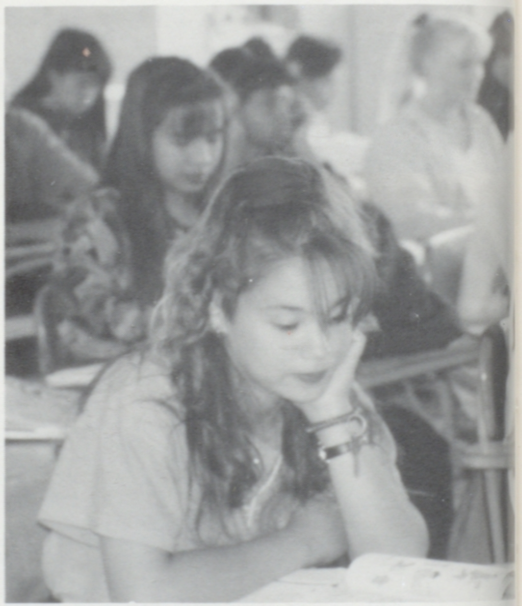


Mrs. Rubin calmly tries to teach her Spanish 1 class. She tries to explain how Spanish will help in the future, but it doesn't seem to be working.

Lisa Bentley studies the previous lesson in her Spanish 1 book while the rest of the class discusses today's test. She is trying to get some last minute studying in before the test.

Mr. Fong recites a few paragraphs in French while his students quietly work, while the construction continues outside.

Geoff Milam concentrates on what his Spanish 4 teacher just said. Mrs. Sanchez-Wright explains what they will be reading for homework tonight.



Passport To The World

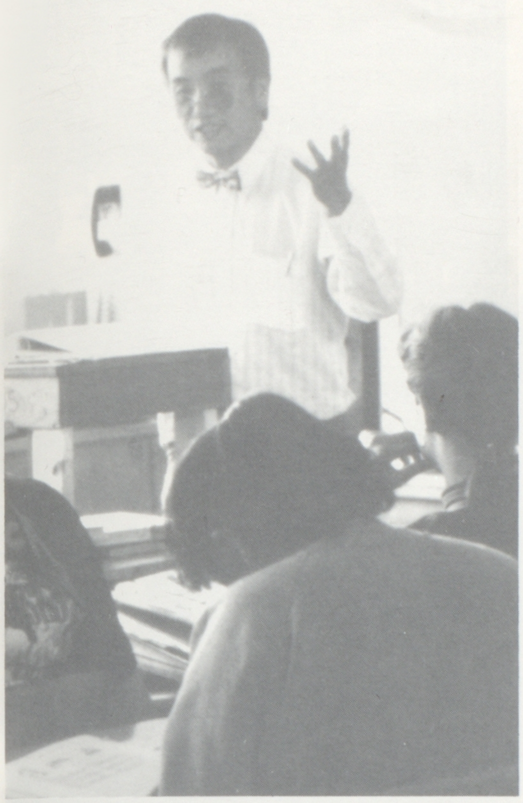
Students Find Their Passports In Foreign Language

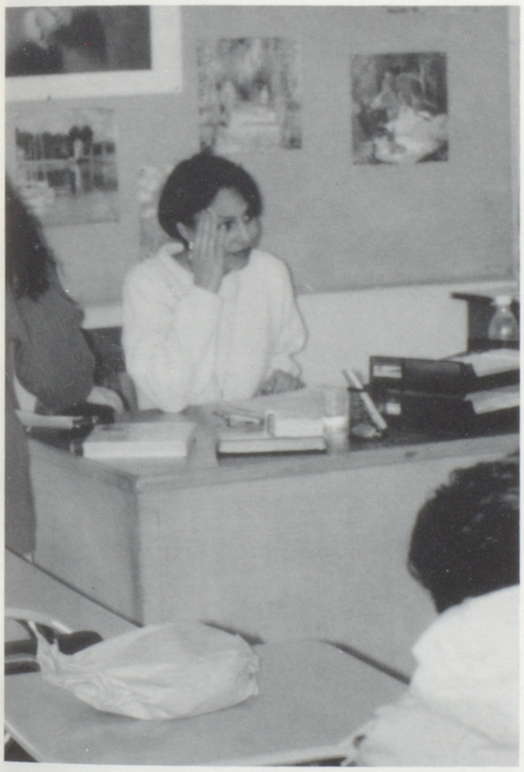
This year while 260 students were speaking Spanish another 120 were speaking French. From mere textbook exercises of Spanish and French 1 and 2 to the speeches and reading of novels in Spanish and French 3 and 4 and Spanish 5 students were as busy as can be all year long.

Students must have a certain amount of dedication to do well in their classes. Along with the students, teachers must have this dedication as well. Such teachers as Ms. Keri Spaulding, Mrs. Maria Sanchez-Wright, Ms. Jean Rubin, and Mr. Glenn Fong make learning these languages easier and more interesting.

Each day students studied the gramtical and conversational points of their language. Along with grammar and conversation, students also learned about their language through culture and background. Students were exposed to Spanish and French culture through films, slides, magazines, short stories, and class discussions. Students also experienced cultures through "Culture Days". Culture days are days such as Cinco De Mayo, Dia de la Muerte (Halloween), and La Navidad (Christmas), for Spanish students and July 14th, (French independence), for French students. On these culture days students would taste foods and sample music from French and Spanish cultures.

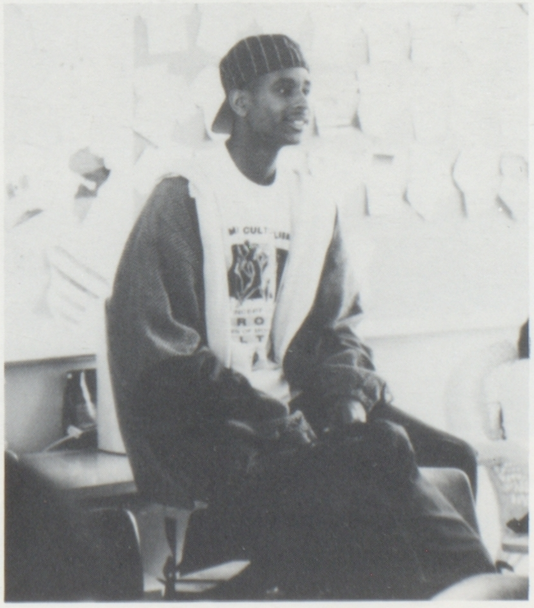
The experience of foreign language classes allowed students to experience the horizon of a foreign land.





Mr. Glenn Fong kindly suggests an easier way of making oral presentations in French class. Mr. Fong has students speak in French about what they did during the week. In this way students get the feel of speaking in French in front of people.

"Why do they have to take a picture now?" Mrs. Maria Sanchez-Wright thinks to herself, but no matter how hard she tries she will never be able to hide from "the camera man." Mrs. Sanchez-Wright is anxious to begin her AP Spanish 4 class.



Stacy Huie skims over her French notes in a desperate attempt to jog her memory of what they learned yesterday for the test today. This is a common practice for French students before a test.

Fuad Lloyd discovers the beauty of Spain through educational films shown in class. Films of Spanish-speaking countries are often shown to expand students knowledge of Hispanic cultures.

Physical Education

What was the worst part of P.E. this year?

"I did not like the punishment for not getting suited up"

— Veronica Lieuw —

"That Mrs. Budd made us run everyday of the year."

— John Villaluz —

"I did not like all the running and warm up that we had to do."

— Sheryl Giron —

What would you change about this year's P.E. Courses?

"They should not have to make us play soccer."

— Ariel Sotelo —

"I did not like the teachers so they should be changed."

— Ray Capati —

Do you think that P.E. should be a required course?

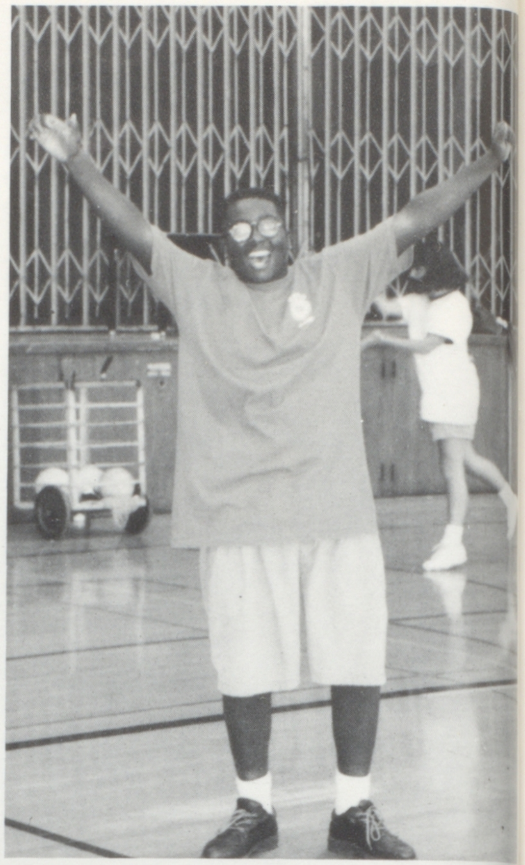
"Yes, but only for one year. People should be exposed to just a little P.E."

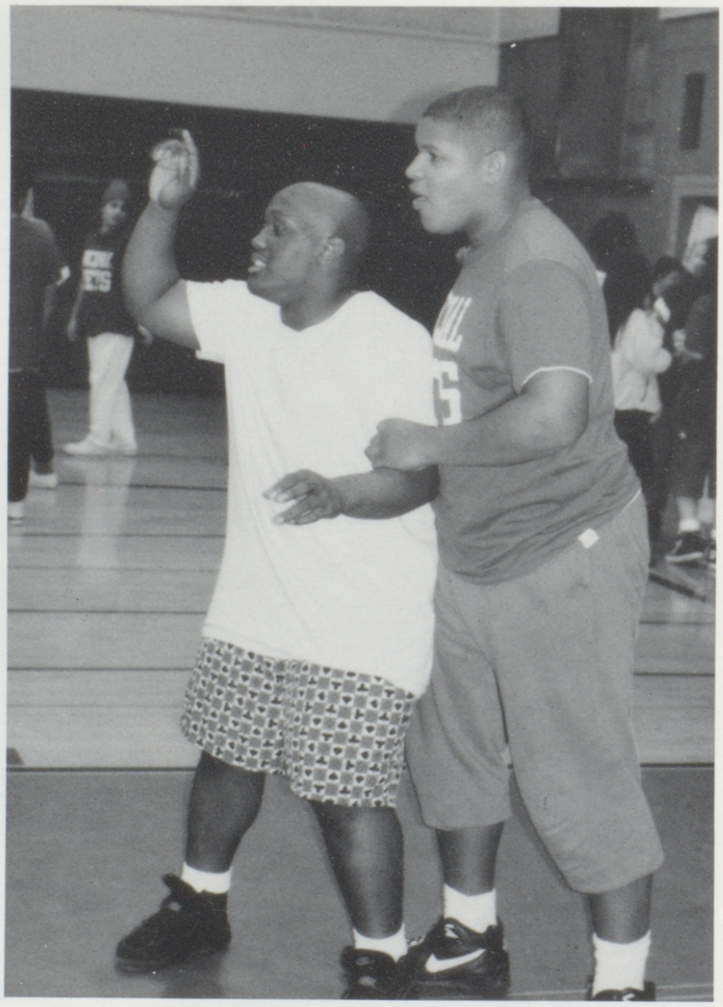
— Jordan Angle —

"No, because it would mean that you can get a class that could help you in the future if P.E. wasn't required."

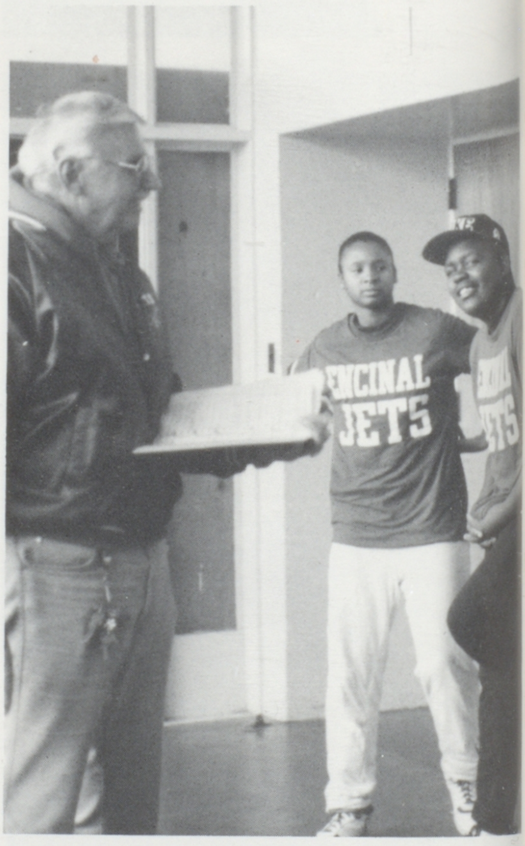
— Ann Torio —

Playing soccer requires deep concentration as Jacob Adina points out during a soccer game. Willie Stargell Field was re-sodded last year, allowing everyone to run faster and play harder.





Physical contact is a big part in the game of basketball. Kenny Hillard and LaRue Anderson demonstrate for us during a quick game.



After scoring a point in a volleyball game, Eric Lyons shows off his team spirit to the camera. The new lights in the gym certainly reflect this wining spirit too.

Coach Johns lectures Nike Alexander and John Anderson about the importance of physical education before the class starts. Roll was often taken in the hallway before the games began in either the gym or on Willie Stargell Field.

Another Physical Year

Jets Play Hard To Make The Grade

This was another year of hard playing for the Encinal High School physical education classes. Though construction was an obstacle, many students did not mind taking the long route to class.

Students kept the spirit of P.E. alive even though some courses they did not approve of. Three P.E. teachers would rotate activities due to the small, inadequate size of the school P.E. facilities. Mrs. Debbie Budd, Coach Jim Saunders and Coach David Johns had to make the best of either the swimming pool, the gym or the football field. The main activities this year were football, swimming, volleyball, tennis and basketball. When students were asked which activity they disliked most, a lot said swimming. "I do not like to get dressed," and "It takes too long to get ready afterwards," were a few of the responses. Students were also asked which activities they liked the most and said that basketball and football were the best.

This year Encinal students were also faced with a new and unusual problem. This problem was the reconstruction of the school. Both main entrances to the gym were completely blocked off due to the construction of the media center and science wing. Most students did not mind the extra long walk around the school to class, but a few had trouble getting to their next class on time. Oh the sacrifices an Encinal student must make for higher education. Hopefully, these inconveniences will pay off in the up and coming year.

Jong-Mi Lee shows off her dribbling skills as she dodges opponents to head towards the basket on the outdoor court.

Jessica Burtenshaw eagerly waits for the ball to come down from orbit during a tennis match in her P.E. class.

Perfect form is a must in a tennis game. Maritez Lastimosa shows us the correct way to strike a pose while hitting the ball. She was one of the many to "suit up" in Encinal blue and white.

Sheri Seto readily waits for the ball to be hit towards her during a volleyball game. Lynette Calilung also waits laughingly.

JROTC

What's it like to be in JROTC?

"It's challenging and tough but sometimes it's fun."

— Anthony Le —

"It's pretty fun for me; it teaches you several skills that may be helpful in the future."

— Javier Rivera —

What happens on Inspection Day?

"Every Wednesday, All cadets have to dress up in their uniforms. During their JROTC class period, the cadets fall into formation in the armory and prepare to be inspected by an ROTC officer."

— Angela Crisp —

Master Sergeant Ed Madsen inspects Michael Stout while Daniel Yohannes, Michelle Rubio and Ryan Rodriguez try to look as good as possible during Inspection.

During San Leandro's Veterans' Day Parade, members of the JROTC Colorguard team Frank Melendrez, Jimmy Loto, Tina Lee, Amity Pitts and John Mak demonstrate the perfect march.

Romer Tan, Juan Guerra, Kareem Dright, Jovita Cacho, Leilani Adviento, Philip Goodrich, Ron Legaux, Glenn Dennison and Lawrence Ingraham show their stuff at San Leandro.

Edward Pascua listens to officer Lawrence Ingraham while Armana Zeferri says to himself, "I hope he doesn't find any mistakes on me!"

Christie Peppers and Jovita Cacho stand in the ready position of attention during Inspection Day. Inspection occurred once a week on Wednesdays.

Battalion, Attention!!!

Cadets Striving For Perfection In JROTC

To motivate young people to be better Americans was the mission statement for the EHS army JROTC. In this program, cadets experienced daily life of the military. They learned to drill from stationary movements to marching with rifles. During Tuesdays and Thursdays, all cadets were lectured by their instructors on such things as map reading, the Constitution, communication skills, and more.

When the year initiated, cadets were issued uniforms that they had to wear all day for class, which happened weekly on Wednesdays. They were then questioned by their company and platoon leader on their knowledge of the JROTC program itself.

Other than the regular drilling, there were also other various extracurricular activities like Drill Team, Colorguard, Rifle Team, and Flag Detail. In Drill Team, cadets learned to sharpen their movements and perform special tricks with the rifles. While the Colorguard bears the color of the US, CA, and EHS flags. The Rifle Team practiced everyday after school and competed with other schools through mail-matches. Last, but not least, Flag Detail raised the American flag every morning at school. They did this to prepare for a competition which took place at the end of the year.

Every year, a competition was held at Encinal's gym during the month of May where each company showed off their skills in squads, individual, and platoon drill.

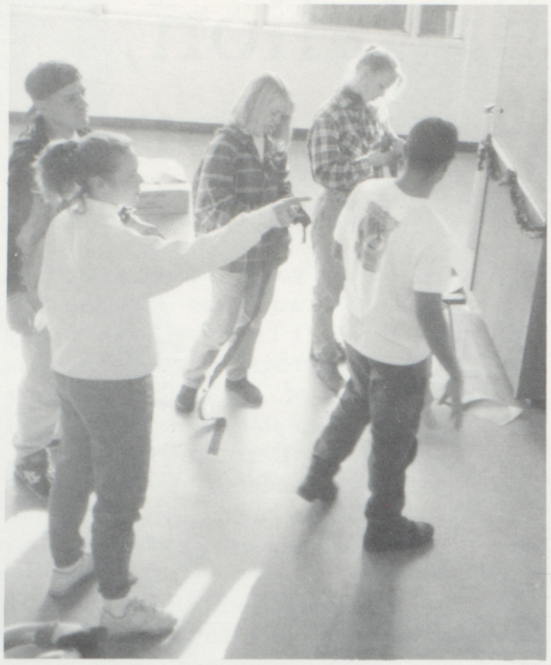
Daniel Yohannes and Ryan Rodriguez show their respect to JROTC by wearing their uniforms around school.

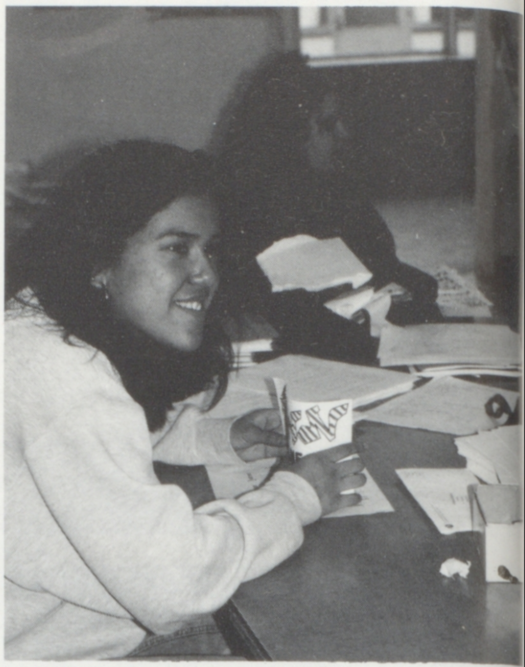
Student Government

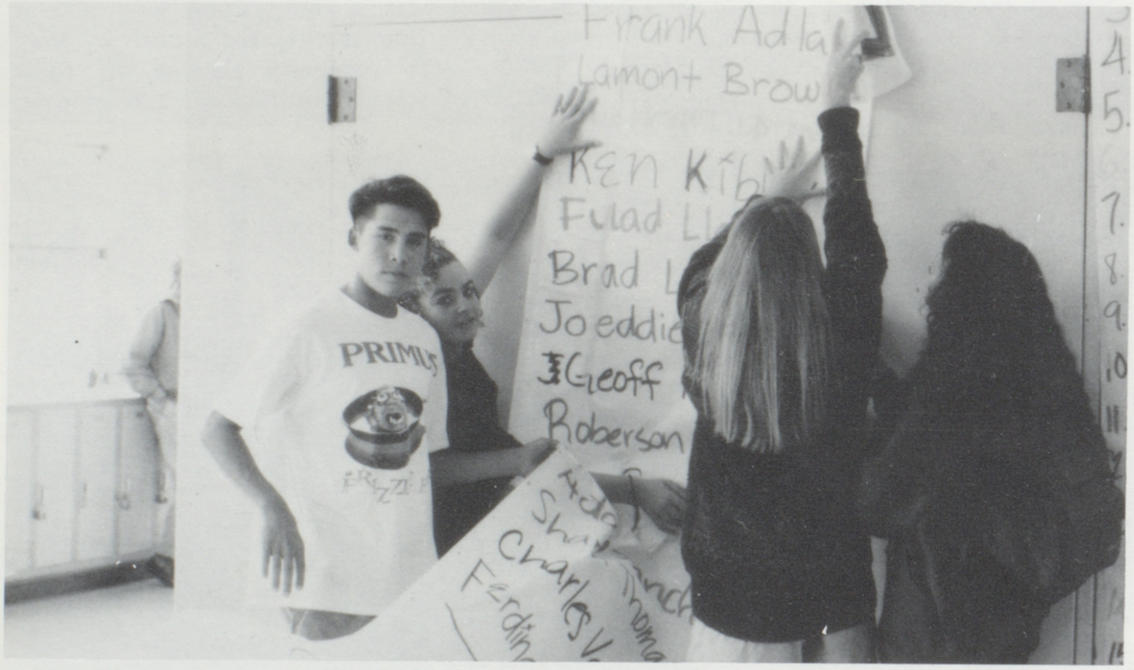
Kelly Dean and Mary Malone agree that Spirit Week went well and many students showed Jet Pride. The front lawn was used for the noontime activities.

Working hard and working together the government class spreads Christmas cheer through the air. Sarah Rasmussen, Erwin Cabarles and Kate Sonneman decorate while Monica Termini shows Steve Pacheco where Santa Claus will deliver the presents.

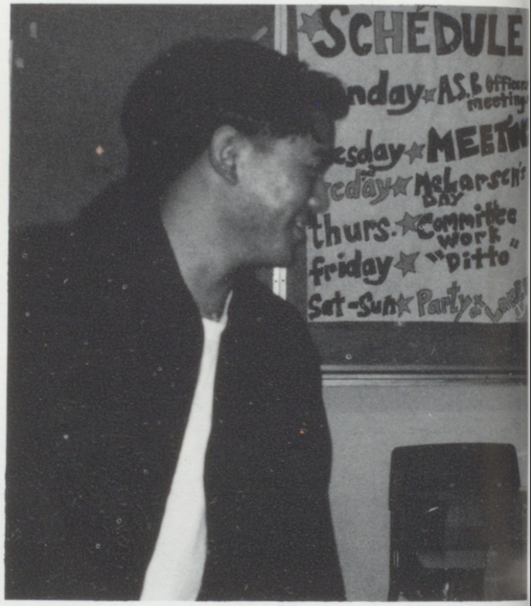


Teresa Chavez monitors the balloting for Homecoming nominations. Members of Leadership often sacrificed their lunch hours to promote school-wide functions.





Gabriel Flores, Dawn Milne, Kelly Dean and Jennifer Lee post the list of the top 15 nominations for Homecoming king in the main hall.



John Cho takes a quick look at the weekly schedule and smiles as he realizes tomorrow is a party day. After all their work days, he deserves to relax.

What makes this class different from other classes?

"We learn to work together as a whole"
— Dawn Milne —

"We run and do things that reflect the school"
— Victoria Tuchsen —

"It's all hands on; you have to learn to be with people you don't like"
— Monica Termini —

"You make your own decisions and you have lots of freedom"
— Kate Sonneman —

"In this class, you get to learn how a government runs, not from books but in physical experience. We're the government for the students here at Encinal; we try to make all students happy. We have a big responsibility to the school"
— Erwin Cabarles

Teamwork Is The Key

The Nation's Next Leaders

The government class is in a class of their own. With the organization of students which is known as A.S.B., the Associated Student Body. It's set up like a real counciling panel board with a president, vice president, secretary, treasurer, spirit commissioner, and publicity officer. There are also senate seats. The government class had a meeting every Tuesday to talk about upcoming events such as food sales, assemblies, and dances. Victoria Tuchsen and Marie Leasure has been in this class every since their freshman year. Victoria said "This class is fun but sometimes Mrs. Larsen-Freedman can be a pain." Mrs. Larsen-Freedman has been instructing this class for years and loves it. She says, "This is a good elective, and every school should have a class like this."

Lots of students love this class but they say that no one really understands all the work they do. In this class it's not all fun and games. The members of this class had to read announcements on Tuesday and Thursday mornings, create spirit days, date the dances and assemblies, decorate halls, sell student body cards, and attend leadership meetings at other schools.

To join this class all they needed was a 2.0 grade point average and willingness to work with others and get the job done.

Sarah Rasmussen pieces together the student body cards in 5th period student government class, taught by Mrs. Janis Larsen-Freedman

Lou Rivera, the secretary of the government class, makes an appointment with SoundkWest Productions for upcoming dance at E.H.S. while she is going down a check list.

"Joy to the World" is sung by the government class in unison, while Jennifer Lee, Dawn Milne, Kelly Dean, and Monica Termini decorate the Christmas tree for the holidays. John Cho asks anyone for hot cocoa.

Melanie Hawkins and Jovy Burgos work hard and quickly to keep order among the 1000's of kids at Encinal to take school pictures and receive ID cards.

Language Acquisition

Students Speak In Many Tongues

English as a Second Language came into its own this year at Encinal. By becoming an independent department, the special needs of second language students were identified and served. Approximately 15% of EHS students were enrolled in English Language Development classes and Sheltered content courses in History, Math, Science and English. Over two thirds of the student body had a language other than English spoken at home.

Many clubs to promote culture and language awareness were active this school year. Students also helped others through peer tutoring, which was held for one hour after school 4 days a week during second semester. The primary language peer tutors were Masooda Hamidi - Farsi/Dari, Nadia Hamidi-Farsi/Dari, Malalai Noori-Farsi-Dari, Ruel de la Cuesta - Tagalog, Amy Yuen - Cantonese, Javier Rivera - Spanish, Gladys Campbell - Spanish, and Mai Lee - Vietnamese.

Busy with group work, Miguel Lopez, Jessica Castillo and Julissa Castillo create their poster of Huck Finn's journey. Sheltered English 3 covered American Literature with lots of hands-on activities.

Mary Chung and Thelma Chung color their poster to illustrate one of the short stories they read in Sheltered English. They later orally presented their interpretation to their classmates.

Tom Chung and Huy Le check their notebooks before they take a test in Ms. Anderson's Sheltered section of Physical Science. Both are also enrolled in Intermediate ELD and Sheltered English 2 with Mrs. Susan Scott.

Mrs. Heidi Chang assists Abobaker Kohgadai review his assignment. Mrs. Chang, who speaks Japanese, Cantonese, and Taiwanese, was one of six bilingual paraprofessionals serving Encinal.

Juniors

Javier Rivera shows perfect kneeling position as he grasps the air rifle tightly, peering down through the sight, and putting a piece of lead straight through it for ten points on the rifle range.

Andi Fernandez savors her piece of candy, while paying attention to Marife Melendez, who tries to pull herself together to recite the funny names of the important features on a bone.

The Junior Class Of 1994

Juniors On The Cutting Edge

Juniors Breeze To The Top With Determination

The class of 1994 came back on the cutting edge with much enthusiasm and pride. They started the year with food and candy sales, which made a profit of three hundred and seventy-five dollars. Their spirit and imagination brought them to a wonderful thought for a homecoming skit entitled "The twisted World of Makebelieve."

The juniors did an unbelievable job of turning a dull and bare upstairs hall into an unimaginable world come true. The creative minds of the juniors brought many different characters into one. Alison Dea, Teresa Chi, Rose Kim, Hyacinth Carcallas and Christy Sotelo showed their funky style playing the seven dwarfs while dancing to "Real Love." Of course, hats off go to Andi and Lisa Fernandez for playing the role of Snow White and not to mention the wicked witch, played by John Crum. Over forty juniors participated in making the 1992 junior skit for the homecoming assembly. A homecoming to remember.

During spirit week, the juniors placed second in the noon time events, by playing such games as musical chairs. The juniors created an original chant that will never be forgotten.

"Freshman come and seniors go, but the dopiest class is ninety-foe . . . Jr. class rock the house Jr. class rock the house . . . if your ready to rock and you want some sore, everybody in the house scream ninety-four!"

Juniors had so much spirit, in the spirit link competition they beat out the seniors, sophomores and freshman by selling over 300 links. Hyacinth Carcallas, class president, quoted, "The class spirit of 1994 will never die or be forgotten." As each year passes, the class of 1994's ideas and imaginations reaches new heights to make their class as unforgettable as possible. Through the year, the juniors were determined to keep up the hard work in raising money and having more juniors participate in school activities. Their main goal is to let everyone know that the class of 1994 will always be remembered not only as a class, but as a family that will work together to make a better future for the juniors in the on coming year. The juniors have set their minds on raising five thousand dollars by June of '93. When asked how this money was to come about, the class president stated that they're going to have sales every other Thursday.

It's not all fun and games for the junior class. In October, over 60 students took the P.S.A.T. , and during the spring of '93 juniors buckled down to do the S.A.T. testing. The best of luck goes to the class of 1994 for a bright and adventurous year ahead of them.

What do you think about your junior year?

"I think my Junior year was a little bit of a struggle, but yet very exciting."
— Stephanie Yee —

"My junior year was one of the best years of school."
— Armel Abalos —

"I want to say hi to all my friends even though I won't be here next year remember me always, and how much, we had our Junior year."
— Belinda Marques —

"My junior year was the year I got to learn more about my friends, and that I'll always love them. They know who they are."
— Debbie Claro —

"My junior year was alright, I got a chance to meet new people."

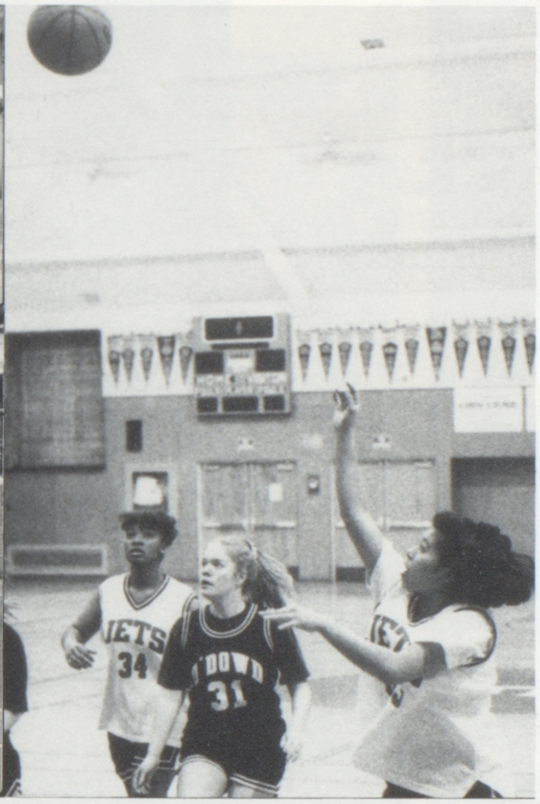
Athletics

Oh what a feeling! Michelle Pangilinan jumps up and down while waving her tennis racket during a girls tennis match at Encinal after hitting a winning shot down the line of the court for a point.

Jason Hiner and Coach Blum sit anxiously along the side of the pool watching their fellow teammates move in for the kill in a very close water polo game.



Hyacinth Carcallas gets some serious hang time as she pops the basketball in the hoop for an easy two-point basket against Bishop O'dowd.

Ready set Hike! At the big game Ian Dewey places the football for Joe Sanchez. Before Ian can settle himself, the ball has already been kicked for an extra point.

Keep your head on the ball. Shannon Bobb was the recipient of a great pass, which she played off her head and into the goal for a spectacular point.

Gut Check

Jets Endure Mentally Tough Season

Encinal's Varsity Football team got off to a gruesome 0-3 start from preseason. Encinal's first game was season opener against Piedmont at Piedmont which the Jets lost 28-0. The next game was against our cross-town rival Alameda High which the All Mighty Jets won 20-13. In this game the Jets showed the true meaning of Jet Pride. And also won the respect of the town. The Jets held the state's leading rusher last year Dan Nyguen to just 113 yards rushing, which went on to be the least amount of yards allowed by any other opponent.

Due to our great defense headed by senior Nate Jaramillo and Chris Campbell, the Encinal Jets also went on to win their next game against Albany. The Jets again won due to the defense and some fine offensive plays. The Jets then went on their next four remaining games losing to Richmond, JFK of Richmond, Bishop O' Dowd, and St. Mary's. The Jets' record in league went to 2-5 for the season and 2-8 over all. The Jets' season had a lot of highlights during the year. The best one coming in the Jets' final game against the St. Mary's Panther's. Encinal's quarterback Ian Dewey passed for 269 yards. 169 yards went to wide receiver Kevin Baker "the touchdown maker." The season also proved to be a good one for senior running back Lamont Brown. The season was tough, but a great learning experience for the young players. This team will be awesome come next year.

Limus Curry runs for a big gain against Albany, a Bobby Hamilton and Chris Campbell try to lead block.

Kevin Leota, defensive tackle, looks to make a tackl on Albany's running back in Encinal's win over Albany.

Chad Jones #22, Sophomore runs through the hol for a big gain as he leaves the opposing team in th dust.

Joe Sanchez #10 returns a kickoff against De Anza as Donny Watson #24 looks to lead block for a big gain.

Jeremy Long and Jimmy Williams tackle Albany's running back. Sharif Thomas helps in pursuit of the tackle.

Nate Jarrimillo #34, Robert Bresler #55 and Jamaal Pete #38 look to make the tackle on the ball carrier.

Varsity Football

High Hopes For Next Season

Although they had a rough start at the beginning of the season, the junior varsity and freshman football teams smoothed it out at the end. With a record of 2-5 for league and 4-6 for the season the baby jets proved that they can become varsity prospects. Leading the J.V. team to victory, quarterback Kyle Collins handles the air attack, while ground attack was led by their top runner, Kariem McFarlin. Kariem led the team with 9 touch downs. With coaches Mr. Don Grant and Mr. Russ Lumpkin, the J.V.'s almost beat the undefeated St. Mary's.

The true meaning of jet pride goes to the 13 freshmen who stayed on the freshman team, overcoming fears and injuries to play St. Mary's. The freshman team was having difficulties getting to practice, but they still found a way to win the majority of their games with a record of 4-3. Offensive captain Shane Rivera, who made 13 touchdowns this season, said that the coaches, Mr. Bill Harper and Mr. John Oldham did a great job with all the new players.

Water Dogs

Water Polo Team Knows When To Score

It was a sensational season for the Jet Bombers of the water. With great team work and improving players, that's a team headed towards the North Coast Playoffs.

The Varsity season came out with a 16-18 record, playing the best teams in and out of their league. The team came out with top ranks at many of their tournaments; 5th at the Novato Tournament, 4th at Armijo, 2nd at DeAnza, and 2nd at the ESAL Championships. But at the North Coast Invitational, the Varsity team came in 14th. The Varsity water polo team was led by Captains Ciaran Ennis and Isaac Irvine. Ciaran Ennis had set the scoring record for a season with 110 goals. Goalie, Chris Brooks, Most Improved Player also had a sensational season with many fantastic blocks. A great bench also gave the Jet water polo team much help. Patrick Malone, Player of the Year, was one of those amazing players of the bench.

The JV water polo season was also very exceptional. For the first time in Jet water polo history, the JV captain position was filled by a female by the name of Alanna McKean. Along with the superb playing skills of Steve Wilson and Ben McNeil, the JV team had a season they'll never forget.

What is Water Polo to most? It's Hard work, High hopes, Team work, and many other things. But all in all, it's just plain fun in the water.

Playoffs?

Lady Jets Go 5-0

Salesian, Alameda, Holy Names, Kennedy and Albany High Schools all have something in common. They were all stepping stones for the Lady Jets Volleyball team towards a 5-0 start. This start was made possible by returning varsity players: Senior Andrea Tenorio, Juniors: Andi Fernandez, Lisa Fernandez and Teri Schmitz and Sophomores: Rizalyn Esteban and Judalon Winstead. These players with the leadership of new head-coach Orrin Hasal proved to be tough competition for the rest of the league. Andrea Tenorio the only senior on the team served as team captain, bringing leadership and experience when she stepped on the court.

The Junior Varsity team almost had a start as great, they started the season with four wins. They lost a tough match against Albany two games to one. They too had a new coach in Diana Richardson. Feliza Cruz is quoted as saying, "She was not only a wonderful, hardworking coach but that she also was everyone's friends." The starting team consisted of Juniors: Julissa Castillo, Jessica Castilo, Maryann Piatos and Pamela Sanchez, Sophomores: Kim Sablan and Charlene Michael. At the end of the season they finished with an 11-3 record.

As for the varsity team they finished with an 8-6 record. This was good enough to get them into the E.S.A.L. playoffs. This news wasn't given to most of the players until the day of their first match. Due to injury Andi Fernandez was unable to play, and Andrea Tenorio was out of town and could not play either. With the absence of these players the Lady Jets still gave the St. Elizabeth Mustangs a fight. Jet Volleyball players eventually lost the four game match with scores 15-1, 15-10, 10-11, 1-15 and 15-10. Due to their fast start they were invited to the N.C.S. playoffs. They declined the invitation though.

After it was all over Rizalyn Esteban was named all-league and Andi Fernandez as an all-league honorable mention.

First-year player Tania Tostevin quickly gives the camera a smile as she bumps the ball.

Team Captain Andrea Tenario goes air- born for kill.

Which team gave you the most competition during the season?

"St. Joseph because we played 2 out of 3 games with them and we won with close scores."

A Long Road

The Journey That Never Ends

Another year of cross-country has come and gone, yet it left behind some good memories for a few, fourteen to be exact.

Many old-time runners returned, such as Tia Denny, Teresa Hurst and Geoff Milam. There were some new runners who decided to give it a shot and a few were Kelly Dean, Monica Termini and Kara Navradszky.

The team was lead by the new coach Mr. William Abromitis and the returning coach Mr. Dennis Knights. Practices began in August, and each one lasted an hour and a half. On Mondays the coaches put the team through some grueling workouts on the dirt trails of Joaquin Miller Park, amongst the hills. Other workouts consisted of intervals to allow runners to improve their speed and long runs which were six to nine miles. Many of the practices took place in — and around Crab Cove.

Amy Yuen and Jennifer Schleininger made All League; they make it look so easy. Although the boys and girls teams each won only one race, everyone gave it their best effort and shared a common goal which was crossing the finish line.

Swinging Away

Hopeful Newcomers

After school during the fall, girls swung away at tennis balls and practiced serves as well as other tennis fundamentals. Missing from the courts was long-time coach Alan Rebensdorf. This void was replaced by Mrs. Debbie Budd. With strong play coming from the number one seeded Sophomore Florence Young, newcomer and number two seeded Jong Mi Le, and Seniors Elizabeth Chi and Dawn Costales, the Lady Jets finished the season with 5 team victories. This was more victories than the previous two Lady Jets Varsity teams combined.

Taking over has head coach for the men was Kevin Beale. he was a former number two player for Encinal several years ago. Besides losing Coach Rebensdorf, the team lost four of last year's five singles players due to graduation. The lone returner was Ruben Tilos. He was joined by a strong new comer in Chris Tam. Those two accompanied by returning doubles player Dan Nagy played at the top three seeds. Many freshman and a few sophomore players made up the rest of the jets Varsity Tennis Team.

Both teams were quite young especially the mens team that consisted of no seniors. Both have up and coming players that will hopefully improve their games and bring many victories next season.

Hot Shots

Jumpin' To A New Beat!

What a step up from last year! This year's Varsity Boys Basketball was cooking it's new brew. That is, they were making their way to the top. The way they were going to accomplish this is that they have "Jet Pride!"

So, what's it going to be: a free-throw by Andre Lockett, a dunk from Robeson Perry, no! An under the hoop by Herb Taylor. Yes, this is Varsity Boys Basketball at its best. Some of the players like Manuel Enriquez, Jamaal Pete, and George Enriquez are really into the game. Getting bashed into the wall or stuck on the rim were the most common play actions. Nobody knows what going to happen next, if they did there would be no fun to the game.

Passing and three-pointers would be kept by Brad Lodge. Let's Cheer them on, hopefully they would make the winning point. If we win were happy, if we lose we still got "Jet Pride." We would like the team to do some fancy stuff, but you take what you can get. Nothing is too fancy for our Varsity Boys Basketball team.

Out of the whole year they have jump in and out to get the point. So all we've got to say is "GO JETS!"

Varsity Basketball

What do you like about EHS boys varsity basketball?

"Hurt, because of low grades."

Tip-Off

Jets Have Up 'n Down Year

According to Webster's Dictionary, the definition of basketball is a game that takes coordination and the ability to toss a ball over a hoop into a suspended net. Well, they did just that. But they were not able to make anything of it.

The J.V. game against Alameda was not able to produce a victory when they lost to a turn-over with just 5 seconds left, 56-55. They also had more trouble against St. Joseph when they were blown away 62-11.

But the Freshman team had more success against St. Joseph where, even though they lost, they played an amazing four over-times before losing to the Pilots, 69-68. Eugene Cabrera came away with a game-high of 30 points in that game. But another game for the Freshmen team to remember was the one against Bishop O'Dowd. Eugene Cabrera's 28 points and Shane Rivera's 11 points gave Encinal its first victory over the Dragons.

Even though this season wasn't the best, Eugene Cabrera and Shane Rivera should give next year's basketball team something to be proud of.

Shoot The Hoop

Building For Future

This year the Girls Varsity Basketball team didn't do as well as they were expected to do. But they came a long way by helping each other on the court. This year's Varsity team had 6 wins and 12 losses. The season started off with new faces on the team and two new coaches, Angela Ayers Varsity coach and Ed Blom Junior Varsity coach. The coaches were a lot stricter this year and very serious when it came to Basketball.

The best game that the Varsity team played was against Piedmont, because they played as a team and not as individuals. And in the game where they were highly favored to win, they lost to our school rival Alameda High in what turned out to be the most upsetting game of the season. "The next year and the year of the '95 graduates will have a very determined and intense team," Quotes Rizalyn Esteban.

The Junior Varsity team had a tough year but came a long way and learned a lot. They won 2 and lost 19 but really worked as a team on the court and helped each other out by talking and keeping their spirits high.

So for all you Basketball freaks who didn't get to play this year don't forget there's always next year. Let's help those lady JETS soar to the top!!!

Spirit Leaders

What inspired you to become a cheerleader?

"I figured that this was my last year and I wanted to contribute something to the school. It was the hardest method of showing my school spirit."
-Nikita Holloway-

"I had to kick it with my patnas one last time and Jenn and I had a plan. Plus I refused to leave this school without being Head."
-Charetta Long-

"I enjoyed dancing and cheerleading was a way to combine that with school spirit."
-Sarah Rasmussen-

"I had lots of fun with my buddy Charetta, and its the only way that's fun that I could show my school spirit."
-Jennifer Williams-

"Cause I wanted to show my school spirit."
-Tara Delong-

"It was fun and I just wanted to do it. And Steffy said it would be cool."
-Shannon Babb-

"My friend told me it would be fun."
-Michell Chase-

"I wanted to wear the uniform. I loved my squad, they were fun. Also because of the way they were portrayed in movies."
-Shawn Moreland-

Dee-Dee Hollingsworth encourages crowd participation. Dee-Dee was a full-time cheerleader, being on both the J.V. football and Varsity basketball lines.

Pep Squad Soars

The 1992 EHS spirit squad began the season with a mixture of enthusiasm and inspiration. Not only for the players, but for the crowds as well. Even though the Jets experienced a less than glamorous year, the "Spiriters" maintained their energy and eased the losses with some good old-fashioned fun.

Led by Melanie Hawkins, the Football Squad danced the half-time away to such grooves as "Jump" by Kriss Kross. They performed in assemblies and sold Friendship Grams to help ease the cost of the uniform. The 1992 Football Squad was definitely a crowd favorite.

The '92-'93 Basketball Squad returned to light up the evenings and engulf the audience into an exciting season. Led by Charetta Long, the cheerleaders danced to the tunes of "Rumpshaker/remix". When times were tough for the Basketball team, the Spirit Leaders maintained their smiles and those of the supporters.

Both squads' shining efforts were reflected in the compliments received from audience members here and away. Not only were we number 1, but we looked good too!

Familiar faces in the crowd. Mrs. Theresa Tenorio and Ms. Jean Wood, cheer advisor, attended almost all the athletic events to support the cheerleaders as well as the teams.

Pinning A Great Season

The Encinal Wrestling team had a great year. The Encinal High Wrestling team was headed by Seniors Ian Dewey, Steve Pacheco, Isaac Irvine, and Efren Llacer. The wrestler's had an Impressive start, in the Bob Brozan tournament, EHS placed 5 wrestlers with Ian Dewey taking first at 152 pounds. Efren Llacer taking 2nd at 135 pounds. Steve Pacheco and Isaac Irvine taking fifth with Pacheco at 160 and Irvine at 112 pounds. Sophomore Jimmy Loto taking sixth at 119 pounds. The team captains Isaac Irvine and Jimmy Loto headed the team to a great season. At the Las Lomas Invitational the Jets got impressive matches from the whole team, which gave them a third place finish and came one team point away from second. They finished third behind San Leandro 2nd and De la Salle 1st.

Ian Dewey placed first at every tournament and took first at league meet, and took 5th at North Coast. The team in league meets was 4 and 2. Its two losses came against defending champions Miramonte and 2nd place finishers last year Alhambra. The Jets had a great season. Wrestlers look forward to next year will be: Robert Bresler, Jimmy Loto, Joe Pacheco, Davey Health, Willie Johnson, and Wesly New. Look for Encinal to be a top contender next year.

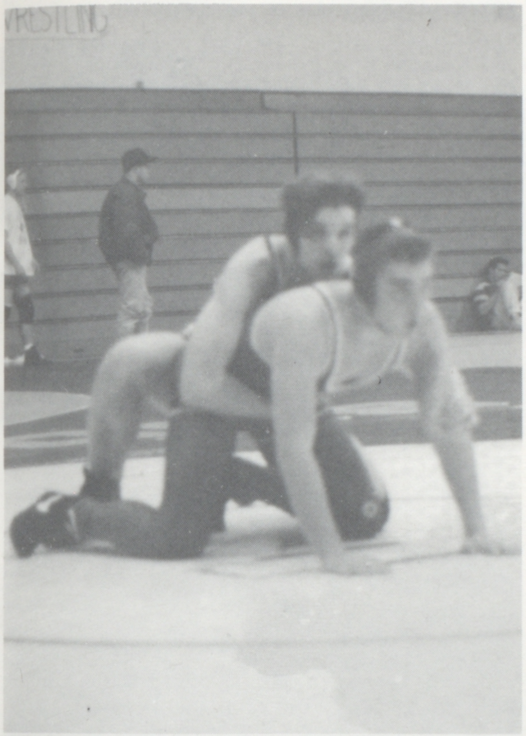
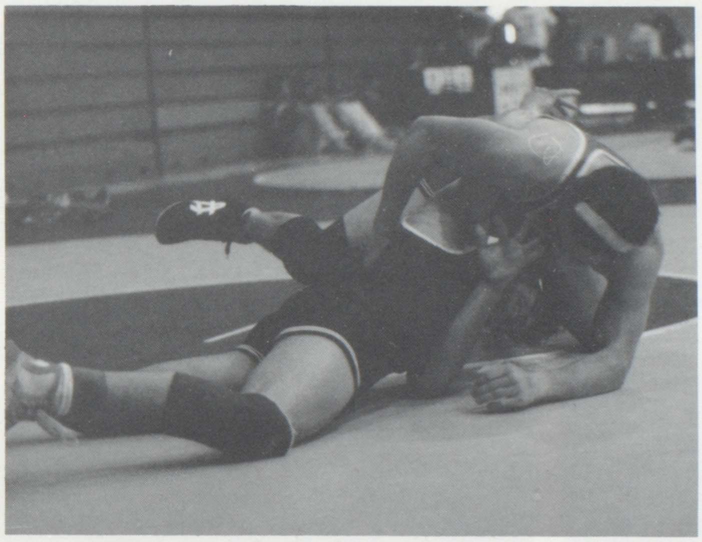
Wesley New takes bottom, just to take a chance at an escape and another point.

Steve Pacheco tries to keep his opponent's back down to the mat for a pin.



Efren Llacer tries to pin his man with all his might. And after one, two, three, Efren gets another pin to add to his record.



Which was your most memorable wrestling match?

"My First match against Alhambra. 'Cause I had only been to practice one week. I took him down twice, and he's the best in the League."

— Robert Bresler —

"My Third match at North Coast. There were 5 seconds left, and I needed a takedown to win. I took him down and won the match and advanced to the next round."

— Steve Pacheco —

"My match against Scanlon of Miramonte. Because it was a tough match even though I lost. It taught me a few things and made me a better wrestler."

— Efren Llacer —

"My finals match at the Piner Tournament. I was losing 5-0 in the first period but came back to win 11-9."

— Ian Dewey —

Hang Tough

Scoring To The Playoffs?

The 1992-93 Jet Soccer season was full of wins, losses, goals and saves. All in all the Jets proved that they could blow out some of their competition and hang tough with the best teams in the league.

The Girls Varsity Team had a victorious season lead by captains Malaika Fisher and Kate Sonneman. Both brought years of experience and leadership on the field. The Lady Jets rose from ESAL placing of fifth from the previous season to a top three finish this season. The offense was hurt with the loss of strong players due to injuries, yet the potent defensive line made up of Katie Rudloff, Kelly Dean, Gina Termini, and goalie Malaika Fisher proved to be too much for some teams. Last year's MVP Charlene Michael continued to dominate games with her offensive and defensive skills.

Second-year co-captain Arnaldo Soriano shared leadership roles with first year co-captain Zaid Rahmani. Soriano lead the offensive attack while Rahmani and Patrick Malone platooned at the goalie position to gather an overwhelming number of saves. Mansoor Rahmani played great defense throughout the season. Even though the Mens Varsity team slid in the standings, they were a tough team to be reckoned with. Next year looks to be an even greater year because many players will return for the Jets. With the Lady Jets on the rise, and the Mens team coming back with many returning players, next season might bring a play-off berth.

Senior Ciaran Ennis uses his head to pass the ball to Junior Miguel Lopez-Panama who is on the run towards a goal. Neither played last season but both stood their ground with the veterans.

Senior Arnaldo Soriano steals the ball away from a fellow opponent. Arnaldo was co-captain for the Jets Varsity Soccer team for the second year in a row. He was a potent offensive threat on the field.

Senior Kate Sonneman looks to the sidelines for words of wisdom. She served as co-captain and a veteran new players could look up to. She has been on the soccer team since her freshman year.

After a hard and challenging game at Willie Stargell Field, members of the girls soccer team, Shannon Babb, Katie Rudloff, Kate Sonneman, Angelia Bennett, Charlene Michael, Teri Schmitz and Kelly Dean shake hands and congratulate the opposing team on a game well played.

Soccer

Sophomore Shannon Babb, Junior Lisa Fernandez and Sophomore Jessica Burtenshaw battle a Skyline player for the ball on the muddy Willie Stargell Field. Both Lisa and Jessica are returning players.

Junior Jacob Adina dribbles the ball the length of the field towards scoring another goal. Jacob is a returning player who added another aspect to the Jets offense.

Senior Malaika Fisher for the first time as a Jet soccer player ran the field. She is the Jets starting goalie who made a cameo appearance at mid-field. The results were positive, she scored a goal.

Sophomore Charlene Michael shows her agility by stopping on the dime. Last year she was the Lady Jets most valuable player. Opponent's coaches' refer to her as a dominating force.

What was the worst thing about this soccer season?

"The worst thing about the soccer season was the way our games kept getting canceled due to rain. Doesn't Rick Schmitt know that soccer can be played in the rain?"
-Anonymous-

"The worst thing about soccer was that we had a lot of potential, but we lost offense. Go defense!"

Field Of Talent

Pulling-off a great season was the goal of this year's baseball teams. Varsity was 4-2-1 at the time of this report and averaging nine runs a game.

Coming into the season as underdogs, the Varsity team scored sixteen runs against Acalanes.

With no more information at this time, here is a list of players from the Varsity team.

Catcher Eric Penrose possesses power that can carry the team to the play-offs.

Pitcher Adam Sanchez carries a personality that will pull Varsity into the play-offs.

Jimmie Rollings is a young superstar with consistent hitter and a strong defense.

Bobby Williams is a main hope for next year because of his consistent hitting with adequate defense.

Daniel Hoover is a consistent power hitting looking for a chance to become a great all-around player.

Sharif Thomas returns as a strong leader of the team.

Derek Huddleston is an under-rated player with a strong bat.

Jeremy Lang is a hopeful of the future who needs a good year to help Jets into the play-offs.

Nathan Jaramillo is a decent ball player who looks for walks at the plate.

John Cho is an out-fielder stuck behind the plate. Hitter of the future.

Although not enough is known to predict the success of the Jets. Baseball teams, all the talent written here shows that they have a chance of being #1 contenders.

Varsity second baseman Bobby Williams positions his feet while he waits for the ball from the left fielder.

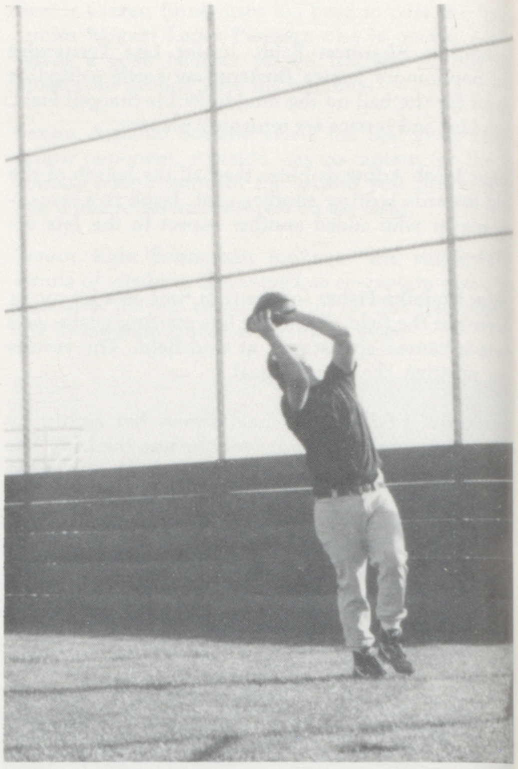
Getting a pre-practice stretch, Sharif Thomas and Adam Sanchez chat about field conditions. They say it's hard work maintaining a yard.

J.V. pitcher Jason Trascher is all laughs as he prepares to pitch for the season-opener on the Willie Stargell baseball field.

"Hey coach, the sun is in my eyes," says Eric Penrose as he tries to catch a pop in the catcher's position.



Jimmie Williams shows-off some moves to Kyle Collins as he adjusts to the hot climate.

Baseball

"I don't think we have practice today "says Adam Sanchez as he talks to Jeff Mandigal, and Aldo Bermudez and Kyle Collins.

Lining up for ground balls, #15, Sharif Thomas takes steps to advance the ball back to the second baseman.

Fly Girls

League Of Their Own

There was an unexpected turn out this year for softball try-outs. Many girls signed up and then little by little they dropped out. Tryouts were more difficult because we had to play on the black top for almost two weeks. All this was due to a vast amount of rain. When we finally got to our home field, at Washington Park it was full of mud.

But try-outs are behind us and we started league games March 17. The odds were against us when we played our pre-season games against teams of a higher division. But we came out with three wins and three losses. Two of these wins consisted of great come backs on our part. During the game against Grant we were tied 8-8 in the bottom of the seventh when Camellia Millet-Lau came up to bat and ripped a homerun bringing Melissa Milam in also.

The seniors on the team are Andrea Tenorio 1st base, April Gandara left field, and Stacie Huey 2nd base. The pitchers this year are Teri Schmitz who is returning and Melody Ramirez. All of who are assets to our team. It looks as if the Jets softball team is headed for a winning season.

Perfection

Paddling To Great Rewards

During the wee hours of morning many students were fast asleep. But, approximately March through May, several swimmers were jumping into a pool at 6 a.m. Yes, there were a brave few who got out there and faced the elements head on.

Workouts were held five days a week for an hour to an hour and a half each. Unfortunately sixth period P.E. was not available this year, so swimming began at 3 p.m. During workouts the swimmers used, paddles, buoys, kick boards and fins to help develop strength in various areas.

Coaches Jerry Cvecko and assistant coach Neil Santo Domingo lead the forty or so swimmers rain or shine through both wins and losses. There was the annual evening of bingo in which Cvecko hoped to raise money to purchase more team bags and parkas. With the help of the team, several hundred dollars were raised.

Swimming back and forth day after day gets to be a little tedious, so to entertain themselves, teammembers sang songs together. Sometimes a stereo was turned on at the side of the pool to add to the continuous sound of moving water. It is said that many preferred the stereo to the sounds of team members singing. Of course it depended upon who you asked.

The team worked hard and continuously, which helped them accomplish a lot during the season. They gave it their best effort despite the losses of several swimmers who had graduated.

More Than Meets The Eye

For many years, badminton was not considered a "real" sport. Guess what? Would you think that an event that is on the Olympics is a sport? Yes, badminton is in the Olympics.

Badminton consists of a lot of footwork plus hand-and-eye coordination. The team is usually found in the school gym from about 3-5:30 working movements such as: dinking, slamming, clearing.

Through hours of hard work, and through the supervision of Coach Jerry Ludy, the team was off to face other schools. Teams from schools such as Arroyo, Berkeley, Kennedy, and Richmond were challenged by our team.

Though badminton is in the Olympics, the EHS team was not granted a sports budget to work with. Money to re-string the rackets, buy trophies, and other accessories came from the sales where team members roamed the school to sell candy.

At the end of the year came the big play-off with the faculty of Encinal. The team got to humiliate the teachers and visa versa. As well, there was an end-of-the-year pizza party to honor the team.

"Yes, because true athletes are playing."
— Diem De —

"Why not? It's a great sport, it's fun, and it's on the Olympics."
— Aubrey Lau —

"Yes, because it's fun to play and it is like playing tennis."
— Joy Querubin —

"Yes, people might say that it's a wimpy sport and all, but like most sports, badminton requires skill, hand to eye coordination and a good sportsmanship, and it's really fun."

Track/Field

What was the hardest part about track?

"The hardest part about track for me was the conditioning and the preparation before each track meet."

— Chadric Jones —

"The first week of practice was the hardest part because of the conditioning and all the running."

— Yvette Castellanos —

"The strenuous training and exercise that Abro and Grant put me through. But the exercises are worth your time and effort."

— Jeremy Quinones —

"The hardest part about track was when I had to quit because of my injured knee."

— Donny Watson —

Yvette Castellanos smiles for the camera. She's suppose to be practicing the form for throwing the shot put. Posing for the camera is a way to take a break. Her average throw has been about 30 feet.

Split Second

Run Faster, Jump High

After starting the season off with a terrible accident, that everyone learned from, the track team manage to keep their feet on the dusty path ahead. A freshman, Andrew Pesco, on the J.V. team died of heart failure at a practice track meet against Fremont. While some players left the track team, many decided to stay on and dedicated this season to Andy.

The track team was run by a new coach, Mr. Bill Abromitis. He was the coach of the cross country team here at Encinal and track coach at Las Lomas. Abro says "There's talent here, but if you're not willing to work, I'm not willing to help." Every year Encinal has had 3 people go to State Championships.

With many new faces, this young team combined with a few veterans, managed to compile a decent team. Donny Watson, who went to the State Championship last year, Bobby Hamilton, the 300 pound shot putter and disc thrower, Shafiq Naweed, distance runner, Chad Jones, sprinter, and Lavette Wright on the girls team.

This year's team is a lot different from last year's. There's more competition for spots and with the lack of returning runners came less leadership and togetherness. One of the coaches said "Track is hard in the beginning, but after you get in shape, it's a breeze, and winning the medals are more fun."

Grant, Jeremy LeBlanc, Khalida Hamid, Abromitis, Jonathon Wong, Raphlia Scott start with their warm-ups. In warm-ups they do high knees, tail flippers, start-offs and skip tiddy doo.

John Crum practices the form and release of disc throwing. In discus throwing you have to have more of a form than strength.

Wayne Krotzer goes for a high jump with the greatest of ease. He wonders while he's in the air if he's going to make it.

Bobby Hamilton, a 300 pound junior, prepares to throw the shotput. He's a hard worker and by the looks of his shirt it seems to be the truth. Bobby's other event is the discus.

Jets Score Big

Athletes Awarded 10 Titles

From Football to Cross Country, the 1992-1993 athletic season was one of pure success for Encinal's athletes. The Jets swam, sprinted and spiked away with 10 East Shore Athletic All-League titles.

The fall season gave way to the talents of Football players Lamont Brown and Nathan Jaramillo. Jennifer Schleininger and Amy Yuen were given top honors in Cross Country. Rizalyn Estaban came through for the volleyball team while Ciaron Ennis and Gabriel Flores made it big for Water Polo.

During the winter season, Charlene Michael came away with the sole title for Girls' Soccer. Andre Lockett shot his way to an All-League title in Boys' Basketball. Ian Dewey wrestled his way to his second title in Wrestling.

Due to time constraints, the list of Spring sports winners was not obtainable, but good luck to the Baseball, Softball, Swimming/Diving, Badminton, Tennis and Track and Field athletes in making it to the East Shore Athletic League awards, and congratulations to those who already made it. They showed us what Jet pride is all about.

The Sophomore Class Of 1995

Breaking The Tradition

Sophomores capture second in Homecoming

Imagine yourself dancing to the songs by The Beatles or The Rolling Stones. Where are you? You're back in the '50's. With the theme of the '50's, the sophomores captured second place and broke the traditions of seniors placing first, juniors taking second, sophomores ranking third, and freshmen standing fourth in the annual Homecoming activities.

It was favoritism that brought them second, right? . . . NOT! The day before the assembly, the sophomores flooded the gym to practice their skit which lasted approximately five minutes. The majority of the sophomore class stayed behind after school the day before the Homecoming assembly to enchant their portion of the hall into a diner with checkered tile floors, records, and a juke box to give it a kick for judging which took place on Friday of that week. Through hard work and devotion of time and effort by staying after school, and lunch as well, their dreams came true. The fall sophomore class president, Camellia Millet-Lau, commented, "I think that we did really well for sophomores by winning second place over the juniors."

This year the sophomore class raised money by participating in school activities and holding food and merchandise sales. The class earned $300.00 for their diligent efforts at Homecoming. They also increased their treasury even more by selling foods at lunch from various different cultures. Among the things sold were chow mein, lumpia, and fried rice. In addition to foods, they also sold rose grams and assorted candies.

Besides the minor fundraisers, the sophomores had a great one that came their way. They were granted the "Spring Fling" dance for their major project for the year. The sophomore class put their heads together during their meetings planning out the details for the dance. The DJ's shook the dance floor, better known as the gym, on the night of March 12. Camellia Millet-Lau stated, "It took a lot of good ideas, but we finally found a theme that we thought would bring money in for the Class of 1995." They did indeed bring in over $800 for their class treasury.

From freshmen to sophomores, how did they feel? "I became more active and I got to know how everything worked. Therefore, I'm not as shy as before," quoted Angie Ho, sophomore. How does the transition from a freshman to a sophomore make such a significant difference in their attitudes towards school? A majority of Angie's classmates said that they uncovered some of the many extracurricular activities; for instance, clubs like Interact. Also, coaches from various of sports noticed that the class of '95 had been more active in sports.

The sophomores had an incredible turnout spirit wise for the year of 1992-93. The class of '95 have two more years ahead of them. Since they made this year so unforgettable, they are striving for excellence for the upcoming years ahead to make the Class of '95 one of the most spirited classes in the history of Encinal High School.

Big Game

What do you think the most exciting point of the Big Game was?

Playing the game was a rush in itself for me. But the most exciting part of the game was to know that the jets were frustrating Dan Nguyen. It makes me proud to be a Jet when I knew we had proved not only to the students and staff of EHS and AS that our team was determined, but we had proven ourselves to the whole city.

Quarterback, Ian Dewey, runs off the field after another victorious game of varsity football.

Running back Lamont Brown shows off his incredible rushing skills. Along with scoring a touchdown, Lamont also rushed for a total of 111 yards this game.

Encinal wide receiver, Joeddie Mendoza, receives a 20-yard bomb from quarterback, Ian Dewey, to keep the drive going.

Andi Fernendez and Stephanie May paint their faces to show their Jet pride. Students commonly do this at the big game to boost the team's confidence that someone is on their side.

Jet Pride

Jets Bomb Bees, 20-13.

Even being the underdogs of a 15½ point spread the varsity Encinal Jets overcame a bear that has been on their back of the first 4 games of the season. The Encinal jets beat the Alameda Hornets 20-13 in the 38th annual Island Bowl. Showing how a 7th ranked team plays defense on the first play of the game, Joe Sanchez intercepted a pass to give Alameda their first turnover. Quarterback, Ian Dewey, lead the offense team with 267 yards passing and running. Senior running back Lamont Brown had a season high of 111 yards.

The second big play of the game came 2 minutes and 34 seconds into the first quarter. After Brown received an option from the quarterback who was in trouble; that lead to a 56 yard touchdown run. One series later Chad Jones sacked Alameda's quarterback for a second turnover. Then Limus Curry bounced to the sideline for a 47-yard gain which led to Dewey's 4-yard powerful touchdown, which made the score 14-0, Jets.

Alameda's full back, Dan Nguyen was shut down most of the day until he ran back an 83-yard kick off that made the score 14-7. Then on the next drive Encinal fumbled the ball which led to Nguyen 1 yard touchdown run, making the score 14-13, after Alameda missed the extra point. With a shocking drive Dewey hit Donny Watson for a 20-yard touchdown that made the score 20-13. Even though Alameda had lots of chances for comebacks, they failed and Encinal ended the game with their first win.

During Spirit Week, some students at Encinal felt that there was favoritism by the judges as to the winners of the Homecoming competition. What are some of your thoughts about the situation?

No, I don't think there was favoritism. The Seniors were more organized, and their hall had much more quality to it.

— Donny Watson —

Yes, I think there might have been some sort of favoritism. And why were the teachers so lenient and just say the wall fell down because of the wind and bad tape.

— Tony Martinez —

I don't think there was a lot of favoritism. It's just the seniors have been competing in Homecoming longer than the other classes.

Bright Side

Students Display High Spirits

For one week in October students were able to let loose a little and dress according to different themes.

It all began on the twenty sixth with "Class Color Day" and then progressed to more exotic apparel. This year there was an "Overall Day," the classic "Hippie Day," "Costume Day," and the "Class Theme Day." There was everything from monsters to wondering natives parading around the school campus.

Noontime activities took place on the front lawn and several dressed-up crusaders came out to watch fellow students make fools of themselves for class points. Some games were the egg toss, a pie eating contest and musical chairs.

On Thursday night the night before Homecoming Day, the main building was transformed into a wonderland. Several students came and donated their time and artistic abilities to decorate the mundane classroom hallways. Music was blaring as students worked with one another to create the wonderland. There were waterfalls, forests, 50's dance floors and rainbows and stars all combined under one roof.

Overall, spirit and the noontime games helped make everyone's week a little brighter and easier.

Senior Issac Irvine, a devoted water polo player and swimmer, participates in the egg toss. He is sending telepathic waves to his partner in high hopes of successfully completing the pass.

Homecoming

The 1992 Homecoming Court consists of Brad Lodge, Sarah Rasmussen, Andre Tenorio, Geoff Milam, Charetta Long, Lamont Brown, Stephanie Brock, Jo Sanchez, Monica Termini, and Robeson Perry.

How did it feel being nominated for Homecoming Court?

"It was such an Honor to even be thought about by my peers. I felt so loved and respected."
— Leslie Lyons —

"It was a surprise and I really didn't expect it, but is was cool though."
— Charetta Long —

"I was shocked because I didn't know a lot of people. So I didn't really expect it."
— Lamont Brown —

"I was surprised because I didn't think anyone knew me."
— Sharif Thomas —

The Homecoming nominees were: Kelly Dean, Sarah Rasmussen, Lamont Brown, Robeson Perry, Sharif Thomas, Frank Adlao, Joe Sanchez, Charetta Long, Adam Sanchez, Geoff Milam, Fuad Lloyd, Charles Varner, Theresa Hurst, Julie Chan, Stephanie Brock, Andrea Tenorio, Monica Termini, Brenda Brice, Olivia Munoz, Leslie Lyons, Brenda Aburto, Joeddie Mendoza, and Arnaldo Soriano.

Memories

Dancing The Night Away

October 30, was a night to remember. Homecoming, one of the most important events at EHS. This year's homecoming was done a little different here at Encinal. Instead of announcing the king and queen during the homecoming assembly, it was done at the dance. The gym was filled with Encinal students dancing the night away. The moment had finally came that everyone was waiting for Encinal's gym was suddenly very quiet as everyone stepped aside to form an aisle for the Homecoming court. The gym was aroused with intensity. Everyone wondering who would be the King and Queen.

Our Fourth runners-up went to Robeson Perry and Monica Termini. Our Third runners-up were Brad Lodge and Sarah Rasmussen; the Second runners-up were Joe Sanchez and Stephanie Brock, and our First runners-up were Goeff Milam and Andrea Tenorio. Last but not least the King and Queen, Lamont Brown and Charetta Long. Many congratulations goes out to the Homecoming court of 92-93.

After the crowning, the court danced to a slow song and eventually couples joined in. In the end, Homecoming turned out to be very successful. A lot of thanks goes out to the faculty who have helped make Homecoming such a big success as it has been for many years. The Homecoming court hopes next year will be as excellent as this year's Homecoming.

Robeson Perry and Monica Termini looked very shocked as they come down the aisle in Fourth place during Homecoming Night.

Brad Lodge and Sarah Rasmussen smile while taking their spot on Homecoming Dance at Third place.

Stephanie Brock and Joe Sanchez stand next to each other after coming in at Second place and receiving their Homecoming Ribbons.

Geoff Milam and Andrea Tenorio walk down the aisle arm and hand while receiving First place on Homecoming Night.

Lamont Brown and Charetta Long smile with pride as they find out that they are the (92-93) Homecoming King and Queen.

Dances

Out of all the dances at Encinal, which one did you like the most?

"I liked the Homecoming dance because they had good music and a lot of people were there."
— Edgar Aguilar —

"From a smoker's point of view, I didn't like any of them because I can't smoke inside."
— Judalon Winstead —

"The first one because it was the best."
— Wing-Hang Leung —

"The first dance because there was a lot of people there."
— Michael Ybarra —

"Homecoming dance, it was fun to see everyone dressed up."
— Debra Pope —

"Homecoming dance, because most of the school went."
— Nicole Wadel —

Joeddie Mendoza, Melanie Hawkins and Ian Dewey show that they can get into the step of things at the first dance at Encinal.

Alison Dea and Teresa Chi just let themselves go at the first dance of the school year. That dance was sponsored by the Leadership class, and the music was Provided by a Student from E.H.S., Albert Patterson.

Robert Hamilton, Jason Trascher and Rueben Scott step aside to pull balloons down to give to their dates at the Valentine dance.

Christy Brown, Chadrick Jones, James Kimble, Christy Sotelo, Jorge Enriquez and Darlene Stevenson don't even let slow songs change the dance mood they're in. This year's Homecoming dance was held on October 30, 1993.

New Moves

Stepping To The Beat

"What are they doing?" one might say, but anything can happen at EHS dances. Let's have a ball, we'll go on a crazed trip to see the kickin' new moves of 92-93. Well, what do you know, I see a group dance, let's jump in. The first dance was awesome, the second was cool, and the Homecoming Dance was the most hip hoppin-bip-ding-twang dance that you've ever seen. The amazing dances and music was far surpassed. No wonder people got down and boggied, no one could resist the the music jams of the 90's.

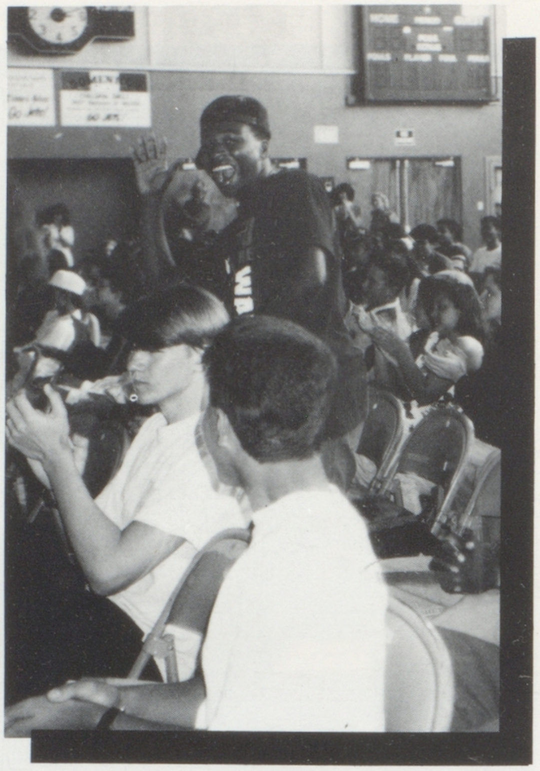
Now and then we felt down, but when a dance comes around we kicked into high gear. Dances were the highlights of the school year. Students looked forward to school dances for fun, excitement, and to meet new people. A lot of time and money went into the school dances, so people had to respect the surroundings.

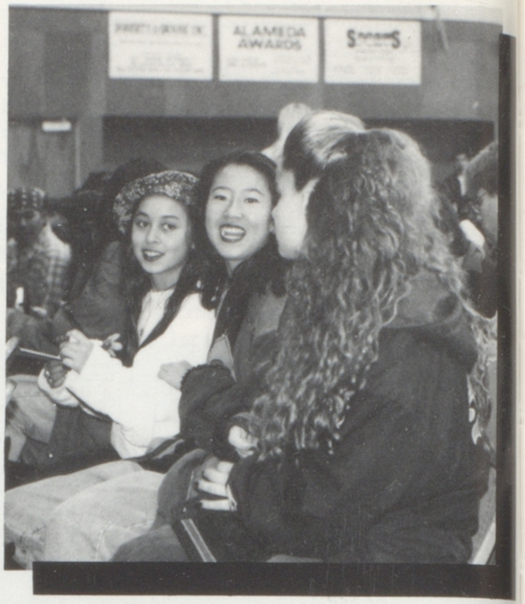
A school dance can be the greatest, if you enjoy it to your fullest. Time and time again people swarmed to the dance floor, to get with the beat. So when you're down and out, kick it with your friends at the school dances. Sometimes students asked themselves if the school dances were worth their time; yes it was. A school dance is a very fun experience. Don't worry about not being accepted; the important thing is having fun. Now's the time to choose because your high school years fly by.

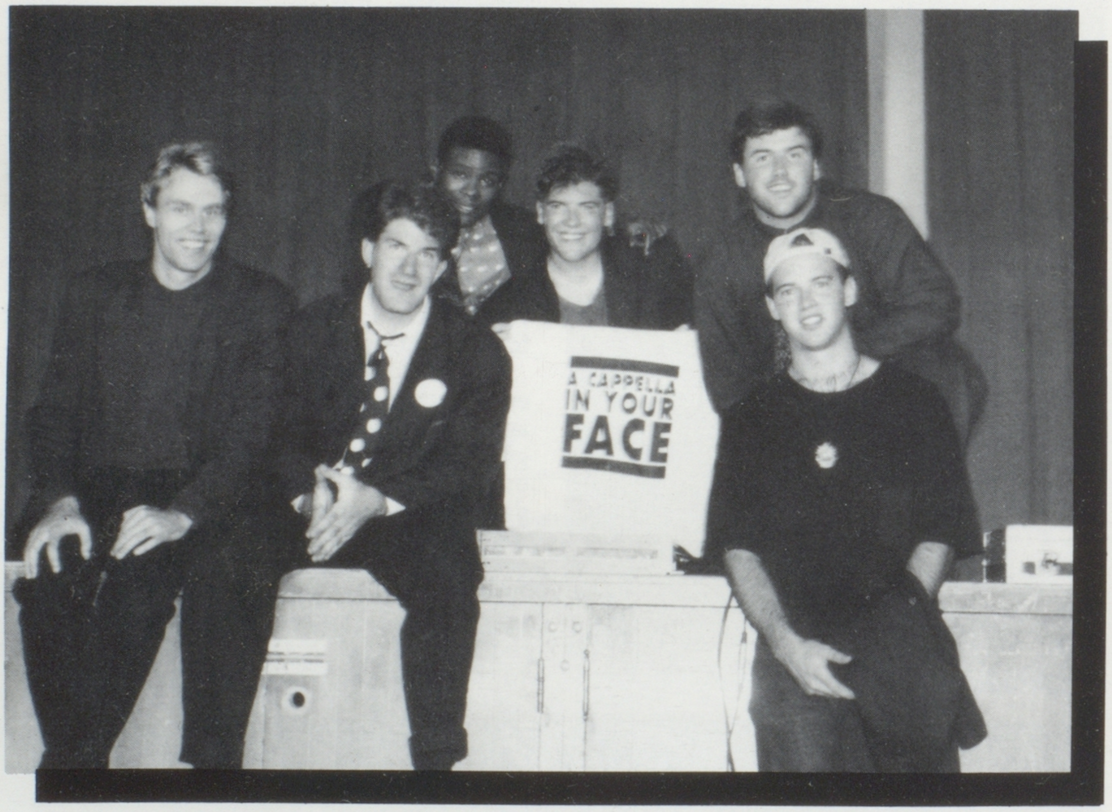
Assemblies

Sophomores wave to the camera before the House Jacks assembly begins.

Damion Upsher stands up to say wussup during Homecoming.







What do you think about the assemblies at Encinal?

"I think the assemblies are great because I don't get caught for cutting."
— Melissa Langford —

"It gives us a break from all the work that teachers give us."
— Cameo Osoimalo —

"The assemblies are pretty good, but I don't get to see all my friends."
— Debbie Claro —

Teresa Chi poses for the camera wondering if she'll ever be in Vogue magazine.

Do It Now!

Actions In The Gym

We asked students what are one of the best events at Encinal High. Their response "Assemblies". This year assemblies were held a little bit differently from other years. Due to the number of students at Encinal, assemblies were broken into two, which meant half the school went to the first assembly and the other half went to the second assembly. This year the assembly committee was led by vice-president Kate Sonneman. Committee members Katy Rudloff, John Chow, Erwin Cabarles, Teresa Chavez and Melissa Milam came up with the idea to open our first assembly which was on September 25 with an a capella group called the House Jacks. They sang a mixture of songs from rock, soul, to modern rock.

Our Homecoming assembly was held on October 30, 1992. Homecoming was also done a little bit differently. Instead of announcing the homecoming King and Queen at the assembly, it was done later on that night at the dance.

The excitement didn't stop there. On December 18th a dance group called Dance 5 and Dance 10 strutted their moves on stage.

Second semester the assembly committee was led by V.P. Steve Pacheco with members Lou Rivera, Carmen Fields, Erwin Cabarles, Ruben Tilos, Sarah Rasmussen, Jovy Burgos, and Teresa Chavez. The first assembly of the second semester was the Talent Show on April 9, 1993. Six to eight acts were done by talented Encinal students from dancing, to singing, acting, and playing musical instruments. On May 4th a special assembly was presented by Kaiser Hospital, the subject "AIDS" . . . On May 21st seniors had closed the year by putting on a farewell assembly to EHS.

Many thanks goes to Leadership and the committee for making 92-93 a most enjoyable year.

Encinal students watch the Homecoming assembly with awe. Even with two assemblies Encinal's gym has a full house.

Freshmen watch their first assembly with much excitement here at Encinal.

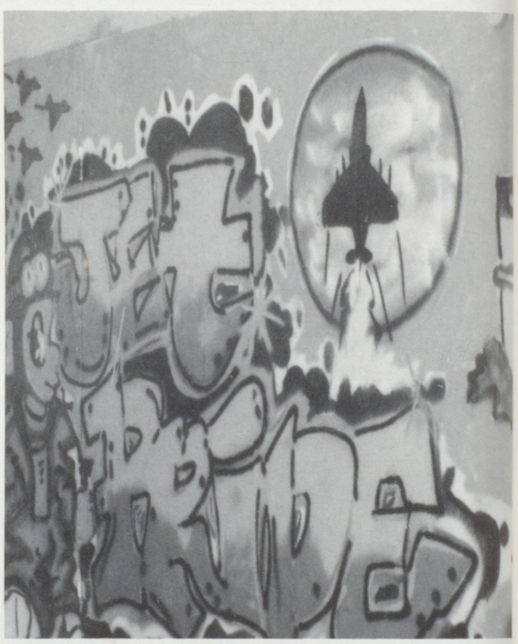
Art Murals

ENCINAL HOME OF THE JETS, Art work by Alonzo Mason. Alonzo had to enter the mural contest and sketch his drawing on paper. Only the Top 4 would be able to paint on the construction wall.

Neil Merquillo, Karmen Fields, and Dawn Milne are preparing the walls for the artists to give the school a more better look, and give the students a place to show off their skills.

Kelly Dean, Sarah Rasmussen and Monica Termini white washed the walls to prep them for the mural contest. This treatment was needed so the colors would not fade.



How do you feel about your mural, and what do you think it contributed to the school?

I think that the mural contest was a very good idea. Although only four of the entries were allowed to be painted, the contest gave a lot of the artists in our school a chance to show their work. There is still a lot of boring blank wall space left, and it should all be painted.

— Will Pennington —

Since we've done the murals, it makes the halls look better. For me it was a good experience because I've never worked with spray paint before.

It was a hard job, but if I had to do it over again I would. I don't think it contributed to the vandalism, because if it did this school would really be F*@!ED UP!

— Alonzo Mason —

I feel that the mural was easy and hard. I'm not as good as the so called graffitist in this school. I learned that cartooning and graffiti don't mix. "I'll stick to cartooning!" The mural makes the school look colorful, and I hope to see many young artists do the same thing. I think all together the project was very fun, and it was a good experience.

— Joe "Sancho Kid" Sanchez —

I like the murals, but I think they might contribute to the vandalism which makes the school look kind of disgusting, but overall I thought it was fun. We should paint more of the walls.

— Lindy Pennington —

Muralists Spray Pride

Putting Up Their Lasting Works Of Art

Due to the Construction this year, students were able to use this situation to their advantage. The mural contest was held by the Leadership class. There were many people that had wonderful ideas to give the school and the students more spirit. It came down to 4 finalists William Pennington, Lindy Pennington, Alonzo Mason, and Joe Sanchez. They spent several days doing the artwork. We can't forget the Leadership class, they are the one's responsible for making this happen. Leadership spent a great deal of their time, they white washed the walls and prepared the paint for the finalists.

The main reason that Leadership decide to hold the art murals was because of the construction and how sloppy the school looked. The students didn't have spirit, and they thought it would raise school spirit. They needed something to make the school look better so they decided to hold the art mural contest. All of the finalists did a very good job, and it doesn't matter what place they came in. All that matters is that these Encinal artists came together to create and beautify with these ever lasting token's of JET PRIDE!

On Stage

Performing Is An Art

This year Encinal High School students put out two spectacular plays. These plays were entitled, All My Sons and My Fair Lady. The plays drew quite a crowd, consisting of parents, faculty and especially students because extra credit was involved.

All My Sons was about a former military aircraft pilot who sold airplane parts to the government. This was a tragic story because these aircraft parts were defective. As a result, his neighbor's son dies in an airplane crash, and he has to face up to what he has done. This play was performed in the fall.

My Fair Lady depicted a young flower girl who is taken off of the streets and is taught how to speak properly. Later on, she is passed off as a duchess at an embassy ball. The play is a musical version of George Bernard Shaw's Pygmalion. Thirty five students in all were included in the play which was performed in the spring.

The site of performances was the cafeteria. All the work and construction of the set were done by the students themselves.

Why did you try out for the play?

"It's lots of fun and it makes school a bit more interesting."
— Geoff Milam —

"To prove myself that I can do it."
— Terra Powers —

"I like to act and I like being around people."
— Lonnie Taylor —

What was the best part about being in the play?

"You get to escape and be somebody else."
— Geoff Milam —

"The thrill that you get from do or die."
— Terra Powers —

"You get to meet new people and I like the cast, they're easy to get along with."
— Cliff Poche —

The well-experienced actor Cliff Poche displays the true art of acting.

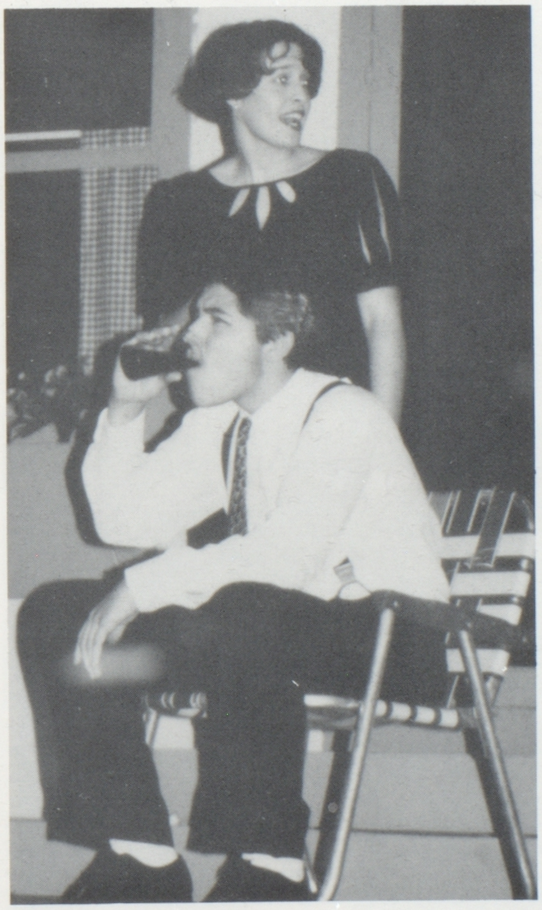
Kara Navradszki looks away in dismay as Tacho Ordez begs for her to return to him in "All My Sons."

Albert Dea was completely blown away by the performance, so blown away he had to wipe the sweat from his forehead.

Seniors Geoff Milam and Terra Powers play Dr. Jim Bayliss and Mrs. Kate Keller. Geoff was the consulting neighbor who helped the Keller family often.



Tacho Ordez gets a refreshing drink while Terra Powers searches frantically for a missing actor.

Clubs

Why did you join the particular club(s) you're in presently?

"Because I could meet more people where you feel needed and work for the community as well."
— Linda Huynh —

"Because you could meet more people and expand your communication."
— Angela Lee —

"Because it helps me get into college, and some clubs are fun."
— Amy Yuen —

"Because it looks good on your college application."
— Iris Lee —

"Because the idea of community service interested me."
— Peter Major —

"Because it's good for communication."
— Betty Wong —

"Because I like the activities and the club sounded interesting."
— Katie Hopper —

"Because it looks good on your college application."
— Elaine Kwong —

"It looks good on college applications, and you learn to communicate with other people."
— Sandy Wong —

"Because you meet more people."
— Roan San Luis —

"I joined clubs with each having a special reason. Like CSF for scholarship information and Key Club for community service and etc."
— Michelle Pangilinan —

We're off the see the wizard . . . Chris Edmundson boards the bus to participate in the Northern California DECA competition in Visalia in the month of November.

Cows, Cars And Cookies

Student Leaders Gain Experience

Hard work, long hours, and totalitarian teachers filled each of the 180 school days. However some students decided to blow off some steam by participating in clubs.

In Spanish Club, they immersed into Hispanic culture in the month of February. Likewise, French studied the French history and observed the holidays which France celebrated.

How does a trip to Washington D.C. sound to you? Breath-taking? Close-up had the chance to witness President Bill Clinton's inauguration in the month of January at our nation's capital.

Both Key Club and Interact are community service clubs sponsored by the Kiwanis and Rotary, respectively. Some of their involvements were Meals-on-Wheels, visiting convalescent homes, and helping out Special Olympics.

Finally came the time for the marketing students to show what they're really made of. DECA club took off to Visalia for the Northern California DECA competition in November.

CSF members couldn't wait for post-high school life and visited several college locations. Among these was UC Davis, which the club explored for a day in March.

With other clubs such as Drama, Art, Outing and Ski, students found a way to escape from the pressure of school.

Food/Blood Drive

What was your reason for donating blood?

"By giving blood I felt I would be doing society as a whole a favor by contributing to the low supply of blood in our country."

— Steve Pacheco —

"I felt like it was a worthwhile cause."

— Tia Denny —

Malaika Fisher follows the arrow towards the blood drive. She came to give her blood up for the cause.

John Cho and Dawn Milne lug a heavy box of donated foods for the annual Food drive. They stopped and offered the camera the chance to snap a fine shot of two people helping a great cause.

"What's up?" says Chris Aniciete. He's lying down on the table slowly being drained of his blood for the chance at saving someone's life. What a great guy!

Michael Moore and Andre Lockett complete the questionnaire before donating healthy blood. Michael is almost done and Andre wonders whether it's true or false.

Here's an aerial shot of Michael Moore, Kim Cuevas, Elaine Reyes, and Andre Lockett donating their precious blood. Dawn Costales has just finished giving her blood as she holds the cotton swab in place. Red Cross volunteers visit Encinal annually to replenish the county blood supply.

Officer Jeff Swatman gives us a thumbs-up as he is lying on the table giving blood. Don't you wonder if this is in his job contract.

The sign explains it, "Confidential Interview." That's as far as the camera went. It's just one of the few things you gotta do before you give up your blood.

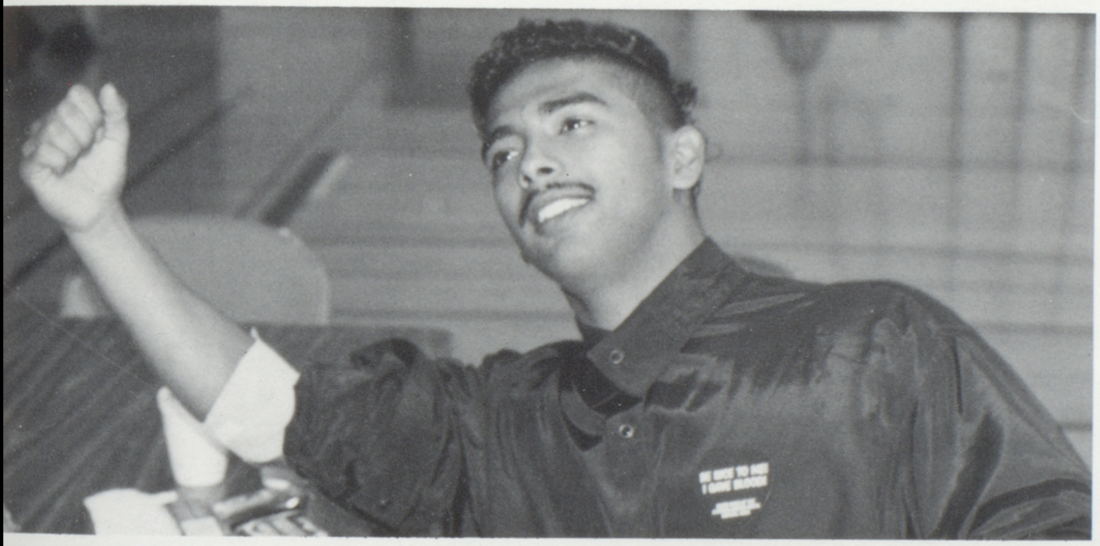
Helping The Needy

Each year Encinal participates in an annual Blood and Food drive. These annual events save lives and provide much needed supplies for needy people.

The Blood drive was held in the gym on November 19, 1992. One had to be at least 17 years old and 110 lbs. to donate blood. First, there was a questionnaire. Then the blood givers had to wait for a confidential interview. A little blood test to check the amount of iron in the blood. This was also a test to see how pure the blood was. At this point, one either went on to give blood or was given a gesture of thanks for trying to participate in this worthy cause. Then came the blood-doning for those lucky few. One would lie down and be drained of one pint of blood. After finishing giving blood, he or she was sent to a table where they had juice and cookies to replenish much needed vitamins and energy.

The Encinal Food drive received many donations for its important cause. Encinal came together to fill about four big barrels of canned foods. Encinal had a contest to see which first period class could bring in the most canned foods. Ms. Harris' first period class won. They were awarded with a donut party.

Encinal comes out with open hands and loving hearts to help needy people and needy causes. Thanks to Student Government for continuing to organize these programs.



Showing off his bandaged arm after giving blood is Moises Salas. He's O.K. as he shows to the camera that it was a piece of cake. He deserves his cookies and juice at the refreshment table.

Gabriel Flores unloads the pick-up from the Food drive. We need more good citizens like him.

Fitted in nice warm winter clothing, Monica Termini goes around collecting canned goods for the Food drive in the breezy weather.

New Future

Foundations For A Better Education

This 1992-93 year was not a pleasant one due to reconstruction. Students were forced to take unusual routes, in order to get to their classes.

The reconstruction included the library, the science and business wings. Due to fires, the science wing was burned down. The district received grants and bonds which enabled them to remodel the media center. When construction is finished, the business wing will occupy the west end and the science wing will occupy the east end of the campus. The library would remain standing in the same spot.

Students were also disappointed at the weird sight of construction. Though some liked the idea, others were skeptical. A few said, "I don't care about the construction, I won't be here to use it anyways." Also the students thought it was a hassle getting to class.

Teachers were dismayed at the numerous portables and trailers that were being used as classrooms this year. Lack of supplies and space as well as no heat and no intercom or phone were very frustrating.

Like it or not, the construction is for the better. Though most of us will not be able to use the new buildings, it helps to know future students will benefit from our inconveniences.

A construction supervisor looks over the work being done, pondering the masterpiece that will be created on the grounds.

Construction affects most of the students. Nick Harman shows us the long route he has to take around reconstruction to his class.

How do you feel about the reconstruction of the school?

"It causes problems for me getting to class on time, and I won't benefit from it 'cause I am graduating."
— David Silva —

"I do not care because it does not affect me."
— Damion Upsher —

"I think it does good for the school. It gives us more places to chill."
— Tony Ardoin —

"It is distracting and annoying. And I agree with David Silva."
— Marife Melendez —

The construction workers are doing a great job. Here, one looks at plans for the building while another makes a quick inspection for sturdiness.

A worker carefully applies tender loving care for our new business wing to be.

The Freshman Class Of 1996

Striving To Survive

Freshman Class Learns To Adjust

The freshmen had a lot to deal with when they entered Encinal High School. They had to deal with construction, families, and a new life style. The construction was a real bother to all; it caused havoc among the students. They had to walk out of their way to get to classes because of the construction in the middle of the school and were often tardy. The occasional shaking of the classrooms from the pile drivers disrupted everyone's concentration. The freshmen also had the new family classes, such as history, drama, art, Integrated Science, and Interactive Mathematics Project.

High school brings responsibilities to the new students. Along with the new life style of high school, freshmen will have to take on new challenges. Seniors tried to make them feel welcome, by telling them where their classes were. Freshmen did a good of adjusting to high school life — a definite change from middle school.

During Homecoming Week, the freshmen were really spirited. They cheered and applauded for the students who participated i the noon-time games. For the Homecoming assembly, the freshmen skit was a success with their dancing. Their class theme wa "The Sky's the Limit." Even though they came in last place i points, they worked very hard. The freshmen did a great job decorating their hall. While watching the other skits, they showe great sportsmanship, by clapping and cheering for the othe classes.

Freshmen didn't get to pick most of their classes, although the did get to pick their families. Their humanities choices were Ar taught by Bainbridge, Haber, Ruark, Jackson and Wilpitz; Drama taught by Fleming, Lewis, Wood, Payne and Davis-Martin; History, taught by Juarez, Medeiros, Nelson, Manno and Preminger A lot of the freshmen had similar schedules; they had to take humanities course, Science, Math, English, P.E., and one elective There was a variety of electives to choose from — the freshmen got used to the school quickly.

Do you think that Jr. High is more different than High School?

"Yes, because when you're in eighth grade you think you're on top, but when you come to High School you start all over again, just like a sixth grader."

— Shanna Coleman —

What is one of your best memories at E.H.S.?

"Football, because its fun and I get to be with my friends."

— Matt Lanning —

What do you think about the E.H.S. faculty?

"They are kind of nice and they made us feel at home, some are okay but some of them are too hard."

— Brian Hicks —

What do you think about the E.H.S. faculty?

"They are pretty strict but they are organize. They are really pushing it hard to help us reach us goal."

Taking Care Of Business

Students Work Around The Clock, Around Town

Many students at Encinal High School have jobs. Many work at food services, clothing stores, or other various jobs. Those people are really fortunate because jobs are not easy to find now a days.

Students at Encinal work for many different reasons. One may be because they need extra spending money. Two, they want to start to learn and get experience on how to make it on their own. And three, maybe to help out their family financially.

Although many students want to work, they must meet certain requirements. If they are eighteen or younger and still enrolled in high school they must obtain a work permit. A work permit allows them to work up to twenty hours a week. Students who work make between $4.50 and $8.00 an hour. It might not seem like much, but it's a start and better than nothing.

So before any of you rush out to get a job, make sure it's something you want and are interested in doing. And after you have decided, don't forget your work permit.

Peter Ho also known as Mr. Clean dusts the machine he works on at Hackleman & Kirklan, an accounting and engineering firm located in central Alameda.

Everyday after school at Sea View Aquarium on Park Street, Albert Dea sells exotic fish. Here he packs away some goldfish and blue pebbles for a customer.

That will be $7.50 says Kristina Gardner. Kristina works at Lyn's Flower Shop as a cashier and floral designer. Here she helps a customer pick out a beautiful bouquet of flowers for her daughter.

Pride, care and patience is what Marites Lastimosa uses as the key to making good pizza at Domino's Pizza. She makes sure every pizza gets plenty of sauce and toppings just like the customer ordered.

Fisrt off I would like to thank God, who has given me so much all of my family and friends. Over the years God has protected and guided me, and I can't begin to give thanks. I would also like thank my two sisters Effie and Buffie, my Mom and Dad, and especially my Grandmother for all their support during high school. To all my friends, well always be apart of each others lives. I love you all!I'll always remember the good old times starting back in the days of Wood to the times in S.F. and high school.Peace and prosperity to all those about A.C.

Bon Voyage

Students Explore

EHS students visited France for three weeks during the month of February. Mr. Mike Preminger accompanied the five girl crew.

They spent two weeks in a town called Romans in southern France. These students were treated to an adventure of a life time. They had an opportunity to live with a French family. By doing this, they got to taste how good French breads and cheeses really are and the chance to sharpen their French language skills.

This trip also included four days in Paris, the romantic capital of the world. The sight-seeing included stores, cafes, museums, famous monuments like the Eiffel Tower and a boat ride along a beautiful river called the Seine.

Future chemists? Of course not! Acacia Tally, Terra Powers, Amy Yuen, Jaclyn Irvine and Stephanie Stelter are about to learn the exciting technique of cheese making in a French cheese factory.

As a model, English teacher, Mr. Mike Preminger strikes a pose with the Eiffel tower in the background.

Sight-seeing was one of the main activities which Stephanie Stelter, Jacyln Irvine, Amy Yuen, Terra Powers and Acacia Tally did during the trip to France.

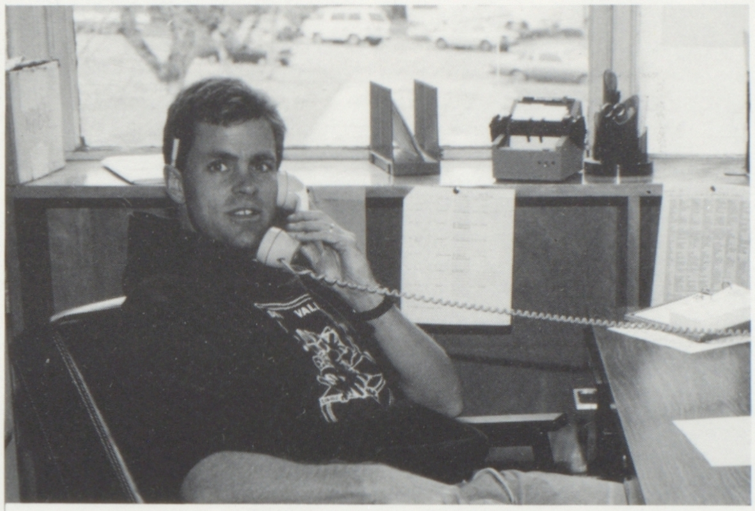
The Arc de Triomphe at night time looks especially magnificent when it lights up.

This pyramid in Paris is used as an entrance to Louvre museum. It was constructed by an archi named I.M. Pei.

Administration

Mr. Rick Schmitt calls Mayflower Service to double check on buses for the Varsity teams to travel to our away games. As Athletic Director, Mr. Schmitt spent most of his time arranging transportation, checking student eligibility or attending ESAL and Booster Club meetings.

Mrs. Mary Ellen Ellis and Officer Jeff Swatman consider the newly-built elevator outside the main hall. Mrs. Ellis's duties as Vice-Principal included student activities as well as discipline. Mr. Swatman, Student Resource Officer, promoted the importance of a safe learning environment by sponsoring lunch-time intramurals.



Dr. Milt Werner calmly surveys his desktop of daily memos. Besides all the responsibilities of Principal, Dr. Werner taught one semester of Academic Strategies. His other duties often took him to the district office for administration and budget meetings as well as weekly faculty and advisory meetings.

Teacher on Special Assignment, Mr. Jerry Ludy, looks up from memos regarding student detentions (too many) and student desks (not enough). Mr. Ludy also found time to coach Badminton during spring.

Mrs. Tess Segal, Curriculum Vice-Principal, hurriedly answers a frantic phone call before rushing off to facilitate another meeting about the master schedule of classes or the restructuring proposal for ninth grade.

Counselors Mrs. Arlene Hoshi, Mrs. Lynda Stansberry and Mrs. Mary Ellen McManus keep busy by programming all students, updating transcripts and monitoring graduation requirements. Head Counselor Mrs. McManus also handled all testing dates and materials to track student performances.

Power Of An Active Mind

Another year of instructing, supervising, coaching, sharing and caring has passed. Encinal's faculty put in many hours helping students learn and play. The entire staff was dedicated to providing the best education possible for them.

The office staff patiently listened to excuses for absences, answered the always-ringing telephone, typed innumerable memos and bulletins and kept all the files up-to-date.

The custodial staff maintained the working order of the buildings as best they could. Besides cleaning after students, they had to move equipment and teachers from classrooms to portables and back again and to set up for numerous after-school events held at this site.

Teachers and paraprofessionals attended inservices on 8 Staff Development Days. New techniques, strategies and lessons were introduced all year long. Throughout all the noise and disruption of construction, teachers exhibited high expectations for students while promoting interactive learning. Teachers at Encinal were demanding and at the same time caring.

Administrators and counselors stressed a positive learning environment by not denying any student accessibility to college prep courses. They encouraged all students to meet graduation requirements as well as participate in extra-curricular activities.

Restructuring of the traditional high school curriculum caused major changes in attitudes and courses, but the philosophy of Encinal High School remains intact: Encinal High School is a home for the active mind — a cooperative community promoting knowledge, self-understanding, mutual respect, responsible global citizenship, adaptability to change, and a love for life-long learning.

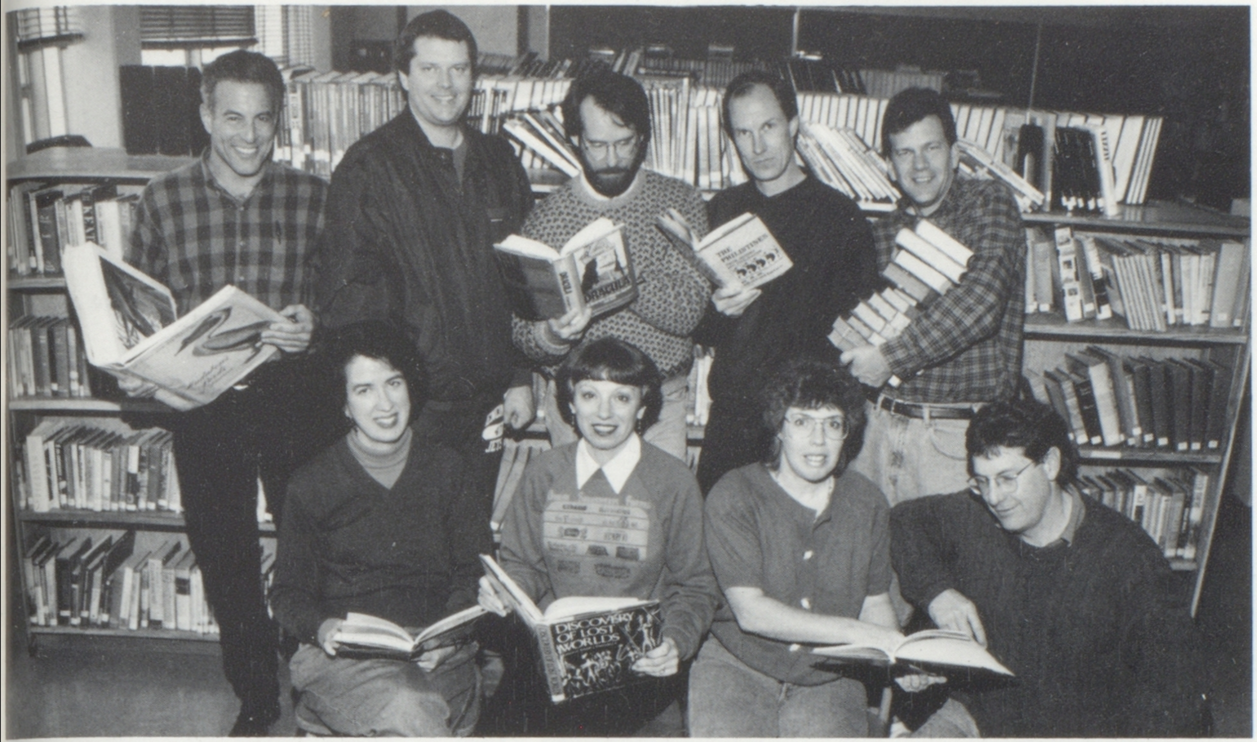
Mr. Michael Preminger anxiously awaits his turn to lecture the ninth grade History Family. Besides teaching English, Mr. Preminger models current fashions and travels to France.

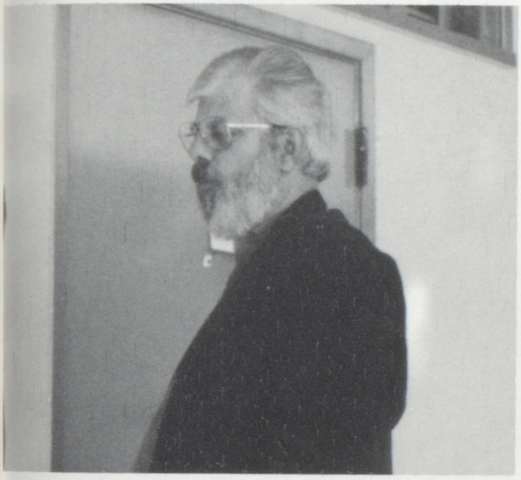
Art 1, English 1 and English 3 teacher, Mr. Warren Haber, reads the writing on the wall. Mr. Haber often travels to Thailand and Southeast Asia.

Drama coach Mr. Robert Moorhead admires his bouncing baby boy. Mr. Moorhead teaches Drama 1, Drama 2 and Stagecraft/Video Yearbook as well as supervising fall and spring plays.

ENCINAL FACULTY: Monica Egbert, Ruth Lamb, Jean Rubin, Maria Sanchez-Wright, Cindy Larsen, Jean Neasbit, Gene Ford, John Potter, Sandy Zimmerman, Sue Young, Martha Wolthius, Theresa Tenorio, Joann Blas, Chris Dea, Jackie Davis-Martin, Shayne Fleming, Denise Blackman, Marian Haid; Rachel Stern, Wendy Mariani, Nannette Stewart, Carol Smart, Heather Bates-Vail, Barbara Porter, Lynda Stansberry, Dorren Yip, Mary Ann Cates, Helen Harris, Beth Anderson, Janis Larsen, Tess Segal, Armen Phelps, Mary Ellen McManus, Debbie Budd, Gene Evans, Adela Bishop, Arlene Hoshi, Paul Juarez, Linda Nelson; Pat Pedersen, Steve Capling, Terry Brandon, Tony Manho, Avondus Jackson, Bob Moorhead, Dave Johns, Jon Mederios, Norm Robinson, Bill Abromitis, Marc Bainbridge, Susan Scott, Warren Haber, Barry Savin, Milt Werner, Robert Ruark, Alan Nelson, Glenn Fong, Ron Lewis, Jon Kawaguchi, Loreen Nohr, Marcy Skala, Mary Jackson, Mike Preminger, David Payne, Roger Wilpitz, Jim Saunders, Al Rebensdorf, Rick Schmitt, Dennis Knights, Mark Wainwright, Jerry Ludy, Ed Madsen, Keri Spaulding, Jean Wood.

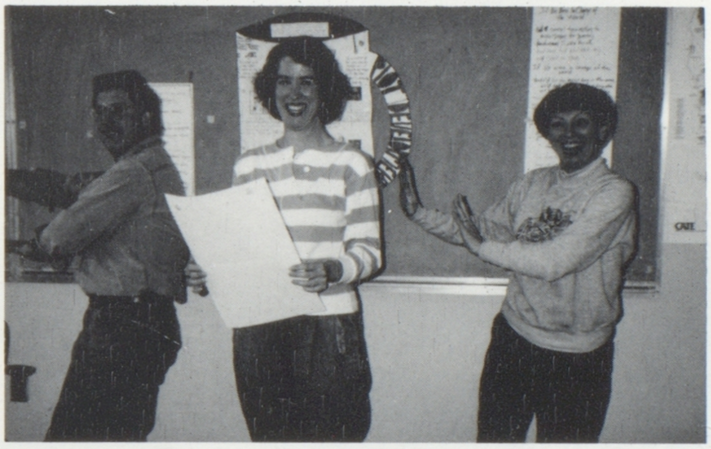
Encinal's English Department practices what it preaches: Reading is Fun, and Educational. Although the library was moved into a classroom while a new media center was constructed, English teachers often researched background material for their lessons. Shown with their noses in the books are: Mike Preminger, Mark Wainwright, Ron Lewis, David Payne, Bob Moorhead, Susan Scott, Jackie Davis-Martin, Jean Wood and Marc Bainbridge.





Mr. Norm Robinson listens carefully before he enters Public Speaking class. In addition to English 2 and English Workshop, Mr. Robinson also served detention every day after school.

Mrs. Katrina Staten, Mr. David Payne and Ms. Jean Wood amuse themselves reciting a poem written collaboratively during an English teacher's workshop on Saturday.



Mr. Marc Bainbridge, Ms. Susan Scott and Mrs. Jackie Davis-Martin sing and dance their way through another model lesson. English department meetings and inservices were not all boring, even though most teachers would have preferred being with their classes, not students themselves.

Mrs. Helen Harris ponders perfect phrasing for her response to another honor student's essay. Besides teaching English 3, Mrs. Harris wrote, edited, and rewrote many of the grants that Encinal received funding from this year.

Faculty

Why would you recommend teaching at Encinal to a colleague?

"The Special Ed students are generally hardworking and appreciative. You feel like you are making a difference."

— P. Pedersen —

"?-Well, the teachers & administration are hard working, professional and caring."

— Tony Manno —

"Exciting new things happening in teaching. Very friendly supportive faculty & administration. Lots of good kids."

— B. Lee —

What do you appreciate most about the students at EHS?

"The overall respect they have for teachers. I wish sometimes they would show similar respect to each other and themselves."

—Bob Moorhead —

"Their honesty!"

— Keri Spaulding —

"I like the uniqueness."

— Bill Abromitis —

"Interesting mix of kids-many different backgrounds, from many parts of the country and world. They are very nice people."

— Denise Blackman —
School Psychologist

"They are sincere and personable."

— Mary Jackson —

What did you find most difficult about teaching this year?

"The number of students tardy to class."

— Mrs. Egbert —

"Unacceptable student behavior."

— M. Preminger —

"Building and program changes cause some chaos, but positive changes are worth it."

— S. Scott —

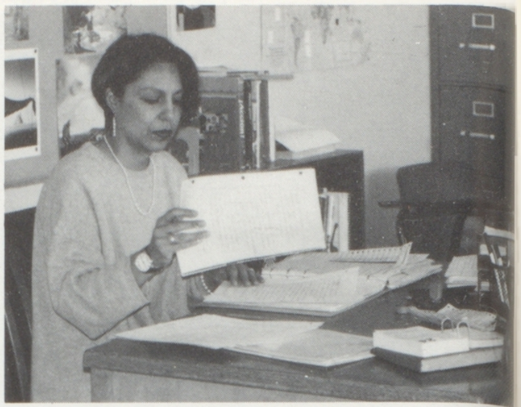
"It is difficult working around construction. Also the problems of society seem to be reflected in our school environment."

— R. Stern —

Mr. Armen Phelps, instructor in the music department, directs the Choir at their Winter Concert. Beginning Band, Jazz Band, Concert Band, Marching Band and Choir were all taught by Mr. Phelps this year.

Interactive Mathematics Project, a three-year college preparatory math course, was piloted at EHS's ninth grade by Mrs. Shayne Fleming, Ms. Mary Jackson and Mr. Paul Juarez. Students enjoyed directed group and the graphing calculators used for problem solving.

Mrs. Maria Sanchez-Wright carefully records daily assignments from her Spanish 2 class. Before her marriage, Mrs. Sanchez-Wright took several trips with students to Spain.



Mr. Glenn Fong plays classic piano concertos during Back to School Night. Besides teaching French, Mr. Fong enjoys listening to early blues and collecting vintage tapes.

Mr. Warren Haber, Mr. Robert Ruark and Mr. Robert Moorhead display various masks made in an Art 1 class. The Visual and Performing Arts Department emphasized hands-on activities for students. The office display case often exhibited student work throughout the year.

The Social Science Department, Gene Evans, Robert Miller, Linda Nelson, Tony Manno and Marta Skala, created more relevant units by involving students in the electoral process and this year's presidential election. Their collective historical knowledge and sense of humor kept their classes entertained as well as focused on the value of governments throughout history.

The Foreign Language Department compares notes on current textbooks. Mr. Glenn Fong seriously teaches all levels of French offered at EHS. Mrs. Maria Sanchez-Wright teaches advanced levels of Spanish and especially enjoys the AP class. Department Head, Ms. Keri Spaulding teaches Spanish 2 and Spanish 3 as well as being coordinator for School Site Council. Mrs. Jean Rubin, an aerobics instructor, teaches Spanish 1 and Spanish 2.

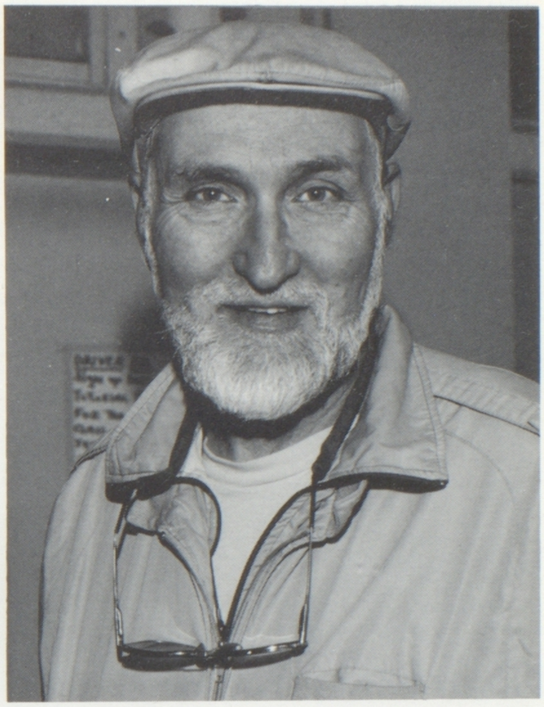
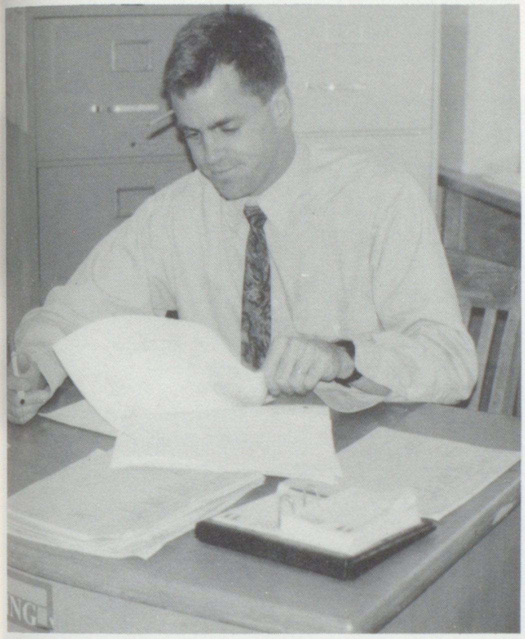
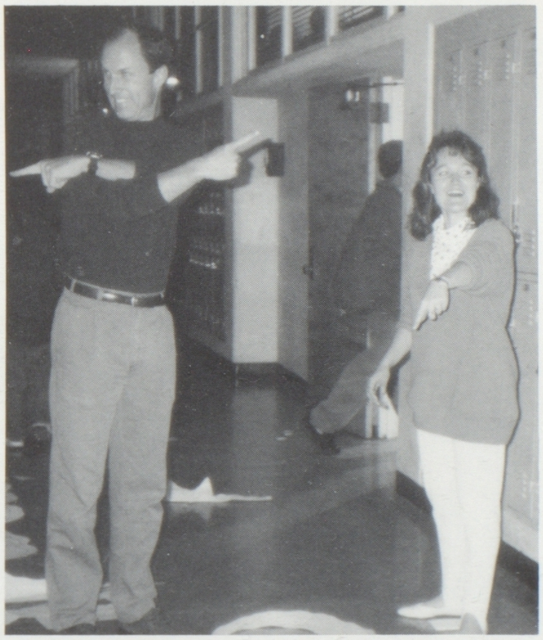
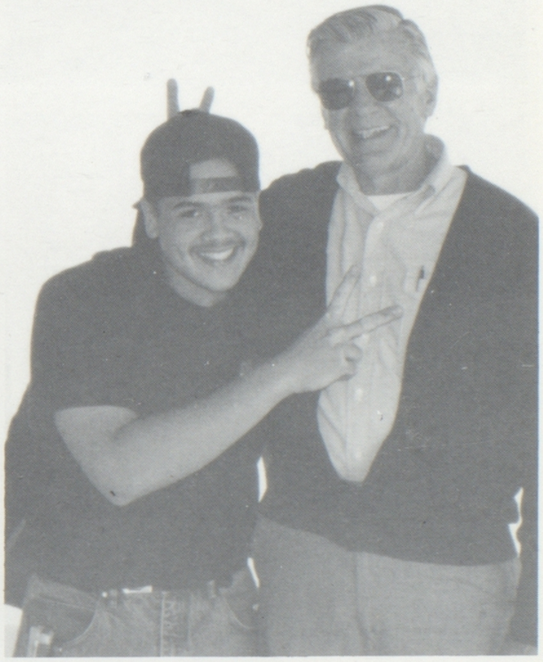
Mr. Al Rebensdorf exhibits his laid-back style that was also evident in his classroom instruction. Rebs taught Algebra 2, Geometry and Math Analysis with his unique flair and knowledge.









Mr. Robert Miller jokes with one of his students between classes. Mr. Miller taught in five different classrooms before acquiring the vacated metal shop. His class schedule included U.S. History, Government/Economics and English 3.

Seniors will recognize Mr. Rick Schmitt as he evaluates the latest stack of packets from U.S. Government or Economics. Students worked hard to pass this required course.

Mr. David Payne and Mrs. Monica Egbert appear confused while supervising Freshman Hall decorations for Homecoming. Mr. Payne taught Integrated Science 1 for the ninth grade Drama Family, and Mrs. Egbert was Sponsor for the Class of 1996.

The Mathematics Department relaxes on the lockers in the main hall. Mr. David Johns taught Consumer Math and PE as well as coached Softball. Mrs. Monica Egbert taught Algebra 1, Geometry and Math B. In the portable trailer, Mrs. Linda Kingston taught Algebra, Math B and Consumer Math. Mr. Jim Saunders taught Consumer Math and PE besides coaching Football and Baseball.

The Physical Education Department takes a breather in front of the trophy display in the main hall. Mr. David Johns, Mr. Jim Saunders and Mrs. Debbie Budd rotated their PE classes through various activities either in the gym, at the pool, on the tennis courts, on the blacktop, or on the track and field.

Mrs. Carol Diamond smiles proudly at her baby girl, Olivia. Mrs. Diamond returned on a part-time assignment with Special Education classes in Math Lab and Academic Strategies.

Mrs. Chris Dea, Retail Floral, and Mrs. Connie King, Marketing, grab a quick chance to compare curriculum and techniques in the main hall on a Staff Development Day. Both teach popular classes in the ROP Department.

Mr. Mark Wainwright keeps his eye on all those students in sixth period PE. In addition, Mr. Wainwright teaches English 4 and was Head Coach for Varsity Basketball.

Mrs. Pat Pedersen checks for understanding while Mr. Jim Saunders patiently awaits his turn to speak with a counselor. Mr. Saunders was an assistant Football coach and Varsity Baseball Head Coach.

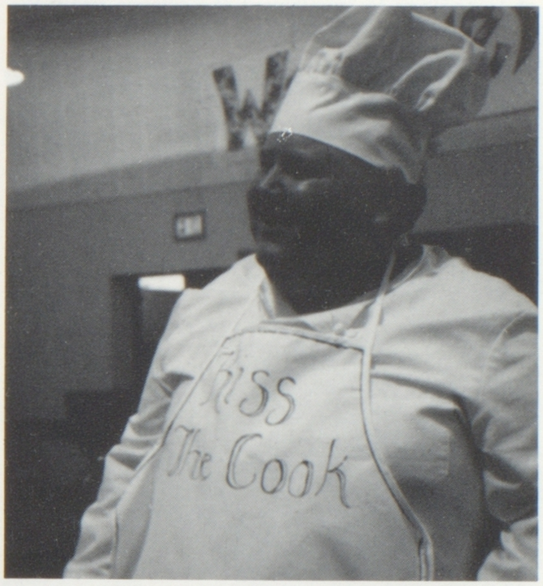
Mrs. Christine Dea and Mrs. Janis (Larsen) Freedman look over the selection of pamphlets about substance abuse. As teachers of Current Life Issues, both emphasized the importance of positive self-esteem.

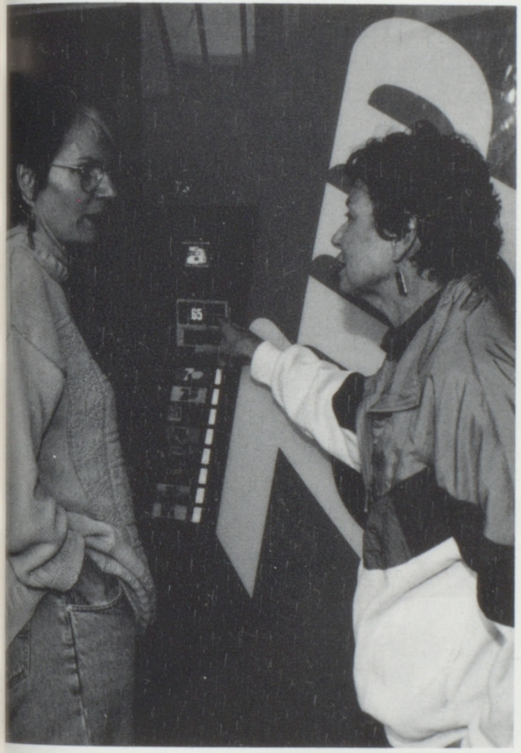
Encinal
BASEBALL

JROTC instructors Sergeant Major Avondus Jackson and Major Chris Burton stand at attention in front of the basement Armory. Besides classroom duties, they were also in charge of the Drill Team and Rifle Team. Master Sergeant Ed Madsen retired at semester.

The Special Education Department poses with Albert Einstein and a map of the United States to portray their vast range of expertise. Mr. Barry Savin taught Special Day Classes in Math and History. Mrs. Akiyo Hirose was a paraprofessional for these classes. Mrs. Marian Haid instructed Functional Living Skills which focused on Vocational skills. Department Head Mrs. Pat Pedersen conducted Math Lab and Academic Strategies classes for Resource students.

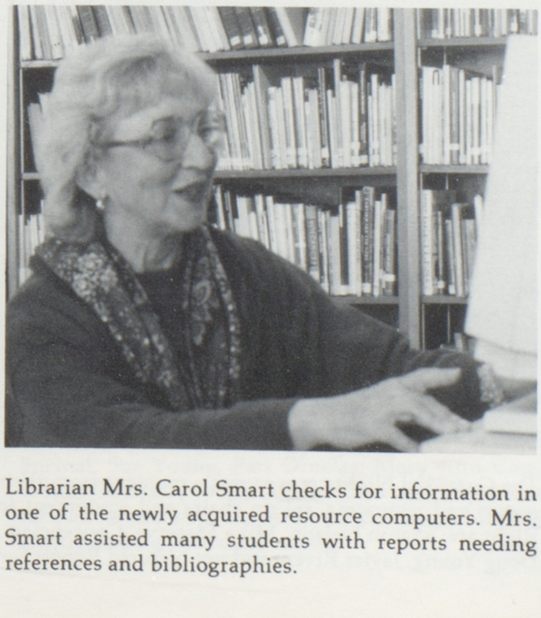
Mr. Terry Brandon beams with pride while wearing the cook's apron the senior class presented to him as thanks for his help with the Rigatoni Feed. Mr. Brandon taught all the ROP Food classes and helped with numerous food sales.





Members of the Vocational Education Department gather in the Wood Shop. Mr. Steven Capling taught Keyboarding and Computers; Mr. Gene Ford-Wood and Drafting; Department Head, Mrs. Connie King-Marketing; Mrs. Barbara Porter-Keyboarding, Accounting and Word Processing; Mr. Terry Brandon-Foods; and Mrs. Chris Dea-Floral Design.

Mrs. Ana Marley and Mrs. Adela Bishop pause for the cause during a Staff Development Work Day. Mrs. Marley taught Special Resource classes. Mrs. Bishop taught Special Day classes in both English and History.



Librarian Mrs. Carol Smart checks for information in one of the newly acquired resource computers. Mrs. Smart assisted many students with reports needing references and bibliographies.

Head Custodian Mr. Mel Jaramillo looks stunned at his list of repairs and jobs for the day. Mel was usually first to school to unlock the doors and start the coffee.

Mr. Bill Abromitis proudly displays new VCR finally being replaced by fire insurance. Abro used a variety of technology to supplement the science textbooks. Mr. Abromitis was also Head Track Coach.

ESL Department members pose in front of some world flags. Ms. Marta Skala instructed classes of Sheltered U.S. History and Sheltered Math as well as U.S. History P. Mrs. Susan Scott taught all three levels of English Language Development classes and Sheltered English 2. LEP Coordinator Ms. Jean Wood taught Sheltered English 3, Yearbook and English 1 in addition to testing all students new to Encinal for English language proficiency.

Ms. Beth Anderson looks exhausted as another student asks if this will be on the test. Ms. Anderson taught Physical Science at all levels: college prep, general and sheltered.

The Science Department proudly stands on the foundation beginnings of their new building. Mr. Jon Mederios, senior class sponsor, taught Marine Biology and ninth grade science for the History Family. Mr. Alan Nelson was the instructor for Chemistry and Physics. New teacher Mr. Roger Wilpitz taught science for the ninth grade Art Family and Sheltered U.S. Government/Economics. Department Head Bill Abromitis taught the new Agriscience class along with Physiology and Biology. Ms. Beth Anderson taught Physical Science and Biology. Mr. David Payne was the ninth grade science teacher for the Drama Family besides having a section of English 3.

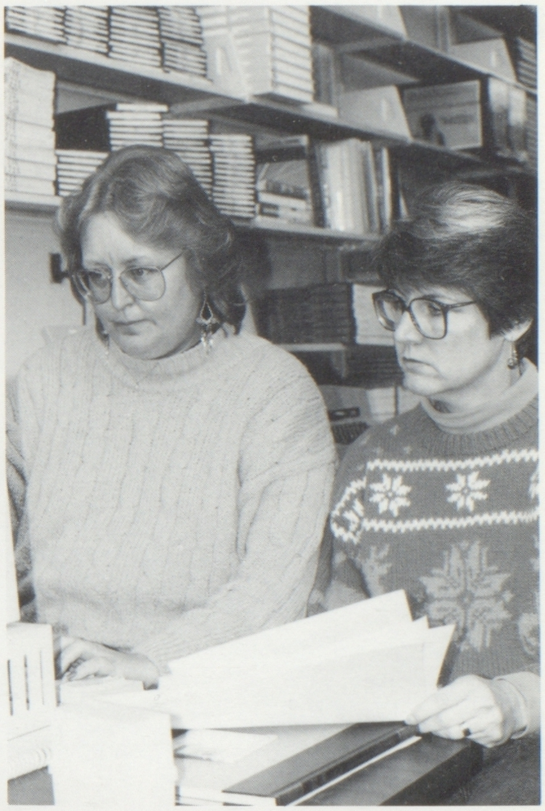
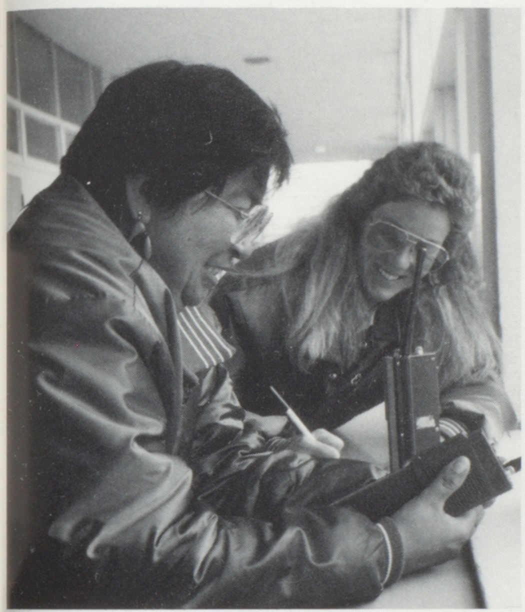
The Custodial Night crew pauses a moment from their hectic work schedule. Every evening they cleaned classrooms and restrooms, set up chairs and equipment for any event and closed up the athletic facilities. Left to Right are: Myron Nelson, Mike Meserve, Concepcion Asuncion, Ken Brown, Mel Jaramillo, Delbert Laviolette, Doug Young, Javier Rivera and not pictured Robert Senna.

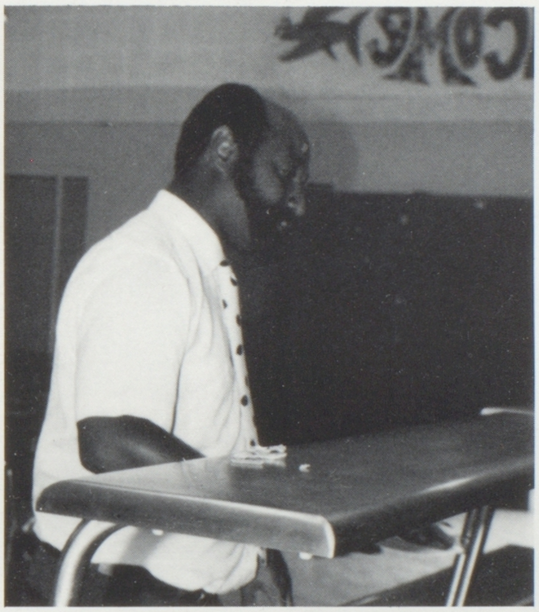
Mrs. Joann Blas shows her joy to learn that the Career Center will be in a brand new building next year. Mrs. Blas handled student work permits and guest speakers as well as serving as secretary for the ROP Department.

Counseling Secretary Mrs. Dorren Yip carefully explains office procedure to a student aide. Mrs. Yip managed the appointments, files and in-coming data for all three counselors.

Mrs. Martha Wolthuis, Bookroom, and Theresa Tenorio, Banking Office, check the computer files for the list of students who still had unpaid bills and fines. Beyond clerical duties, Martha and Theresa both were truly friends for many students.







Mrs. Margarita Cruz and Mrs. Ellen Dille, Campus Supervisors, are seldom separated from their walkie talkies as they patrolled our school. EHS's closed campus policy required that all visitors report in at the main office.

The Clerical Staff copes with another hectic day at Encinal. Sue Young, Patt Ornelas, Mary Ann Cates, Wendy Mariani, Sandy Zimmerman and Myra Santone all helped keep the office functioning while efficiently dealing with daily crisis.

Mr. Javier Rivera removes another full bag of trash. Javier's work day began at noon, just in time to pick up lunch time litter.

Mr. Alan Nelson checks out the selection in the cafeteria. Most lunch entrees were pre-cooked and sent in warmers to Encinal. Mr. Nelson stayed trim by brown-bagging it.

The 1993 Classic Horizon yearbook (Volume 38) is a 216 page book compiled by a staff of 18. The cover is a custom litho using process blue and yellow colors. The endsheets are light blue tempo 290. The pages are printed on 80 lbs. gloss stock paper including Palantino and Brush Script type style.

Josten's Publishing Company prints out the yearbook in Visalia, California. Gayle Leksan is our representative who helps us with designing layouts and making deadline. Jim Fashinell is our Josten's photograph representative for Senior portraits and all our major events and dances. Dashile Miguele is our Josten's school photographer, who was in charge of on campus candids, photo days, and important photo events. Andrew Taylor took photographs of sporting events with his telephoto lens.

We were the winners of a regional contest held by Josten's Publishing Company, and as a result 1300 copies of this yearbook were printed free of charge to be distributed among the students and staff. The cost of film, cameras, computers, and other necessities needed to produce the yearbook were paid for by ads sold to local businesses in the community.

Special Thanks To...
